Faure, Pinay Postponed Scheduled Moscow Trip

Position Taken by Russia on Algeria In UN Said Cause

Planned Visit Not Cancelled

Paris — (U.P.) — France told Soviet Russia formally today that Premier Edgar Faure and Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay have postponed their visit to Moscow because of the position taken by Russia on the Algerian vote in the United Nations.

Soviet Attache Alexander Anikine was called to the foreign office at midday and was received by Pinay.

Pinay bluntly informed the Soviet attache that the atmosphere in France was not favorable for a trip to Moscow at this time in view of "recent events" in the United Nations.

The Soviet bloc voted to place the Algerian question on the U.N. General Assembly agenda last Saturday. This was an explosive decision which led to France's walkout from the assembly and the recall of its permanent delegation from U.N. headquarters in New York.

Political Troubles Brought The postponement of the proposed trip, which was scheduled for later this month, came as internal political troubles and new violence in North Africa threw the already complicated French political situation into further confusion.

Faure and Pinay hoped to sandwich the good will visit to Moscow between the reopening of the French National Assembly tomorrow and the Big Four foreign ministers conference in Geneva starting Oct. 27.

Brazilians Voting For New President

Rio De Janeiro — (U.P.) — Some 950,000,000 voters choose today between a millionaire industrialist and the Communist-backed political heir of the late President Getulio Vargas in a hotly contested presidential election in Brazil.

Fair weather was predicted for most of the country with some rain along the coast for this first presidential ballot since Vargas committed suicide last year.

Of the four candidates in the race, only two were conceded a chance of winning.

Juscelino Kubitschek, 54, Social Democratic party candidate, was given a slight edge in pre-election speculation. He has the support of Vargas' Brazilian Labor party as well as the outlawed Communist party.

Two Men Transported To State Penitentiary Jackson County Sheriff Howard Gault today transferred two men from county jail to Oregon state penitentiary.

Stanley Edward Mayfield, 24, of route 1, box 180, Talent, was sentenced to three years, and Claude Wilson Ferguson, 43, who listed his address as Crater Hotel, Medford, was sentenced to three and one half years. Both were sentenced on charges of uttering and publishing false checks.

Mt. Shasta Hunter Bags Deer With Ease Mt. Shasta, Calif. — (U.P.) — Mike Memoe has decided it's better to stay home to hunt.

He hunted on the slopes of Mt. Shasta during the first two days of the California hunting season without success. Returning home, he sat down in his living room to rest and a few moments later a big buck wandered onto the back lawn which faces the mountain on the outskirts of town.

A quick shot got the family's deer meat.

MOVIE STAR KILLED—James Dean, 24, above, one of Hollywood's fastest rising movie stars, was killed Friday when his German sports car crashed into a sedan near Paso Robles, Calif.

It was learned Dean had been cited for speeding shortly before the fatal accident and must have been averaging 75 miles per hour before the collision, police said. He was en route to a road race in Northern California.

Claims by Japanese Uprooted by War Yet Unsettled

San Francisco — (U.P.) — Uncle Sam has not yet settled claims of over $55,000,000 brought by Japanese-Americans and Japanese aliens who were uprooted from their homes on the Pacific coast during World War II.

The last chapter remains to be written in one of the most controversial stories in American history.

The enforced relocation of the 100,000 persons of Japanese birth or ancestry took place 13 years ago. The government has admitted they have money coming to them for their personal, business and property losses. An act enabling them to file claims was passed in 1948.

Yet more than 2000 claims remain unsettled. A Congressional subcommittee came here recently to see what could be done about speeding up the payments.

Considered Security Risks The Japanese—both U.S. citizens and non-citizens—were considered "security risks," after the Pearl Harbor attack, when the Japanese fleet imperiled the Pacific coast. The War department said they might commit acts of sabotage or espionage.

It has since been argued that there were motives other than national defense in the mass relocation order. Morton Grodzins, in his well-documented book "Americans Betrayed," charges that some California farmers played an important role in getting the relocation carried out.

The farmers wanted to rid themselves of the competition of their hard-working Japanese neighbors, the book charges.

