

Beavers Show New Look with 33-0 Win Over Brigham Young

Corvallis, Ore. — (U.P.) — Oregon State, showing its "new look" single-wing offense for the first time under new head coach Tommy Prothro, romped to a 33-0 victory over Brigham Young Saturday at Parker stadium.

Some 8,000 fans saw the intersectional football game—first of the 1955 season for both teams. Oregon State scored in each period, with two touchdowns coming in the third quarter.

Brigham Young, whose dismal 1-8 record last year matched Oregon State's was almost totally ineffectual offensively against the Beavers. The one good scoring chance coach Chick Atkinson's charges had came at the end of the second period on a 60-yard drive to the Oregon State two-yard line. The threat ended when quarterback Carroll Johnson fumbled and Oregon State halfback Dick Corrick recovered.

Uses 36 Players
Prothro used all 36 players on the Oregon State bench, starting his substitute parade in the third quarter.

Sophomores accounted for, or figured in, four of Oregon State's touchdowns. Sam Wesley, a 160-pound halfback from Dallas, Tex., scored twice, once in the first period on a nine-yard reverse and again on the opening play of the second quarter on a 44 yard gallop.

Joe Francis, sophomore halfback from Honolulu, ran 25 yards for one touchdown and passed nine yards to fullback Arlo Wenstrand for another. Wenstrand, one of the few seniors on the Oregon State roster, scored the other touchdown on a 33-yard run.

Sophomore Ted Searle from Honolulu made two of the conversion points and Wesley boosted the other.

Bozeman, Mont. — (U.P.) — Montana State College took advantage of a blocked punt Saturday to defeat Lewis and Clark College of Portland 7-6 in the season football opener for both teams.

The winning conversion came on a fast kick by MSC Halfback Harvey Wiley in the waning minutes of the fourth quarter after End Bob Black had trotted over for the TD.

Montana State opened the second half with a sustained and determined drive that fell short on the Lewis and Clark 24-yard line. Lewis and Clark then took the ball and Fullback Earl Ingberston lead the way for a 76-yard touchdown march.

Douglas Raps Prospect by 33-6 Count

Prospect — Douglas high's more experienced football team bounced Prospect 33 to 6 at Winston Friday afternoon.

Greenness of the Prospect crew showed in the early stages of the contest. But the Cougar club grew tougher as the conflict progressed and came up with at least one good drive in each quarter.

Douglas held a 21 to 0 advantage after the first quarter. Dreant Strickland scored twice and Larry Bissonette once, on a pass from Bob Harty, in the first quarter. Bissonette kicked all three conversions. Strickland's runs were 12 and 28 yards. Walt Schroeder went 12 in the second period and Ken McCallister five in the third for other Douglas TD's.

A 35 yard pass play, Lyle Pope to Leon Bean paid off in the fourth quarter for Prospect.

It was the first grid game for seven Cougars.

Five lettermen, four seniors and one junior, head a list of 19 players out for football at Prospect high. The squad is extremely light with only five players weighing more than 150 pounds. Coach Wes Stauffer originally issued uniforms to 23 boys but four dropped out.

Lyle Pope, Jim Martin, Monte Ring and Keith Setzer are senior lettermen and Don Burwell is a junior vet. Setzer is currently on the injured list.

Seniors out for the first time are Darwin Bean, Leon Bean and Don Anderson. The other junior squad members are Roger Dawson, Larry Fishbeck and Don Vannice. The latter is a transfer from Halsey. Sophomores out are Walter Friday and Larry Knudsen. Six freshmen on hand are Teddy Freed, Melvin Yorton, Larry and Jim Hansen, Mickey Ring and George Lycett.

Coming Friday The First Major Contribution to your Driving Safety Ford Lifeguard Design

FOR MORE THAN TWO YEARS, Ford engineers, in cooperation with universities, medical associations and leading safety experts, have been working to determine the principal causes of serious injuries in automobile accidents. They have established that the majority of all the serious injuries to drivers and passengers occur in three major areas.

These are: when the driver is thrown against the steering column; when passengers are thrown forward against hard surfaces inside the car; or when they are thrown completely out of the car.

With this information in hand, the challenge was to find effective safeguards to reduce these hazards.

Dr. R. Arnold Griswold, Chairman of the Committee on Trauma, American College of Surgeons, has asked: "Why isn't it possible to design a steering wheel which would cushion the effect of a crash instead of leaving only a post which damages the driver's chest?"

Ford's answer to the problem is this new Life-guard steering wheel, mounted on a shorter steering post.

The deep-center construction acts as a cushion under impact . . . to decelerate the driver and give him extra protection against striking the steering column.

But how about those other crash danger factors like hard interior surfaces with practically no "give"?

Here's what Dr. Frank H. Mayfield of the Sub-committee on Traffic Injury Prevention, of the Committee on Trauma, American College of Surgeons, has to say:

"... If there were some practical way to cover the instrument panel with adequate energy-absorbing material, there is not the slightest doubt that head injuries would be lessened or, in many cases prevented."

Ford engineers not only found a practical way to pad the instrument panel, but, after hundreds of tests, selected a special expanded plastic material of a composition and structure that is unique in its ability to absorb shock. It is so effective that an egg dropped from a roof top onto a one-inch thick pad of this material did not break.

This new Ford Lifeguard padding is available, as an option, for the control panel and sun visors of all 1956 Fords.

Now, what about the dangers outside—when doors spring open under impact and occupants are thrown from the car? Tabulations of over 1000 accident reports at Cornell University Medical College show that 20.1% of accident injuries are caused this way. Further, statistics show that the chance of injury is twice as great if a person is thrown from the car.

Mr. John O. Moore, Director, Crash Injury Research at Cornell Medical College, makes clear what he thinks:

"We have found that passenger ejection from open doors is more than doubles chances of serious injury. For double protection against being thrown from a car, safety door locks, in addition to safety belts, are a most significant step forward in passenger protection."

Let's take the door latches first. It is possible for conventional, single-grip door latches, strong as they are, to disengage when the door and doorpost are temporarily spread apart by a severe jolt. The illustration of hands, above, demonstrates conventional "single" grip. Ford's new Lifeguard double-grip door latch, standard in all '56 Fords, works something like the hand clasp shown here. The "fingers" engage and overlap for a double grip. This gives added protection against doors springing open under impact—to help keep you safer within the car.

As for seat belts, most of the authorities agree that seat belts, properly made, properly installed and conscientiously worn, could substantially reduce our nation's annual highway death toll!

That's why Ford engineers set out to develop the most effective seat belts ever offered in a car. To keep you from being thrown from your seat in a sudden stop, Ford seat belts are one-third stronger than those required by CAA for commercial aircraft and they're anchored to a double-reinforced area of the floor structure. They're available for both front and back seats on all '56 Fords, at modest extra cost.

Lifeguard Design is not the only thing new in the '56 Ford.

You'll be delighted with the entire new Ford trend for '56. It's Thunderbird through and through. For not only does the new '56 Ford offer Thunderbird styling... but Thunderbird power, too!
