

RUSSIA OPENS BID FOR POLISH SEAT ON COUNCIL

Weather

FORECAST: Fair and mild to-night and Friday with some high cloudiness Friday. Low tonight 47. High Friday 72.
Temp.
Highest yesterday 75
Lowest this morning 45

MEDFORD MALL TRIBUNE

United Press—Full Leased Wire
30th Year 26 Pages MEDFORD, OREGON
OCTOBER 13, 1955 Price 5c No. 174

President Waves To Other Patients From Raised Bed

Healing Process 'Well Advanced'

Denver —(U.P.)— President Eisenhower's progressive recovery from a heart attack was such today that he was able to make a semi-public appearance waving from an elevated hospital bed at Fitzsimons Army Hospital to a group of patients on the ground below.

After his 35-minute sunbath on the eighth floor hospital terrace, the President's physicians in their midday bulletin said the electrocardiogram taken of the President today "now shows well advanced evolutionary changes."

In lay language, this means that the healing process in his heart, damaged by a coronary thrombosis Sept. 24, is "well advanced" and continuing to improve.

Patients Watch

About 11:30 a.m., the President, at the end of his session in the sun, was rolled slowly around the terrace before being returned to his room.

Patients, more than a dozen of them in red hospital robes, on the ground beneath the chief executive, watched the process. Wearing a blue golf cap and sun glasses, the President looked through the railing around the terrace and waved down to the patients.

The midday medical bulletin reflected continued optimism over Mr. Eisenhower who prepared to observe his 65th birthday tomorrow, as hundreds of gifts and congratulatory messages poured into the Denver White House and the Hospital.

Observance of the President's birthday will be on the conservative side as far as he is concerned. The White House is preparing a small cake which will be carried into his room about noon tomorrow.

The President sent his principal aide to give the Cabinet his views on matters that will come up at a meeting tomorrow.

Ike Photographed From High Perch

Denver —(U.P.)— Charles McCarthy of the United Press News-pictures staff made a picture of President Eisenhower today by climbing to the top of an 85-foot high drive-in movie screen and photographing him through a 36-inch lens.

McCarthy said he believed another photographer on the screen also made the same picture. In any case, they were the first pictures made of the President since he suffered his heart attack Sept. 24.

Photographers at Fitzsimons Army hospital wouldn't use a helicopter, plane, parachute, balloon dirigible or hook and ladder truck. The President or other patients in the hospital bed disturbed.

The hospital is the tallest building in miles, so the only way to photograph the President sunning himself was to climb upon the movie screen, half a mile from the hospital.

Oregon Farmer Heads Home With Children

Seoul, Korea —(U.P.)— An American farmer, his arms draped with diapers, today packed a dozen Korean-American children aboard an airliner to take them to new homes and lives in the United States.

Harry Holt, Creswell, Ore., who will adopt eight of the infants abandoned by their American soldier fathers and Korean mothers, said:

"I'm in a hurry. I want to get these kids back to my farm in Oregon so they can begin real lives."

Holt and his wife, who already have six children of their own, decided to adopt the foundlings from Korea because "the Lord has been so good to us."

Speeder Has Drivers' License Suspended

Glenn Lewis Funk, 25, of 340 North Central ave., was fined $35 and his driver's license was suspended for 20 days in district court. He was charged with violation of basic rule.

State police who arrested the Medford man said he was driving 90 miles an hour at night on Crater Lake highway when he was stopped and cited.

Multi-Million Dollar Retirement Home Planned for Coos County

ARTHRTIS CLINIC — Forty-two problem arthritis cases were reviewed Wednesday at an arthritis clinic held at Sacred Heart hospital. Registration on arthritis at the clinic was done by Miss Carole Graham, shown above completing a registration form for A. L. Peachy, Eagle Point. At right is Sister Reine, hospital superintendent, who made the hospital's facilities available for the clinic. (See story on Page 3 of Section 2.) —(Brainerd photo)

Plans for a multi-million-dollar retirement home, to be built in the Medford area, were announced here today.

The plans call for construction of a luxurious apartment-hotel type of building, modeled after Willamette View Manor near Milwaukie and Oregon City, which cost some $2,240,000, and opened last December. It is now filled to capacity, with a long waiting list.

