

Morning Drill For Backs As Tornado Eyes Indians

Morning workouts for the backs and some changes in the offensive line. Those are steps taken by Medford high football coaches this week, along with stress on speed and quickness, as they tune the Black Tornado for its Friday assault against the Roseburg Indians in the Douglas county city.

The measures are aimed at eliminating the sluggishness which appeared in the Gresham scrape last week and injecting more zip, zest and breeze in the Big Wind.

And there were signs of encouragement helped by a good tough workout last night, return of a couple of injured players and by the fine showing Gary Riley, junior transfer halfback and by a flock of sophomores.

Halfback John Bellack and Tackle Mel Morgan are now are now, Coach Fred Spiegelberg said last night as he indicated that the Black Tornado is "doing pretty good," in drills, Guard Gary Guss and Lineman Rod Hammer are still sidelined with broken hands, and Tackle Terry Miller has flu. Morgan had a groin injury and Bellack a broken nose.

If all went well today, the Tornado backfield will be minus only Halfback Mike Hawkins, who injured an ankle in the Cleveland mix two weeks ago.

Oregon State To Have Role Of Underdog

By HAL WOOD
Pebble Beach, Calif. — (U.P.) — It's one down and nine weeks to go in the football picking league, but already this department is being strongly considered in the battle for the national championship.

It's not the fact that we came up with the winners, but the fine manner in which the selections were made. For instance, our choice was UCLA over Texas A. & M. by 21 points. The final score: UCLA 21, Aggies zero.

Not bad for just a starter. And the best are yet to come. Take a look at these for this week-end.

Stanford over Oregon State: The Indians may have one of the best-balanced teams in the West. However, they have had trouble with the single wing on the offensive before. So only by 14.

UCLA over Maryland: This may be a long, long season for Coach Lynn Pappy Waldorf and his Golden Bears. But the Illini have very little in the way of a line, so it may be close. By 6.

Trojans Favored
Southern California over Oregon: Looks like the Trojans have the horses again for a mighty year. Webfoots lacking offensive. By 30.

Idaho over Utah: Coach Skip Stahley is doing a fine job with the down-trodden Vandals and nearly upset Washington last week. By 13.

Kansas over Washington State: The Jayhawkers on their home ground and the Cougars still trying to recover from the battering they received from USC last week. By 21.

Purdue over College of Pacific: Big Ten coaches believe the Boiler-makers have one of the finest teams in that rugged conference. Tigers show little in the way of an offensive. By 28.

Southern Oregon Picked
San Jose State over Hawaii: The Rainbows usually are considered a pushover, but their upset win over Nebraska makes this a toughie. By 7.

Also: Colorado over Arizona, Arizona Tempe State over Midwestern, Redlands over Lavern, Occidental over Long Beach State, Santa Barbara over Whittier, Redlands over Cal Tech, San Diego over Pepperdine, Fresno State over San Francisco State, Cal Poly over Humboldt State, Brigham Young over BYU.

And: Southern Oregon over Sacramento State, Wyoming over Montana, Willamette over Whitworth, Pacific over Oregon College, Central Willamette over Whitman, Portland State over Linfield, College of Idaho over Lewis & Clark, Puget Sound over Pacific Lutheran, Western Washington over Eastern Washington, and McGill over British Columbia.

Chiefs Up For Fray Here Friday With St. Mary's

"Rogue River high is going to be up for this one." The statement of Coach Tinker Hatfield of the Chiefs sounded warning for the St. Mary's Crusaders as they awaited their clash with the Rogue River eleven.

The game is at 8 p.m. Friday night on the Medford high turf and may be the decider, even this early, in the Jackson County B League football race.

Hatfield stressed that Rogue River is pointing for victory because of last year's 13 to 6 loss to the Crusaders. He said that his club is looking better this week and that improvements were noticeable in Wednesday drill.

"Mighty Good" St. Mary's spirit and determination is reportedly up, however, and Coach Millard Webb said, "I think they're ready."

He pointed out that the Rogue club has appeared in midseason form while the St. Mary's had been handicapped by lack of practice despite some good talent on hand. Webb was not entirely pleased with the Crusaders showing over Illinois Valley last Saturday. But he said his club is looking "mighty good" this week and "100 per cent better" than last week.

The Crusaders have been stressing more conditioning and smoothing some of last Saturday's weak points.

Possible starters for the Medford eleven are Jim Darland and Dick Paup, ends; Dave Crevier and Ramon Elberts, tackles; Francis Murphy and Alson Gerenc, guards; Gerald Darland, center, and Ron Pruitt, Laval Meunier, Bill Carey and Jim Jones.

