Flowers, Gifts Flood Hospital Room as Ike Observes Birthday

Denver — (U.P.) — President Eisenhower observed his 65th birthday today surrounded by gifts, flowers and with an exchange of cheery birthday greetings to some 40 persons from the Fitzsimons Army hospital sun terrace.

His doctors, meanwhile, reported another encouraging sign in his recovery from a heart attack.

The President, who earlier had inspected some of the flood of presents that arrived here, got his unexpected greetings when he was wheeled in his hospital bed out onto the sun terrace of the hospital's eighth floor.

A group of about 20 photographers and 20 hospital patients standing on the hospital grounds below the west terrace looked up as the President's bed was wheeled to the edge and then yelled out a spontaneous "Happy Birthday."

President Waves Back

Both the President and Mrs. Eisenhower waved back and then someone, it was not immediately determined whether it was the President or some attendant with him on the terrace, replied "thanks."

The President had awakened this morning "refreshed and in a happy birthday mood."

His doctors also reported for the first time since he entered the hospital Sept. 24 that "his cardiogram has stabilized at a satisfactory level."

Mrs. Eisenhower joined the President at breakfast to begin showing him the multitude of gifts, flowers and messages that poured in from all the world.

Presents From Family

The President especially enjoyed presents from his own family, the White House staff, the press corps, and messages and other gifts from the Cabinet and Republican state chairman.

Mrs. Eisenhower gave the President a plastic easel for his use in painting while in his hospital bed.

The White House staff in Washington sent the traditional 65 American Beauty roses, and the temporary White House staff gave him a garden of flowers for his Gettysburg, Pa., farm.

Annexation Move Gets Endorsement Of City Planners

The Medford planning commission late yesterday recommended to the city council that several hundred acres southeast of Medford be annexed.

The recommendation was made after members of the commission toured the proposed boundary. The council is expected to consider the recommendation at its Tuesday night meeting.

The area includes land southeast of Medford, south of Hillcrest rd. and east of Bear Creek. Included in the area are Rogue Valley Country club, the proposed Rogue Valley Memorial hospital site, a proposed convalescent home, and the McIntyre subdivision around Barnburg hill.

The recommendation by the commission was made after several petitions with signatures of 84 residents favoring annexation were submitted.

The area was included in an annexation proposal defeated by residents southeast, south and southwest of Medford's city limits earlier this year.

Small Boy Injured in Bike-Auto Accident

Danny Dixon, 9, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Hunter Dixon, 19 Highland dr., Medford, was slightly injured about 3:45 p.m. yesterday when the bicycle he was riding collided with a car operated by Charles Owen Cox, 210 Elm st., Medford.

The accident happened at the intersection of East Main st. and Willamette ave. No citations were issued, police said.

The boy was taken to Sacred Heart hospital by Medford ambulance service. He suffered minor cuts and bruises and was later released.

Salem — (U.P.) — Loder Brothers, a Salem auto agency being picked by AFL machinists, has filed suit in Marion county circuit court for an injunction to halt picketing.

Maurice L. Tedrow Receives Transfer From Rogue Forest

Transfer of Maurice L. Tedrow, staff officer of the Rogue River National Forest, to the staff of the Gifford Pinchot National Forest, where he will be in charge of timber management, was announced today by Forest Supervisor J. H. Wood.

Tedrow is a native of Oregon and a graduate of the school of forestry at Oregon State college. His first appointment as forester in 1934 was on the Rogue River forest, and he served as district ranger, first on the Klamath and then on the Butte Falls district until 1936, when he was transferred to the Tonasket district on the Colville.

Returned in 1940

He returned to the Rogue River forest in 1940 with promotion to the supervisor's staff, in charge of fire control and range management activities. In 1949 he was again promoted and has handled timber and range management activities since that time.

Wood said that, with the increase in timber activity in recent years, Tedrow's development of plans and procedures have been highly valuable in harvesting timber with full protection of the forest's resources.

Move to Vancouver

Mr. and Mrs. Tedrow, with their two children, reside at 317 Howard st. Both have been active in various phases of community service and Mrs. Tedrow is an officer in the Parent Teacher's association of Medford. They plan to leave about Nov. 1 for Vancouver, Wash., the headquarters of the Gifford Pinchot National Forest.

Wood said that announcement of replacement for Tedrow is expected soon.