Forming Organization An organization to be known as the Rogue Valley Methodist Home, Inc., a non-profit corporation, is now being formed. M. N. Hogan, Medford broker, is president; the Rev. Meredith Groves, Eugene, district superintendent for the Methodist church, is vice-chairman; Dr. Raymond Balcomb, minister of the Medford First Methodist church, is secretary, and Leonard Clark is treasurer.

Apartment in the building can be purchased and life care will be furnished for a monthly fee. At Willamette View Manor, the apartments range in cost from $7,000 to $17,000, and the monthly charge, which covers all necessities and utilities, is now $100.

While the plans are still in the formative stage, the organization definitely will go ahead with the project, in cooperation with the Willamette View Manor staff, which is assisting in the preliminary work. Clyde W. Mummery, organizer and administrator of Willamette View Manor, attended a meeting of the board of trustees here last night, to explain how his organization operated, and how it got its start.

Inter-Denominational While affiliated with the National Association of Methodist Hospitals and Homes, the Rogue Valley Manor would be an inter-denominational organization, and among the 20 or more members of the board of trustees already selected are ministers of other denominations. The board eventually will have up to 36 members.

As planned, the new manor here would accommodate a minimum of 200 residents, with plans prepared for later expansion. No site has yet been selected, according to Mr. Groves.

Willamette View Manor's construction was financed entirely from "founder's fees," which are amounts paid in advance for apartments. There are several plans under which this can be done, including the deferred plan for those who wish to obtain an apartment, but do not wish to occupy it for a period of several years.

There are no age limits, but applicants for apartments must meet certain standards.

Many Features Among the features of the Willamette View Manor, many of which probably will be incorporated in the local manor, are dining rooms, club rooms, game rooms, a theater, a library, a large landscaped park, cottages for those who prefer them to apartments, central heating with individual apartment controls, and a wide variety of recreational features.

Mummery said today the success of Willamette View Manor has caused a revision of plans for similar organizations all over the nation. He pointed out that the average age of the population is growing, with an increasing proportion of older people, and that the plan under which the manors are operated provides life-time security for those who can participate.

It is expected that the manor here will not only serve the southwestern Oregon area, but that people from all over the United States would be attracted to it as a place for retirement.

Prices to Southern Oregon Producers Scheduled To Go Up Saturday

Producers paid to Southern Oregon producers of Grade A milk Saturday will be restored to the 1954 level, it was announced today by Richard Westberg, president of Oregon Milk Producers.

The rise in cost may be passed on to the consumer by distributors, Westberg said.

He noted that "By raising the price of milk 42 cents per hundred-weight—eighty less than

as costs which have increased from 5 to 20 per cent during the past year and said that most dairymen expected taxes in Southern Oregon to rise, since valuations generally were up this year.

"If we're to keep an adequate supply of quality milk on the market, we must see that producers get a price which will help meet increased costs," Westberg said.

Prices paid to Southern Oregon producers of Grade A milk Saturday will be restored to the 1954 level, it was announced today by Richard Westberg, president of Oregon Milk Producers.

The rise in cost may be passed on to the consumer by distributors, Westberg said.

Luxurious Type of Apartment-Hotel Structure Proposed

Organization Being Formed for Project

Plans for a multi-million-dollar retirement home, to be built in the Medford area, were announced here today.

The plans call for construction of a luxurious apartment-hotel type of building, modeled after Willamette View Manor near Milwaukie and Oregon City, which cost some $2,240,000, and opened last December. It is now filled to capacity, with a long waiting list.

Forming Organization An organization to be known as the Rogue Valley Methodist Home, Inc., a non-profit corporation, is now being formed. M. N. Hogan, Medford broker, is president; the Rev. Meredith Groves, Eugene, district superintendent for the Methodist church, is vice-chairman; Dr. Raymond Balcomb, minister of the Medford First Methodist church, is secretary, and Leonard Clark is treasurer.

Apartment in the building can be purchased and life care will be furnished for a monthly fee. At Willamette View Manor, the apartments range in cost from $7,000 to $17,000, and the monthly charge, which covers all necessities and utilities, is now $100.

While the plans are still in the formative stage, the organization definitely will go ahead with the project, in cooperation with the Willamette View Manor staff, which is assisting in the preliminary work. Clyde W. Mummery, organizer and administrator of Willamette View Manor, attended a meeting of the board of trustees here last night, to explain how his organization operated, and how it got its start.

