New York—(U.P.)—The channel swim.

Phil Harris injured a leg on the West Coast earlier this week and had to bow out of the NBC-TV spectacular, "Show Biz," scheduled for this Sunday. Margaret Truman has been offered a featured role in a new United Artists film, "The Ambassador's Daughter," which will be shot in Paris.

Lawyers for the sponsor of "The $64,000 Question," now are preparing papers which will be served against Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis for their recent spoof of the give-away show. The sponsors are seeking to impound the kinescope film to prevent its further distribution. Martha

Hit A Happy Medium In Choosing A Mate

When two people are too much alike, they do not usually get along well because one is unable to supply the other with interests. Too great a dissimilarity, on the other hand, is likely to lead to clashes and feelings of inadequacy on the part of one or both. How to hit the happy medium is the problem faced by the young man who writes:

(Q) "I am and always have been a rather bashful fellow. I am 26 years old, working in a strange city far away from home, and I get very lonely. I have a good job and am in a position to get married. But, my problem is to find the right kind of girl. I have been going out with a young woman, several years younger than I, who is as bashful as I am. When we are together, there are long periods of silence when neither of us can think of anything to say. I am sure that if I tried to make love to her, she would freeze up as she never feels relaxed and at ease when we are alone together. "I have also been going out occasionally with a young woman from my office who is just the opposite. She has all the nerve in the world and is perfectly self-confident. However, when I am with her, she makes me feel like a helpless child and I rather resent her self-confidence. I suppose this is just because I envy her. Would either make a good wife for me?" R.B.

(A) No, you are not likely to find happiness with either one of the two young women. The bashful one is too much like you to be really congenial. She is afraid of herself just as you are afraid of yourself. When you are together, you are likely to find that the bashfulness of one will exaggerate the bashfulness of the other.

On the other hand, you certainly could never be happy with a woman who constantly made you feel inadequate and inferior. Realizing that you are bashful and timid, she would lead you around by the nose and make you feel like a helpless child, as she has already done. If you resent this now, think how much more you would resent it if you were faced with it day after day, year after year.

What you should do is try to find someone who strikes the happy medium between these two young women. Find someone who has more self-confidence than you, but who uses it to build up your self-confidence, not tear it down. By doing this, she would gradually build up a sense of confidence in you that would make you more like her, without antagonizing you in the process.

MEDFORD (OREGON) MAIL TRIBUNE—THREE

Unclassified Employees Due Same Vacations

Salem—(U.P.)—State employees and officers in unclassified service are entitled to the same vacation privileges as personnel in classified civil service, according to Attorney General Robert Y. Thornton.

Resignation of George Spaur as state forester to take a post in Pakistan furnished the first occasion for ruling on an act passed by the 1955 Legislature, Thornton said.

Question Raised
Spaur presented a voucher for compensation due him for 200 hours "annual leave with pay," representing vacation not taken. The question was raised by accountants in the secretary of state's office as to legality of making cash payment to Spaur in lieu of vacation, on the basis that the salary of the state forester is fixed by law.
Vacations Authorized

But Thornton ruled that the 1955 act authorizes vacations for unclassified officers and employees without regard to the manner in which their regular

Liquor Privilege Revenues Distributed

Salem—(U.P.)—Liquor privilege tax revenues totaling $275,000 for the quarter ended Sept. 30 have been distributed to Oregon counties, according to Secretary of State Earl T. Newbry.

The funds are distributed 75 per cent to the counties and 25 per cent to the state general fund, with the provision that the counties spend the money for old-age pensions, mothers' aid and direct relief of the indigent.

compensation is authorized. Reference in the 1955 act to "salaries fixed by law," Thornton said, is limited to the requirement for establishing a pay plan, comparable to the general state pay structure, for unclassified employees and officers whose compensation is not fixed by law.

Drive with care... EVERYWHERE!

Great Features back up Chevrolet Performance: Anti-Dive Braking—Ball-Race Steering—Outtrigger Rear Springs—Body by Fisher—12-Volt Electrical System—Nine Engine-Drive Choices in all models—and, finally, the great scientific, technical and engineering resources of General Motors.

Every checkered flag signals a Chevrolet victory in official 1955 stock car competition—not only against its own field but against many American and foreign high-priced cars, too!

On the stock car tracks, this go-getting Chevrolet is making the high-priced jobs turn green with envy... and making the other low-priced cars wish they'd stayed home in the garage!

Let's translate this into your kind of driving.

You've got to have faster acceleration to win on the tracks. And that means safer passing on the highways.

You've got to have better springing and suspension to nail you to the turns. Again, safer and happier motoring for you.

You've got to have big brakes that act but fast and smooth... and easy, accurate steering. More things that make your driving more secure and more enjoyable.

But it's more fun to try these things out than just to talk about them. So come in and let's take a ride.

The safer car wins... and Chevrolet's the winning car