Tackles Hurt
Tackles are unsettled at Rogue River where Steve Scott and Bill Dickson have injuries. Other possibilities at the spot are Don Hoffman and Charles Weaver. Craig Stewart and Gary Phillips may be guards and Richard Twiest center. Back choices are Gary Stinchcomb, Bill Headrick, Fred Bond and Lloyd or Lawrence Wagner. Back Bilbee Lane is still laid up by a back injury.

Hopes are higher now at Prospect which has had only three scrimmages since practice began. But Tackle Don Anderson and Guard Jim Martin are hobbled by injuries. Possible line-up for the Cougars' 2:30 p.m. mix at Talent is Jim Daniels and Leon Bean, ends; Ray Shafer and Doyle Henderson, tackles; Keith Setzer and Monte Ring, guards; Walter Friday, center, and Lyle Pope, Don Vannice, Don Burwell and Darwin Bean, backs.

Those with hurts included end Dick Smith, who was hit in the larynx, end Charley Rettman, Ashland, who has recurring headaches from a hard blow on the head, Korn, with a broken vein in his ear, and Romine, with a slight case of water on the knee.

All except Prevelle are expected to start.

Filling in at the fullback slot for Prevelle will be Ralph Clarino, a booming runner from Myrtle Point, who has been in hot competition for the starting slot since the beginning of the season.

The remainder of the starting lineup will include Sodaro and Dick Smith, Reedsport, at tackles, Don Dickson, Grants Pass, guard; Quinowski at center; Seymour, Korn, and Tenney in the backfield.

Reserve Seats, Boxes Sold Out At Yank Stadium
New York—(U.P.)—Don't waste that three-cent stamp if you haven't already ordered World Series tickets from the New York Yankees.

The Yankees announced Wednesday that all box and reserved seats for the anticipated four games at Yankee Stadium are sold out. Standing room tickets at $4.20 and approximately 14,000 bleacher tickets will go on sale on the day of each game.

"We are oversold and are accepting no more orders," a Yankee official said. "We thank our fans and regret there are no tickets left for sale."

30 Stater Club Being Organized

About 30 persons attended a luncheon session today at the Jackson hotel, the second such meeting held to organize a Medford Thirty Stater club.

Purpose of the group is to keep members, mainly Oregon State college alumni, informed and interested in the up-to-date developments of the OSC athletic program.

M. M. Huggins is state president of the group and it is through him that the local club is being organized. Robert Kyle and Murray Dumas are co-chairmen.

Throughout the year coaches from OSC will speak to the Medford club and moving pictures of different athletic events will be shown from time to time. Anyone interested in joining the organization may contact the co-chairmen or Huggins.

Big Deal Might Help Corporation Hang On To Seals

San Francisco — (U.P.) — Damon Miller, president of the San Francisco Seals, hoped today that the club's $75,000 deal with the Kansas City Athletics will help his "Little Corporation" keep the Seal franchise.

"The money from yesterday's sale to Kansas City is not enough alone to save the Little Corporation, but it gives us a good start," Miller said.

"If Tony Longo comes through with the amount he promised, we will be able to show the league that we can operate."

He was referring to the possibility that Longo, a retired furniture man now living in Los Angeles, would buy into the Seals.

Miller goes before officials of the Pacific Coast League Saturday in San Diego. He will ask the directors to give the Seals more time to get on a sound financial footing.

At the present time, the Seals owe about $200,000, including $30,000 to the league and $50,000 to a bank.

The deal with the A's involved the sale of shortstop Mike Baxes, outfielder Dave Melton and Pitcher Bill Bradford. If they are not retained, they will be returned to the Seals.

In addition to a cash consideration announced but believed to be about $75,000, the Seals will receive one acceptable player outright and three men on option for the 1956 season.

Gold Hill Street Paving Scheduled

Gold Hill—Hughes and Dodd Construction company of Medford expected to start paving one block of Fourth st. in Gold Hill today. The company's bid of $3,515 was the lowest of three bids opened by the council earlier this week.

Other bidders were John Jore of Gold Hill, $3,650, and Johnson and Amens of McMinnville, $4,516.20.

Paving will be of concrete. The council also established no parking in front of the Gold Hill post office during hours when the mail truck and van are loading and unloading. No parking will be in effect between 7:30 and 8:30 a.m. and 6 to 7:30 p.m. daily.

Councilmen also discussed payments to Gold Hill residents who assisted in fighting a forest fire on Nuggett Butte Labor Day week end. About 20 residents helped fight the fire.

Joe Dimaggio and Jimmie Foxx each were chosen most valuable player of the American League three times, Dimaggio while with the Yankees and Foxx with Philadelphia and Boston.