Four Deer Hunters Hurt as Thousands Move Into Woods

Ashland, Grants Pass Men on Injured List

By UNITED PRESS Oregon deer hunters went into the third day of the 1955 season without a report of a fatal accident but at least seven persons were wounded in a rash of mishaps mostly caused by faulty handling of firearms.

Latest injury reported was from Alsea, Ore., where Edwin Mescher, 12, was shot through the hand with his own rifle.

Mrs. L. R. Carpenter, about 40, of Bend, lost the end of her left thumb when she reached into her car to remove her hunting rifle and it discharged.

Charles Drinkwater, prominent Lakeview businessman, was shot through the thigh by an unidentified hunter although shouting and waving a red hat.

By UNITED PRESS Four Oregon deer hunters suffered gunshot wounds during the first two days of the 1955 hunting season as thousands of men moved into the woods, most of them in eastern sections of the state.

A fifth man was hospitalized at Bend with injuries suffered when he either fell or struck his head on a snag while hunting in the Chemult area.

None Mistaken for Deer The other injuries were all results of gun-handling accidents and police said apparently none was mistaken for deer.

Newport, J. L. Zittercob, 30, As The wounded men were listed by police as Bert Davis, 46, Salem; Allanman M. Kinion, 45, Newport; J. L. Zittercob, 30, Ashland, and Edwin Ready, 19, Klamath Falls.

In the Bend hospital was Jeff E. Snyder, 34, of Grants Pass. Davis was shot in the left leg Sunday while hunting near McMinnville. His companion was putting a rifle into the bed of a pickup truck when it accidentally discharged as the bullet struck Davis who was sitting in the cab of the truck.

Kinion was shot through the back in an accident with similar details while hunting near Mitchell. He was driven by companions to a hospital in Prineville.

Bullet Pierces Heel A bullet pierced Zittercob's heel when he put down his gun after target practice 25 miles east of Klamath Falls.

Ready also was hunting in the Klamath Falls area when he put his practice pistol into his holster and it was discharged accidentally, sending a bullet into the calf of his right leg.

Two Portland hunters were arrested by Klamath county sheriff's officers after several shots were fired near another party of hunters. Roy L. Robertson, 49, was charged with assault with a dangerous weapon and Harold McLeary, 43, was accused of drunkenness.

Deputy Sheriff Jess Bryant said Robertson had threatened to kill a group of hunters along Highway 66 near Bly, Ore.

No Expansion Seen For Domiciliary Here The Veterans Administration has received no authority for expansion of the domiciliary program at Camp White, according to H. V. Higley, VA administrator, who so informed Sen. Richard L. Neuberger last week.

Senator Neuberger had inquired regarding establishment of an intermediate care program for VA installations, and Higley replied that such a program is considered practicable only in conjunction with an acute general and surgical hospital. He said that development of the intermediate program has been under way for more than a year, and is now in effect in two hospitals.

After going south for a way, the flock broke into three groups, Bendure said, with the largest continuing south. The others circled, and as they did so, one or two birds at a time would "peel off" from the group and fly south over the larger flock until all had disappeared.

Bendure, who has been watching the actions of birds for some time, said he has noted many other varieties on their way south within recent days, but that this is the first time he has seen turkey buzzards act as they did at migration time.

Another sign of fall was reported this morning by Orville Bendure, 216 Chestnut st., who said he saw a large group of turkey buzzards on their way south Sunday morning.

He saw a flock of about 15 birds at about 11:45 a.m. Sunday, which joined another flock of some 35 which already were circling high in the air. The combined flock circled for five or ten minutes, then all started south, "just as though on a signal."

Auto Accidents Take Five Lives During Week-End

Washington Bride Dies Near Chiloquin

By UNITED PRESS Four Oregonians and a Washington bride died in traffic mishaps over the week-end and another man died from injuries suffered a week ago.

A grim head-on collision on Highway 97 north of Chiloquin claimed two lives yesterday. Dead were Mrs. Barbara Myers, 25, Ephrata, Wash., and Clarence J. Stalnaker, Bonanza, Ore. Mrs. Myers' 30-year-old husband, David, was injured in the crash.

Lighting Cigarette County Coroner George E. Adler said a package of cigarettes and a burned match were found in Stalnaker's hand, indicating he was trying to light a cigarette when the accident occurred.

Identification of the Washington couple was made from a marriage license signed at 3 p.m. Saturday in Moses Lake, Wash.

A 78-year-old Portland woman, Mrs. Agnes Clasper, also died Sunday when a car driven by her husband, the Rev. John B. Clasper of the Apostolic church, hit a power pole. He received chest injuries.

The Dalles Youth Dies Fifteen-year-old Mickey Wilson, The Dalles, died when his older brother, 19-year-old Gerald, apparently fell asleep at the wheel of his car south of Springfield, Ore., Saturday. The car plunged off the road.

Don McGregor, 50, Portland public relations man, died Friday night when his car went out of control and overturned 20 miles southwest of Goldendale, Wash.

Another Oregonian, 34-year-old Robert L. Taylor of Lebanon, died in a Salem hospital Friday of injuries suffered Sept. 23 when his car turned over in a ditch a mile east of Gates on the north Santiam highway.

Yanks Win, 5-1, To Even Series

Skowron Homer In First Frame Produces Margin

Ford Hurls 4-Hitter; Duke Snider Injured

New York — (U.P.) — Southpaw Tommy Byrne will start the seventh game of the World Series for the Yankees tomorrow and another southpaw, Johnny Podres, will go for the Dodgers.

New York — (U.P.) — The New York Yankees lived up to their legend today when the pitching of Whitey Ford and a three-run homer by Bill Skowron crushed the Brooklyn Dodgers 5 to 1 and squared the World Series at three games each.

Five-time conquerors of the same frustrated Dodgers, the Yankees stood only one game from defeat as they went grimly out into the bright, brisk sunshine before 64,022 fans at Yankee Stadium. They had lost three in a row at Ebbets Field and Dodgers hopes were high that they would beat the left-handed Ford.

Little Whitey Ford was tremendous today as he mowed down Brooklyn with a sparkling four-hitter and stranded six impatient Dodgers on the base paths.

Duke Snider, hitting hero of the series with four home runs, stepped into a hole in the outfield in the third inning while running for Skowron's fly ball and "something popped in my left knee." The Dodger outfielder refused to guess whether he would be available tomorrow.

Supreme Court Opens 165th Year In Somber Dignity

Washington — (U.P.) — The Supreme Court opened its 165th year in somber dignity today facing an array of cases challenging the nation's anti-subversive laws.

Chief Justice Earl Warren and the eight associates stepped from behind a dark red curtain at noon (EST) and took their places at a gleaming mahogany bench.

A hushed, overflow crowd of top government officials, dignitaries, and tourists jammed the lofty, marble courtroom when the black-robed justices filed to their places on the bench to the traditional chant of the court clerk, George E. Hutchinson.

Opening day of the nine-month term is devoted to the formality of admitting some 100 lawyers to practice before the high tribunal. After the brief ceremony, the justices returned to their offices to work on a backlog of more than 700 cases piled up during the summer recess.

Segregation Not Faced For the first time in three years, the justices do not face the weighty problem of segregation in public schools.

But the forthcoming term poses issues almost as crucial. The foremost is the ever-recurring problem of how far the government can move against Communists in this country and still stay within constitutional bounds.

The most serious threat so far to the nation's anti-subversive laws is the Communist party's all-out attack on the 1950 Internal Security act. The court's decision later this term probably will decide the future of the party in this country and help to shape the government's attempts to regulate the party's operations.

Talks Must Expand If Prisoners Freed, Red China Hints

Blackmail Appears In Official Paper

Tokyo — (U.P.) — Communist China hinted strongly today that the United States must agree to Communist demands to expand negotiations at Geneva if it expects to get back all of the American civilians still held by the Peiping government.

The hint of blackmail appeared in the official Communist newspaper Peiping People Daily and was broadcast by the Peiping radio monitored here.

The newspaper's "Observer" criticized American "stalling tactics" at the Geneva talks and attacked U.S. refusal to discuss the United Nations trade embargo of Red China or a possible meeting of Chou En-lai and John Foster Dulles.

15 Prisoners Released Peiping promised to release 41 American civilians but so far only 15 have crossed the border and there has been no word of the remaining 26.

"China has adhered consistently to a policy of leniency toward these Americans," said the newspaper, which always reflects the official Red Chinese thinking.

"If the United States persists in stalling in the constructive advance of the talks on the pretext that the agreement has not yet been carried out, this will not only turn the talks into a dreary negative performance, but also be of no help to carrying out the agreement."

The newspaper said the cases of remaining U.S. "criminals" held in Red China must be examined, one by one, according to Chinese law.

Officials Say Peron 'Mental Problem' Buenos Aires — (U.P.) — Argentine authorities added the expression "mentally unbalanced" today to those of larceny and just in describing Juan D. Peron, the deposed president who flew Sunday to exile in Paraguay.

Peron climbed into a Paraguayan amphibian plane, took one last look at the country he dominated for 12 years and departed. He had spent the last 13 days in Argentina in virtual imprisonment aboard an ancient gunboat.

Peron's plane, escorted by two fighters of the Argentine Air Force, landed at the Paraguayan capital city of Asuncion at 5:40 p.m. on the third air journey of his life—he has had a terror of flying since 1946 when a plane in which he was travelling to Cordoba lost a propeller.

Greyhound Strike Threat Averted San Francisco — (U.P.) — A contract agreement covering Pacific Greyhound office workers in San Francisco, Oakland, Los Angeles and Phoenix was reached late Saturday to avert a possible walkout over the week-end that might have affected seven Western states.

Approximately 300 office employees, members of the Amalgamated Motor Coach Employees Union, accepted the company offer of a two-year wage increase and fringe benefits. The contract provides an average monthly increase of $12 the first year and $8 the second year.

County Judge Reports On Land Group Meeting Members of the association of 11 Western states public lands committees have endorsed payments in lieu of taxes on public lands except O and C property, Jackson County Judge Rodney Keating said today.

Keating returned late yesterday from Lewiston, Idaho, where he attended a meeting of the association, which discussed administration of public lands.

Present O and C payments to counties are determined on a basis of 75 per cent of income from the land.

Ike 'Refreshed' After Suffering From Fatigue

Patient Rested, Doctors Declare

Denver — (U.P.) — President Eisenhower was reported by his physicians to feel "rested and refreshed" today in contrast to their bulletin last night that he was suffering from fatigue.

The attending doctors at Fitzsimons Army Hospital where Mr. Eisenhower is a patient were alert to changes in his condition, but their mid-morning report allayed anxiety in the White House staff that the President may have taken a bad turn during the night.

The White House shortly after 10 a.m. (MST) disclosed that Mr. Eisenhower was subjected to a thorough medical examination at 4:25 a.m. today.

He was examined again after he awoke at 7:10 a.m. in the realization that any word on Mr. Eisenhower's condition could have a mercurial effect around the world. The doctors took their time in releasing the news of the President's mid-morning condition.

Slept Soundly In behalf of Maj. Gen. Howard McC. Snyder the White House physician, and Col. Byron E. Pollock, the heart specialist at Fitzsimons, the White House reported:

"The President slept soundly from 8:45 p.m. last night to 7:10 this morning with the exception of a half hour from 4:25 to 4:55 a.m."

"At that time a medical examination showed his temperature, pulse and blood pressure to be normal."

"When he awoke this morning the President felt rested and refreshed. His morning examination showed no changes to indicate complications and his condition remains satisfactory."

"His temperature, pulse and blood pressure remain normal. His cardiogram continues to show slow, progressive evolution."

Visited by Wife Mr. Eisenhower, who started his sleep last night under the sedative effects of three-quarters of a grain of secobarbital, ate a breakfast of cantaloupe and egg, two strips of beef bacon, a slice of whole wheat toast and a glass of skimmed milk.

Mrs. Eisenhower was permitted by the doctors to visit with the President for about 15 minutes as he ate breakfast.

Sherman Adams, the assistant to the President, was asked by Mr. Eisenhower's physicians to come to the hospital at about 3 p.m. Following a talk with the doctors, Adams, according to Press Secretary James C. Hagerty, "undoubtedly will see Mr. Eisenhower in person."

Asked whether the President would be able to consider official papers today, Hagerty said he would have to await further word from the doctors.