Inter-Denominational While affiliated with the National Association of Methodist Hospitals and Homes, the Rogue Valley Manor would be an inter-denominational organization, and among the 20 or more members of the board of trustees already selected are ministers of other denominations. The board eventually will have up to 36 members.

As planned, the new manor here would accommodate a minimum of 200 residents, with plans prepared for later expansion. No site has yet been selected, according to Mr. Groves.

Willamette View Manor's construction was financed entirely from "founder's fees," which are amounts paid in advance for apartments. There are several plans under which this can be done, including the deferred plan for those who wish to obtain an apartment, but do not wish to occupy it for a period of several years.

There are no age limits, but applicants for apartments must meet certain standards.

Many Features Among the features of the Willamette View Manor, many of which probably will be incorporated in the local manor, are dining rooms, club rooms, game rooms, a theater, a library, a large landscaped park, cottages for those who prefer them to apartments, central heating with individual apartment controls, and a wide variety of recreational features.

Mummery said today the success of Willamette View Manor has caused a revision of plans for similar organizations all over the nation. He pointed out that the average age of the population is growing, with an increasing proportion of older people, and that the plan under which the manors are operated provides life-time security for those who can participate.

It is expected that the manor here will not only serve the southwestern Oregon area, but that people from all over the United States would be attracted to it as a place for retirement.

Prices to Southern Oregon Producers Scheduled To Go Up Saturday

Producers paid to Southern Oregon producers of Grade A milk Saturday will be restored to the 1954 level, it was announced today by Richard Westberg, president of Oregon Milk Producers.

The rise in cost may be passed on to the consumer by distributors, Westberg said.

He noted that "By raising the price of milk 42 cents per hundred-weight—eighty less than

as costs which have increased from 5 to 20 per cent during the past year and said that most dairymen expected taxes in Southern Oregon to rise, since valuations generally were up this year.

"If we're to keep an adequate supply of quality milk on the market, we must see that producers get a price which will help meet increased costs," Westberg said.

Prices paid to Southern Oregon producers of Grade A milk Saturday will be restored to the 1954 level, it was announced today by Richard Westberg, president of Oregon Milk Producers.

The rise in cost may be passed on to the consumer by distributors, Westberg said.

He noted that "By raising the price of milk 42 cents per hundred-weight—eighty less than

as costs which have increased from 5 to 20 per cent during the past year and said that most dairymen expected taxes in Southern Oregon to rise, since valuations generally were up this year.

"If we're to keep an adequate supply of quality milk on the market, we must see that producers get a price which will help meet increased costs," Westberg said.

Prices paid to Southern Oregon producers of Grade A milk Saturday will be restored to the 1954 level, it was announced today by Richard Westberg, president of Oregon Milk Producers.

Soviet Minister Seeks Votes to Beat Philippines

Poland Underdog In Friday Balloting

United Nations, N.Y. —(U.P.)— Russia today launched an all-out campaign to win a seat for Communist Poland in the powerful UN Security Council.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister V. V. Kuznetsov scheduled a rare press conference at which he was expected to make a final effort to gain enough votes for Poland to beat the U.S.-backed Philippines delegation for the council seat.

Considered Underdog Observers considered the Soviet satellite country a definite underdog in the voting Friday to fill the seat left vacant by Turkey in the rotation system of non-permanent seats on the Security Council. Cuba and Australia are unopposed for the other two seats.

U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., said Poland had no claim to a council seat since it "is clearly not a nation which has contributed to International peace and security."

Polish Press Conference Polish delegate Julius Katz-Suchy, in a press conference Wednesday, accused the United States of violating, by backing the Philippines, a 1946 "gentlemen's agreement" that one of the nonpermanent seats on the council should go to an Eastern European country.

Lodge replied that the Polish accusation was "regrettable and untrue."

Lodge declared that the "so-called London agreement was a commitment for the first election only."

Yugoslavia In 1949 In 1949, Yugoslavia, at odds with the Soviet Union, won the seat over Poland with American backing. It qualified as an Eastern European country but did not meet the implied qualification that it should be a member of the Soviet bloc. Greece won in 1951 and Turkey was elected in 1953, both with U.S. support.

While the electioneering continued, a dispute raged around UN Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold in the Social, Humanitarian and Cultural committee.

Arab and Asian delegates criticized Hammarskjold for his proposal, made last Thursday, that the United Nations should set up a special commission to discuss self-determination, regarded as the crux of the colonialism.

Car Lack Closes Hunter-Best Mill

Another Jackson county lumber mill was forced to close down its operation yesterday because of the continuing boxcar shortage.

The Hunter and Best mill at Ruch closed its day shift yesterday. The shift will remain down until possibly next Tuesday. The firm's night shift "is off indefinitely," company officials said this morning.

About 59 men are employed on the company's two shifts.

Company officials said Hunter and Best has been building up too much inventory because of the lack of cars to ship lumber. Hunter and Best's lumber shipments are made from Central Point.

Shipments are expected to continue as boxcars become available. Milling for Hunter and Best lumber is handled by Triple Milling Company, Inc., Central Point, which also has closed for a week. Triple Milling employs a crew of 25. This is the second shutdown this year for the company.

and that the plan under which the manors are operated provides life-time security for those who can participate.

It is expected that the manor here will not only serve the southwestern Oregon area, but that people from all over the United States would be attracted to it as a place for retirement.

Prices to Southern Oregon Producers Scheduled To Go Up Saturday

Producers paid to Southern Oregon producers of Grade A milk Saturday will be restored to the 1954 level, it was announced today by Richard Westberg, president of Oregon Milk Producers.

The rise in cost may be passed on to the consumer by distributors, Westberg said.

He noted that "By raising the price of milk 42 cents per hundred-weight—eighty less than

as costs which have increased from 5 to 20 per cent during the past year and said that most dairymen expected taxes in Southern Oregon to rise, since valuations generally were up this year.

"If we're to keep an adequate supply of quality milk on the market, we must see that producers get a price which will help meet increased costs," Westberg said.

Prices paid to Southern Oregon producers of Grade A milk Saturday will be restored to the 1954 level, it was announced today by Richard Westberg, president of Oregon Milk Producers.

The rise in cost may be passed on to the consumer by distributors, Westberg said.

He noted that "By raising the price of milk 42 cents per hundred-weight—eighty less than

as costs which have increased from 5 to 20 per cent during the past year and said that most dairymen expected taxes in Southern Oregon to rise, since valuations generally were up this year.

"If we're to keep an adequate supply of quality milk on the market, we must see that producers get a price which will help meet increased costs," Westberg said.

Bernarr M'Fadden Dies in Hospital

Jersey City, N.J. —(U.P.)— Bernarr MacFadden, a leading American exponent of physical culture for more than a half-century, died at the age of 87 here Wednesday night.

The wiry little man, who pyramided muscles, magazines and manly daring into fame and fortune, succumbed to a blood clot on the brain, attending a relapse of a complicated liver and gall bladder ailment.

Fasted Into Coma He died in Jersey City Medical center, where he was brought from his hotel room last Friday after fasting himself into a coma in an effort to cure himself of a jaundice condition.

Funeral services will be held at noon Saturday from the Frank E. Campbell funeral parlors in New York City and burial will follow at Woodlawn cemetery.

An executive of the Bernarr MacFadden Physical Culture foundation said he expected MacFadden's personal estate would total less than $10,000. The once five million dollar foundation, he said, is worth between $250,000 and $500,000 now.

"The lush days are gone," vice-president Edward L. Bodin said. "They've hit rock bottom."

MacFadden had a lifelong distrust of doctors, and generally scorned medical aid in favor of his own prescriptions consisting of exercise, health foods and fasting. However, Dr. Charles Landshof, his physician, termed him a "cooperative patient since Oct. 7, when he entered the hospital."

MacFadden had a lifelong distrust of doctors, and generally scorned medical aid in favor of his own prescriptions consisting of exercise, health foods and fasting. However, Dr. Charles Landshof, his physician, termed him a "cooperative patient since Oct. 7, when he entered the hospital."

MacFadden had a lifelong distrust of doctors, and generally scorned medical aid in favor of his own prescriptions consisting of exercise, health foods and fasting. However, Dr. Charles Landshof, his physician, termed him a "cooperative patient since Oct. 7, when he entered the hospital."

MacFadden had a lifelong distrust of doctors, and generally scorned medical aid in favor of his own prescriptions consisting of exercise, health foods and fasting. However, Dr. Charles Landshof, his physician, termed him a "cooperative patient since Oct. 7, when he entered the hospital."

MacFadden had a lifelong distrust of doctors, and generally scorned medical aid in favor of his own prescriptions consisting of exercise, health foods and fasting. However, Dr. Charles Landshof, his physician, termed him a "cooperative patient since Oct. 7, when he entered the hospital."

MacFadden had a lifelong distrust of doctors, and generally scorned medical aid in favor of his own prescriptions consisting of exercise, health foods and fasting. However, Dr. Charles Landshof, his physician, termed him a "cooperative patient since Oct. 7, when he entered the hospital."

MacFadden had a lifelong distrust of doctors, and generally scorned medical aid in favor of his own prescriptions consisting of exercise, health foods and fasting. However, Dr. Charles Landshof, his physician, termed him a "cooperative patient since Oct. 7, when he entered the hospital."

MacFadden had a lifelong distrust of doctors, and generally scorned medical aid in favor of his own prescriptions consisting of exercise, health foods and fasting. However, Dr. Charles Landshof, his physician, termed him a "cooperative patient since Oct. 7, when he entered the hospital."

MacFadden had a lifelong distrust of doctors, and generally scorned medical aid in favor of his own prescriptions consisting of exercise, health foods and fasting. However, Dr. Charles Landshof, his physician, termed him a "cooperative patient since Oct. 7, when he entered the hospital."

MacFadden had a lifelong distrust of doctors, and generally scorned medical aid in favor of his own prescriptions consisting of exercise, health foods and fasting. However, Dr. Charles Landshof, his physician, termed him a "cooperative patient since Oct. 7, when he entered the hospital."

MacFadden had a lifelong distrust of doctors, and generally scorned medical aid in favor of his own prescriptions consisting of exercise, health foods and fasting. However, Dr. Charles Landshof, his physician, termed him a "cooperative patient since Oct. 7, when he entered the hospital."

MacFadden had a lifelong distrust of doctors, and generally scorned medical aid in favor of his own prescriptions consisting of exercise, health foods and fasting. However, Dr. Charles Landshof, his physician, termed him a "cooperative patient since Oct. 7, when he entered the hospital."

MacFadden had a lifelong distrust of doctors, and generally scorned medical aid in favor of his own prescriptions consisting of exercise, health foods and fasting. However, Dr. Charles Landshof, his physician, termed him a "cooperative patient since Oct. 7, when he entered the hospital."

MacFadden had a lifelong distrust of doctors, and generally scorned medical aid in favor of his own prescriptions consisting of exercise, health foods and fasting. However, Dr. Charles Landshof, his physician, termed him a "cooperative patient since Oct. 7, when he entered the hospital."

MacFadden had a lifelong distrust of doctors, and generally scorned medical aid in favor of his own prescriptions consisting of exercise, health foods and fasting. However, Dr. Charles Landshof, his physician, termed him a "cooperative patient since Oct. 7, when he entered the hospital."

MacFadden had a lifelong distrust of doctors, and generally scorned medical aid in favor of his own prescriptions consisting of exercise, health foods and fasting. However, Dr. Charles Landshof, his physician, termed him a "cooperative patient since Oct. 7, when he entered the hospital."

MacFadden had a lifelong distrust of doctors, and generally scorned medical aid in favor of his own prescriptions consisting of exercise, health foods and fasting. However, Dr. Charles Landshof, his physician, termed him a "cooperative patient since Oct. 7, when he entered the hospital."

MacFadden had a lifelong distrust of doctors, and generally scorned medical aid in favor of his own prescriptions consisting of exercise, health foods and fasting. However, Dr. Charles Landshof, his physician, termed him a "cooperative patient since Oct. 7, when he entered the hospital."

MacFadden had a lifelong distrust of doctors, and generally scorned medical aid in favor of his own prescriptions consisting of exercise, health foods and fasting. However, Dr. Charles Landshof, his physician, termed him a "cooperative patient since Oct. 7, when he entered the hospital."

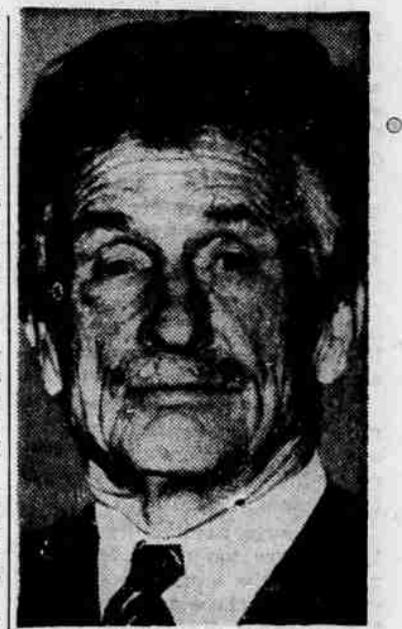

MacFadden had a lifelong distrust of doctors, and generally scorned medical aid in favor of his own prescriptions consisting of exercise, health foods and fasting. However, Dr. Charles Landshof, his physician, termed him a "cooperative patient since Oct. 7, when he entered the hospital."

MacFadden had a lifelong distrust of doctors, and generally scorned medical aid in favor of his own prescriptions consisting of exercise, health foods and fasting. However, Dr. Charles Landshof, his physician, termed him a "cooperative patient since Oct. 7, when he entered the hospital."

MacFadden had a lifelong distrust of doctors, and generally scorned medical aid in favor of his own prescriptions consisting of exercise, health foods and fasting. However, Dr. Charles Landshof, his physician, termed him a "cooperative patient since Oct. 7, when he entered the hospital."

MacFadden had a lifelong distrust of doctors, and generally scorned medical aid in favor of his own prescriptions consisting of exercise, health foods and fasting. However, Dr. Charles Landshof, his physician, termed him a "cooperative patient since Oct. 7, when he entered the hospital."

MacFadden had a lifelong distrust of doctors, and generally scorned medical aid in favor of his own prescriptions consisting of exercise, health foods and fasting. However, Dr. Charles Landshof, his physician, termed him a "cooperative patient since Oct. 7, when he entered the hospital."

BERNARR MacFADDEN
Funeral Services Saturday

Red China Denies American Soldiers Still Being Held

Geneva —(U.P.)— Communist China said today it is "groundless" to hope that any missing American servicemen from the Korean war are still held in China.

The Chinese Communists also berated the United States for injecting the issue into the Geneva talks between the U.S. and Red Chinese ambassadors.

The Communist Chinese statements were made today in a broadcast over Peiping Radio which accused the United States of adopting "new obstructive tactics" in raising the question of the missing servicemen.

The American statement came from a U.S. spokesman who said a Chinese offer to hand over 16 Americans included 16 turncoats from the Korean war. The Communists said 47 of the 66 could go home "at any time."

"We are still looking for about 500 American nationals we believe are still held on the Chinese mainland," the American spokesman said.

Peiping Radio in the broadcast that coincided with the American statements said such reports were "groundless" and "a fabrication."

The Communists then accused the United States of holding 14,000 missing Chinese prisoners.

California Demos Talk With De Sapo

San Francisco —(U.P.)— Tammany Hall leader Carmine De Sapo conferred today with California Democratic leaders on his "political exploration trip."

De Sapo, insisting he did not come west to seek support for Gov. Averell Harriman of New York, claimed the Democratic party is "interested in providing for the electorate the best qualified and strongest possible candidate."

"Personalities are secondary," he said. "The party's welfare is paramount to personalities."

De Sapo arrived here from New York yesterday just in time to make a Columbus Day speech to an audience made up predominantly of Italian-Americans. In his speech, he vigorously attacked the McCarran-Walter immigration act.

Peron Internment Due Within Next 24 Hours

Asuncion, Paraguay —(U.P.)— Deposed Argentine dictator Juan D. Peron will be packed off to internment in the interior of Paraguay within the next 24 hours, well informed sources here said today.

The Paraguayan government in response to a request from Argentina, yesterday ordered Peron interned at Villarrica, about 75 miles from here.

Britain Not Consulted On Letter to Bulganin

London —(U.P.)— President Eisenhower's letter to Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin on inspection of key military points was drafted without consultation with Britain, official sources said today.

The Foreign Office withheld official comment on the President's proposal.