Hope of Preventing Middle East War May Be Unrealized

Arab-Israeli Tensions Sharpest in Six Years

Washington — (U.P.) — The United States today faced the prospect that its hopes of preventing new warfare between the Arabs and Israel might go up in gun smoke with little notice.

A frank analysis given here of the Middle East situation is that Arab-Israeli tensions are the sharpest since full-scale fighting raged in the area six years ago.

Tensions at New Peak

Tensions have been brought to a new peak by Egypt's decision to buy arms from the Communists. That decision is said authoritatively to have:

1. Raised the prospect that Israel might renew fighting to get the jump on Egypt before Czech arms are delivered in the near future.

2. All but killed the major American effort to create a basis for peace in the Middle East. That effort was to obtain an Israeli-Arab agreement to share the waters of the Jordan river.

U. S. Issues Warnings

3. Prompted new U. S. warnings to all Arab states against buying or trading with Russia for arms as Egypt did. The warning is to the effect that the Arabs can't shoot their way out of Middle Eastern problems, that they should withhold their fire and seek peaceful solutions to their quarrels with Israel.

Diplomatic officials have not given up all hope of avoiding new fighting in the Middle East. But they see the scales tipping dangerously in the direction of a new conflict now that Russia and its satellites are threatening to upset the balance of power in the region.

Egypt Blamed

Egypt is blamed for suddenly sparking new tensions by dealing for Red arms. There is no backing out of the deal, it was learned, because Egypt already has deposited $2,870,000 in a Czech bank as a down payment on the arms.

Strategists here believe Israel has a temporary arms advantage which it may use before the Red arms are delivered to Egypt.

Trouble may come first from the U. S.-sponsored Jordan Valley project. Experts believe that Israel could cut the Jordan waters within two weeks if the Arabs reject the sharing plan, which is believed doomed.

Jacksonville Council Petitions Available

Jacksonville — Petitions for nominating candidates for Jacksonville city councilmen are available at the city recorder's office, Recorder Mrs. Ted Hewlett, 701 South Third st., has announced.

One vacancy will be filled. Councilman Lloyd Rasmussen moved from Jacksonville recently. No one was appointed to fill the vacancy because he was to come up for re-election this year.

Two other councilmen—E. O. Graham and Ernest McIntyre—have terms expiring this year. Neither as yet have indicated whether or not they will seek re-election.

Petitions must be signed by 20 residents before candidates' names go on the ballot for the election Nov. 8. Petitions must be filed with the city recorder at least 10 days prior to election date.

Russia's Request For Ballot Delay Falls on Deaf Ears

Philippines Lacks One Vote at Reck

United Nations, N. Y. — (U.P.) — The United States and Russia battled to a draw through six ballots today with neither gaining election of its candidate for a U.N. Security Council seat.

United Nations, N. Y. — (U.P.) — The Philippines and Poland battled through four ballots in the UN General assembly today with neither gaining the two-thirds majority required for election to the Security Council.

The Philippines, backed by the United States, stood within one vote of election to the 11-nation council when Assembly President Jose Maza of Chile declared a 20-minute recess.

Delay Request Futile

Russia, campaigning hard for Poland on grounds that election of an Eastern European country was required under a gentleman's agreement reached in London in 1946, futilely asked that voting be delayed until another meeting. The United States contends that the 1946 agreement pertained only to the first Security Council election.

The assembly also was picking six new members for its Economic and Social Council and two for the Trusteeship Council but these ballots were completely overshadowed by the Philippines-Poland battle.

Both the United States and the Soviet bloc accused each other of violating the "spirit of Geneva" generated when the Big Four heads of government met last July.

Significance of the vote went beyond the Philippines-Poland contest. It involved the "equitable geographic distribution" of the six non-permanent seats on the council, three of which are filled each year for two-year terms.

'Gentlemen's Agreement'

Poland and Russia contended that U. S. support of the Philippines violated a "gentlemen's agreement" reached in 1946 under which the non-permanent seats were apportioned among Eastern Europe, Western Europe, the Middle East, the British Commonwealth and Latin America.

The United States took the position that the agreement pertained only to the first Security Council election.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister V. V. Kuznetsov, in a press conference Thursday, issued a veiled threat to Latin America and Western Europe that they might be next to lose a council seat if the "gentlemen's agreement" was not observed.

Nunley Completes Jensen Case Brief

District Attorney Walter Nunley's brief for the appeal of the James Norman Jensen case has been put in the hands of the printer, it was announced today by the district attorney's office.

Jensen was convicted last year of the murder of Mrs. Fern Hill, Medford housewife, and sentenced to die in the state gas chamber at Salem. Defense attorney Edward Kelly's notice of appeal acted as an immediate stay of execution.

After all briefs have been filed the Oregon State Supreme court will set a date for oral arguments.

Sutherland Business Building Destroyed

Sutherland — (U.P.) — Fire last night destroyed the Sam Robinson Building Supply Co. firm, largest business of its kind in Sutherland.

State Democratic Chief Draws Blast For Harriman Stand

Howard Morgan Lists Liabilities

Portland — (U.P.) — Oregon Democratic Chairman Howard Morgan today drew stinging rebuttals from fellow Democrats angered over his criticism of Gov. Averill Harriman's presidential candidacy.

In a mimeographed handout to the Portland press, Morgan affirmed his support of Adlai Stevenson for the Democratic nomination for president and his opposition to New York Gov. Harriman who, Morgan asserted, would be a weak candidate beset with liabilities. Chief liability listed by Morgan was Harriman's appointment of Tammany Leader Carmine DeSapio as New York secretary of state.

That, he said, "would be a hard thing to sell voters west of the Hudson river, and maybe east of that river as well."

Would Route Money

Morgan asserted that the Tammany leader would swing the nomination to Harriman by routing Harriman and Tammany money to Sen. Estes Kefauver to finance bitter primary fights with Adlai Stevenson in the hope of hurting both.

Morgan's statement continued, "Harriman will remain aloof from these contests as he has already announced, and the eastern bosses will try to sweep up the pieces and hand them to Harriman at the convention."

DeSapio told the Portland Oregonian by telephone in San Francisco last night, that the statement was "too ridiculous to deny." He said it is "surprising that such an irresponsible, irrational statement could emanate from a supposed state leader of our party."

Cautious Comments

Other Oregon Democrats commented with caution. Monroe Sweetland, national committee man, said "anything I have to say about Chairman Morgan's attack upon Gov. Harriman and Sen. Kefauver will be said privately to Mr. Morgan and Oregon Democrats, not to the press and radio."

National Committeewoman Mrs. Lillian Burton said "It's a typical Morgan letter."

Morgan called his statement a "candid appraisal" issued in an unofficial capacity and said it was not to be construed as a personal attack. He mentioned Harriman's long career in public service but declared flatly, "Mr. Harriman is too old."

Morgan said that if the New York governor were nominated and elected he would be the oldest first term president in history.

"Mr. Eisenhower's illness has made it extremely unlikely that such an enterprise will succeed next year," Morgan wrote.

Critical of Statement

Morgan was also critical of Harriman's statement that he is not obliged to support Stevenson, disavowing his earlier announcement that he was "for Adlai Stevenson." Morgan asserted Harriman's switch was based on President Eisenhower's apparent removal from the presidential race and has cast doubt on Harriman's "political integrity."

Replying today to DeSapio's outburst, Morgan said "I can only reply that Harriman is not the leader of, but is led by, Tammany Hall."

Wendell Wyatt, state Republican, issued a statement in which he said, "Oregonians who so wholeheartedly supported Dwight Eisenhower for the presidency in 1952 should view with alarm this fight of the vultures at the first sign of the President's illness."

He said, "We do not intend to argue with Howard Morgan regarding Harriman's qualifications. No doubt he is right."

Margaret Dines With Townsend; Britain Buzzing

London — (U.P.) — Princess Margaret went to dinner at Windsor with RAF Group Capt. Peter Townsend tonight, giving open encouragement to the expectation that they are going to marry.

However, no official steps had been taken. Clarence House, where the Princess is staying, said officially tonight that no announcement concerning Princess Margaret's personal future is presently contemplated.

The lovely young Princess, dressed all in white, sped in a royal black limousine from London to Windsor accompanied only by her youthful lady-in-waiting, Iris Peake.

Townsend had driven away from London earlier for a week end at the Windsor country estate of Mrs. John Wills, Margaret's cousin and their confidante in the royal romance that has set Britain buzzing with marriage rumors.

Then, at nightfall, