Haggard Schedules Demonstration of Stretcher for NSC

C. C. Haggard, inventor of the Haggard's All-Purpose stretchers, will fly to Chicago Oct. 15 to attend the 43rd National Safety Congress and Exposition at the Conrad-Hilton hotel.

Haggard, director of safety for the California Oregon Power company, will demonstrate the stretcher at a display belonging to the Medford Manufacturing company of Central Point.

The Haggard's all-purpose stretcher can double as a resuscitator. A stand which fits under it allows the stretcher to be rocked up and down, providing one of the most effective means of artificial respiration.

The stretcher folds compactly, comes equipped with blankets, and can be used to convert a car into an ambulance by putting it across the front and back seats.

The Medical Supply company, Rockford, Ill., recently took over the sales and distribution of the all-purpose stretcher. It is manufactured by the Medford Manufacturing company.

This year, Haggard also will be one of the speakers on the National Safety council program and will present his electrical safety demonstration at two of the section meetings.

He will be accompanied on the trip by his daughter, Gloria, a senior at Medford High school.

Commanding Officers Changed by Reserve Navy Division Here

Lt. Cmdr. John D. Simmons, Talent, took command of Naval Reserve electronics division unit 13-5 here last week in change of command ceremonies held at the Federal building, 33 North Riverside ave.

The new commanding officer succeeds Cmdr. Rodney Keating, Ashland, who had completed the maximum three-year term as the unit's top officer.

Commander Keating's orders from commandant, 13th Naval district, stated, "The commandant takes this opportunity to express his appreciation for the time and effort you have so faithfully and successfully contributed to the unit under your command. Your initiative and leadership have been a vital contribution to the reserve program and to the security of our country."

Air National Guard Alert Set This Month

Portland — (U.P.) — Maj. Gen. Thomas E. Rilea, adjutant general for the state of Oregon, Saturday announced that a special alerting exercise for the Oregon Air National Guard units will occur sometime during October.

To be known as Operation Stop Watch, the purpose of the practice alert is to determine the amount of time required to alert, effectively man, and put combat ready planes in the air after a state of readiness has been declared by the air defense command.

Word of the alert will be flashed on radio and television stations as soon as the order reaches air national guard headquarters, Gen. Rilea said. Participation by the general public is not required.

Delta Park Site Still Backed by Commissioners

Portland — (U.P.) — Members of the Exposition - Recreation Commission have announced they will stick by their selection of Delta Park as the site for Portland's $8,000,000 E-R center until the city council officially opposes the choice.

A majority of the five-man commission said they will file a formal request for the 99-acre site with the city council. If the council refused to turn the property over to the E. R. Commission, members said some other location would be selected.

Express Opposition

Commission members Wednesday voted 3-2 in favor of the Delta Park, or Vanport, site. But three city councilmen expressed opposition to the selection and indicated they will not authorize transfer of the site from the city park department to the commission.

James Polhemus, commission chairman, said the Delta Park selection will not be reconsidered until after the city council takes some action.

Second Choice

Polhemus said he favors the South Auditorium site as a second choice if the choice has to be made. Among the other commission members, Clyde C. Crosby said the Broadway-Steel Bridge site is his second choice, and John T. Carson favors the 246-acre Portland Meadows. Polhemus, Crosby and Carson voted for Delta Park.

Carvel Linden and James J. Richardson, both of whom were initially opposed to Delta Park, said they still desire a downtown location for the sports center.

Phoenix Class Sees Pear Canning Process

Phoenix — Home making classes at Phoenix High school inspected pear canning processes at the Rogue Valley cannery in Medford Friday. Company officials conducted the tour for some 25 girls, and the teacher, Mrs. Gloria Evernden.

The tour included the complete process of pear canning, from orchard lug in cold storage to the labeled product ready for shipment.

Phoenix homemaking classes have been studying food preservation and canning fruits and vegetables.

Portland Couple To Adopt Two Small Korean Children

Portland — (U.P.) — The Rev. and Mrs. William H. Collier of Portland Saturday were the legal parents of two Korean war orphans, thanks to the help of a Creswell, Ore., farmer and the Korean and American governments.

The two children, 14-months-old Kim Ra Ja and 3-year-old Oh Nam, are among 12 Korean war orphans scheduled to arrive here next Wednesday with Harry Holt of Creswell. Holt and his wife had adopted eight of the children.

The Colliers, who live in a big house serving as the girls dormitory at the Western Conservative Baptist College and Seminary, started adoption proceedings for the two children when they learned from Holt that the tots needed loving care. Holt enlisted the aid of the Korean and American governments and the adoption was completed.

The Colliers, who have no children of their own, said they will rename the girl Judy Lynn and the boy David Eugene.

The Rev. Collier is pastor of Mountain View Bible Church at Dee, 15 miles southwest of Hood River. Mrs. Collier is a professor at the college.

Humphrey, Harriman To Speak for Morse

Klamath Falls — (U.P.) — The first in a series of pre-campaign speeches in support of Sen. Wayne Morse will be given here by Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn.) on Nov. 4 according to Howard Morgan, Monmouth rancher and chairman of the Oregon Democratic Central Committee.

Humphrey will be introduced by Sen. Morse.

The following day the pair will speak in Bend and that evening in Prineville.

Morgan said eight major speeches by four nationally known Democrats would be presented in Oregon during the coming months.

Among them will be addresses in November or early December by New York Gov. W. Averell Harriman in Eugene and Oregon City.
