

Hilda Death Toll Increases to 204

Tampico, Mex. — (U.P.) — The death toll from Hurricane Hilda reached 204 today as flood water began to recede, but at least 370 other persons were still missing and presumed dead.

Herbert M. Williams, an American cattle rancher who lives in Tampico, said it is possible the dead will reach into the thousands. Williams flew his private plane over the vast devastated area and reported that tiny villages that once dotted the terrain are no longer there, completely washed away with no sign of life.

First estimate of material damages in the Tampico area totaled $120,000,000. The government owned oil industry said its installations suffered damages estimated at $20,000,000.

President Adolfo Ruiz Cortines remained in Tampico to take personal command of the "Operation Air Bridge."

He decreed martial law over the entire region affected by the hurricane.

Around Hollywood

By ALINE MOSBY
United Press Correspondent

Hollywood—(U.P.)—Judy Garland will make her television debut tomorrow night and, as usual with the dynamic performer, there will be as much drama behind the cameras as in front.

The singer, regarded as one of the greatest entertainers, brings to the CBS-TV Ford Jubilee her revue that brought raves at the Palace Theater in New York and at the London Palladium.

And, as when she made her much publicized movie, "A Star Is Born," Judy's show has become an unusual production at CBS' big studios. She and husband Sid Luft are receiving $125,000 for the one-night stand—more, according to CBS, than any single performer has collected for entertaining on the home screens.

Night Rehearsals
Judy has been rehearsing at night, a precedent at CBS. She still has trouble keeping daytime working hours. Because she is new to TV, a special monitor (at $2,000 an hour) was brought in during her camera tests so she could see herself on color TV.

Judy is rated a special entertainer, too, so CBS broke another rule and will let a live audience view the show. That will cost $10,000 for special equipment because of fire laws. "Judy didn't want a canned laughter and applause. She wanted people," explained associate producer Berni Gould.

But, he added, the star "has been extremely cooperative. 'We heard rumors about how difficult she was, but it's not true,' he said. 'We kept a flexible schedule expecting trouble, but she's been wonderful.'

"Of course, this girl knows more about show business than anybody. If she asked why you're making a camera move you better know why. But we've won half the arguments, and she's won half, and you can't ask for a better deal."

Says She's Scared
Judy confessed she's "scared" about her TV debut.

"I won't know which camera to look at," she laughed as she watched a camera rehearsal. "I'll get such stage fright. Oh, yes, I always feel woozy before I go on."

"I know I'm heavy," she added, looking at her figure in her gray slacks and yellow blouse. "I don't care any more. I feel better this way."

Judy gave up her touring stage show to go on TV—but says, "I'd like to be shot before Saturday."

"TV is insane confusion, but it's a great medium. I'd love to do more. But that depends on how TV feels about me," she said with one eye on the bustling rehearsal.

District 6C Hires New Teacher, Uses Churches To Handle Enrollment Boost

Central Point — One new teacher was hired and two church buildings are being utilized to handle an increase greater than anticipated in District 6 schools, H. P. Jewett, superintendent, has announced.

The total number of students — 1,954 — enrolled in four District 6 schools is 228 more than the total last year. Of the 1,954, 554 of them are at Crater High school in Central Point, 1,033 in Central Point elementary school, 277 at Gold Hill and 100 at Sams Valley.

Teacher Hired
Mrs. A. L. Fellers of Ashland was hired by the district this week to handle additional increases. Previously, an additional teacher was employed at Gold Hill to handle anticipated increases there.

Two third grade rooms were moved to two rooms in a church a block and a half from the Central Point elementary school. Jewett said, and part of the Gold Hill elementary school music department moved to a church basement across the street from the school.

Architects Have Plans
Jewett said plans are still in the hands of architects for revision for construction of elementary school buildings at Gold Hill and Central Point. Bids for construction of the two structures were rejected by school district board of directors because bids ranged from $25,000 to $35,000 higher than available money.

Plans and specifications for construction with concrete blocks are being drawn up by Medford Architect Robert J. Keeney to reduce costs. Previously brick was to be used in wall construction.

The Central Point elementary building will be 12 rooms, and the Gold Hill building will be a four-room structure.

WORSE THAN PATIENTS
Los Angeles—(U.P.)—Mrs. Antoinette B. Grant, 29, divorced Dr. Henry J. Grant, 43, Thursday on testimony he physically abused her and "compared me with his worst patients." Grant is a psychiatrist.

Cambridge, Mass. — (U.P.) — Steve Torre, 75-year-old garage man, says his 1901 Oldsmobile will still hit 25 miles per hour on a straight road. "It seems as though you're going much faster," he said, "because the car has no windshield."
