Physicians Study
Improving Practice
Portland—(U.P.)—Major steps toward improving the private practice of medicine in Oregon headed the business agenda here today as physicians gathered for the 81st annual session of the Oregon State Medical Society.

Some 1500 physicians are expected at the four-day meet.

State President Dr. A. O. Pittman of Hillsboro opened the session yesterday with an address pointing up to society's keen interest in creating a healthy prosperous atmosphere for individuals who devote their lives to medical education.

"We are constantly working toward improving the relationship between the state medical society or the practicing doctor and the University of Oregon medical school," he said.
