

Stevenson-Harriman Split Indicated in Race for Democratic Nomination

La Grande Boy Shot By Nearby Babysitter

La Grande — (U.P.) — Douglas Buchanan, 9, of LaGrande, who was accidentally shot through the cheek Saturday night by a pistol held by a babysitter, was in good condition today. La Grande police said the pistol was in the hands of a 15-year-old girl who was babysitting for another family. The 22 bullet pierced the front door of the dwelling and struck the Buchanan boy as he passed by outside.

New York Governor Said Looking More Like Candidate

Washington — (U.P.) — Political observers saw today new indications of an open split between two long-time friends—Adlai E. Stevenson and Gov. Averell Harriman of New York—in the fight for the 1956 Democratic presidential nomination.

Harriman, who was instrumental in throwing the 1952 Democratic nomination to Stevenson, looked more and more like he would be a candidate himself next year.

The New York governor scheduled a conference today with Oklahoma Gov. Raymond Gary, reported under consideration as 1956 Democratic vice-presidential nominee. Gary told reporters that Oklahoma would prefer Harriman to Stevenson.

Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill.) a Stevenson supporter, said that Harriman appeared to be "dancing the minuet—first forward, then backward." Douglas referred to Harriman's recent statement that although he has repeatedly said he is "for" Stevenson he is not bound to support the former Illinois governor.

Other political developments. 1. The Wall Street Journal said a survey of 27 Democratic state governors and other party leaders showed Stevenson "clearly in the lead" for the Democratic nomination. The survey rated Harriman a serious contender and Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Ten.) a "definite threat."

2. Agriculture Secretary Ezra T. Benson accused Stevenson of trying to revive "the discredited Brannan farm program." He said Stevenson's proposal to try "new techniques" of securing fair prices to farmers was just another way of recommending direct government subsidies to farmers.

3. Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall said that President Eisenhower's heart attack will prompt the President to announce his 1956 plans earlier than originally expected. But this announcement is still "some months" away, Hall said.

4. Kefauver, in Korea on a world tour, said "I am not a candidate" but added that he did not know "what the future holds."

Sen. Price Daniel (D-Tex.) said he believes two Texans—Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson and Speaker Sam Rayburn—will be running for the Democratic nomination next year.

Daniel said that despite Johnson's recent heart attack, "with rapid recovery, there is still a chance" Johnson will be nominated.

Sen. Prescott Bush (R-Conn.) made a similar statement about Mr. Eisenhower. He said the President "may get a little irritated" with persons who "want to write him off" as a candidate for re-election.

Bush said that medical reports give "good reason" to believe Mr. Eisenhower may run next year.

GM, Du Pont Face Renewed Legal Battle

Washington — (U.P.) — Two of the nation's giant industrial empires—the General Motors and DuPont corporations—faced a renewed legal battle today to escape a government-ordered shake-up of billion-dollar stock holdings.

In a major victory for the Justice Department, the Supreme Court Monday agreed to decide whether the two corporations are illegally interlocked and are combining to restrain trade.

Federal Judge Walter J. La Buy of Chicago ruled last May after an 18-month hearing that evidence failed to back up the government's contention that DuPont controls GM as GM's largest single stockholder. DuPont owns 23 per cent of GM's outstanding stock, a holding valued at more than $2,000,000,000.

The Supreme Court will hear arguments on the case within a few months and later hand down a decision sure to have wide repercussions in the financial world.

Over 300 Cases. More than 320 other cases were acted on by the Supreme Court Monday. Thirty-nine were accepted for review. The rest were rejected.

In its first opinion of the new term, the court ordered the University of Alabama to admit two Negro students who had been denied admission since 1952.

In other actions the high bench:

Dismissed a federal government request that it settle a dispute over Louisiana's claim to oil-rich submerged lands 10.5 miles seaward. The government wanted the court to set the boundary at three miles. The action leaves the government free to bring a separate suit in a lower federal court.

Accepted for review a case that may bring a landmark decision on the job rights of Communists in private industry. The Bio-Lab Union (Ind.), of Cutter Laboratories, Berkeley, Calif., appealed from a state court decision that employment of Communists is "against public policy." The union said the right of Communists to "live and eat" is at stake.

Granted a hearing to Frank Costello, a notorious underworld figure, who was convicted of evading more than $30,000 in federal income taxes. At the same time, the court left standing Costello's contempt conviction and $500 fine for refusing to answer questions at a pre-trial deportation hearing.

Agreed to test the legality of the Federal Communications multiple ownership rule which sets a limit on individual ownership of radio and television stations.

Left standing a $175,000 libel judgment against newspaper columnist Westbrook Pegler, the Hearst Corp., and Hearst Consolidated Publications for a Pegler column about writer Quentin Reynolds.

Rejected the appeals of: Arthur H. Samish, California liquor lobbyist and political force, sentenced to three years imprisonment for income tax evasion; Joe Adonis, East Coast racket chief facing an eight to 24-month prison term on a charge he lied when he told Senate crime investigators that he was an American citizen, and Edward "Eddie" Coco, former manager of prizefighter Rocky Graziano, sentenced to life for the murder of a Miami, Fla., car washer.

Neuberger to Oppose d'Ewart Appointment

Washington — (U.P.) — Sen. Richard L. Neuberger (D-Ore.), said today he will vote against Senate confirmation of former Rep. Wesley d'Ewart (R-Mont.), to be assistant secretary of the interior.

President Eisenhower gave d'Ewart a recess appointment last week. His nomination will come before the Senate in January.

Neuberger said in a statement released here that d'Ewart's approach to natural resources is "based on favoritism to special interests and monopoly."
