

Hutchinson, Lane Make Card Plans

St. Louis, Mo. — (U.P.) — General Manager Frank Lane and field manager Fred Hutchinson, two new St. Louis Cardinals, today laid plans for improving the seventh-place club's status in 1956.

Hutchinson, signed Wednesday by Lane who has less than a week's seniority, said the Cardinals "cannot help but improve with so much young talent."

"We'll have a better team in 1956, one that will ultimately be a pennant contender," he said.

In fact, having been an American leaguer with Detroit and on the Pacific Coast the past season, Hutchinson hasn't seen most of the team's young stars.

He said he wanted to reserve judgment until next spring, "when I'll be working with the players" and sees what Lane turns up with trades.

Lane, who said Hutchinson's two year contract calls for "about $30,000 a year," said, "He's the type of manager I feel will lead the Cardinals' fine young players into a higher position for two years and possibly more."

Hutchinson said his knowledge of the Cardinals roster mainly is confined to "Stan Musial and Red Schoendienst, fellows like that — considering there aren't too many fellows like that."

OSC Grid Coach Dislikes Rain

Corvallis, Ore. — (U.P.) — Coach Tommy Prothro has expressed his first complaints about the "Oregon mist" that has hampered the work of his Oregon State Beavers.

"The rain isn't helping us one little bit in getting ready for our game against College of Pacific in Stockton Saturday night," Prothro said, as his Beavers sloshed through a heavy workout.

Back Bill Headrick of the Chiefs is listed as lost for the season because of a torn knee ligament. Back Bill Weaver has strained a tendon and may not have many ball carry chores.

End Tom Johnston, first string defensive player, has missed work because of having a tooth knocked out. Back Gary Stinchcomb has a bruised shoulder.

A bright spot, however, is the addition of a transfer back, Dick Ross, senior who played jayvee ball as a sophomore at Klamath Falls. He broke a knee that year and did not play for the Pels last season. The back is a 172-pound, 6-foot 3-inch youth. He may see defensive work this Friday.

Possible starters for Phoenix are Ray Dahl and Gary Simmonds, ends; Perry Sneed and Delford Dean, tackles; Dennis Bradley and Don Blankenship, guard; Jim Hobbs, center, and Jim Korth, Delmar Brood, John Garner and Dan Lovett, backs. Walt Hurlbutt, a tackle, may replace Hobbs on defense. Scheduled for considerable duty are Don Wallace, guard; Pete Bohm and Jack Thompson, ends, and Larry Kidwell, tackle.

Pirates Face Rogue River Grid Eleven
Phoenix — Two football clubs which have shown vast improvement in the past three weeks tangle here Friday night. The non-league struggle brings together Phoenix and Rogue River high schools.

Hassles between the two schools in recent years have proven to be good games and no exception is seen this year.

Coach Jack Woodward of the Phoenix Pirates declared that the team is in good shape and ready to go and anticipates a "real fine ball game."

Injuries have dimmed the Rogue River outlook a bit but the Chiefs' Mentor Tinker Hatfield said he expects the crew to be "up" for the fracas with the knowledge that it will have to be, Phoenix is considered tougher than any opposition the Chiefs have faced this season.

Back Bill Headrick of the Chiefs is listed as lost for the season because of a torn knee ligament. Back Bill Weaver has strained a tendon and may not have many ball carry chores.

End Tom Johnston, first string defensive player, has missed work because of having a tooth knocked out. Back Gary Stinchcomb has a bruised shoulder.

A bright spot, however, is the addition of a transfer back, Dick Ross, senior who played jayvee ball as a sophomore at Klamath Falls. He broke a knee that year and did not play for the Pels last season. The back is a 172-pound, 6-foot 3-inch youth. He may see defensive work this Friday.

Walt Hurlbutt, a tackle, may replace Hobbs on defense. Scheduled for considerable duty are Don Wallace, guard; Pete Bohm and Jack Thompson, ends, and Larry Kidwell, tackle.

Crater High Host to IV On Friday

Central Point — Crater high expects to run into a fired up Illinois Valley high football club Friday night when the two aggregations collide on the Central Point field in a Rogue League and District 6 A-2 scuffle.

The Cougars have been rather battered about this year, although they fought to a scoreless knot with Myrtle Creek. Last week Phoenix whacked the Illinois Valley 39 to 20. But even in defeat the Cougars took hope for their Crater mix since Phoenix licked the Comets 31 to 7.

Outlook for Crater's Comets, nevertheless, was good this week. Coach Leonard Warren said it appeared the club will be fully-manned. Spirit was up in the Tuesday drill and the squad had a good scrimmage yesterday. He indicates that the situation was looking better this week than in workouts last week prior to the 37 to 0 loss to Medford.

Starters Told
Probable offensive starters this Friday are John Shama and Carl Koellner, ends; Dick Davis and Dave Parker, tackles; Harold Lefler and Don Hubbard, guards; Nathan Douthit, center;

Roger Seaman may see much duty at guard, both on offense and defense. Neil Green may be in the line for Lefler on defense. Harsh and Mason are likely linemen with defensive halfback choices among Duane Krout, Duane Goyette and Ron Harri-sons. Don Goyette or Lee Gossett will be at Safety.

Back Wayne Allen, who suffered a leg injury after his punt was blocked in the Medford game, was running in practice last night.

Prosperity Gets a Big Boost From Oregon's $183,000,000 FIR PLYWOOD INDUSTRY

FIR PLYWOOD is big business in Oregon. This year, payrolls alone will exceed $76,000,000. Other millions will be spent for equipment, supplies, services. Still more millions will go for taxes, licenses and fees.

Every home, every business, and every public service benefits.

A short 50 years ago, there was no fir plywood industry. The very first panels were made at St. Johns, Oregon, and exhibited at Portland's Lewis & Clark Exposition, in June of 1905.

This year, 110 plants—from Bellingham, Washington, to Sonoma, California—will produce over 4 1/2 billion square feet of plywood . . . enough to make a 4 x 8-foot stack 740 miles high.

An average of 500 freight cars loaded with fir plywood leave the Pacific Northwest every day. For fir plywood, produced only in this area, is sold everywhere—through all the nation's 32,000 retail lumber dealers.

It's used to build millions of useful things: homes and highway signs . . . boats and built-ins . . . concrete forms and cabinets . . . freight cars and factories . . . toys and trucks . . . farm buildings and furniture.

The list is long—and growing longer.

To keep it growing is the fundamental purpose of the fir plywood industry's trade promotion program.

Research is a keystone in this ceaseless effort. Research that develops new products . . . new uses . . . new markets . . . new and better ways to fully utilize the great potential of Oregon's timber resources.

It bids well for the future. The result will be an even greater boost to the state's prosperity.

Watch for announcement of big FIR PLYWOOD JUBILEE FREE SHOW AT MEDFORD October 22-23
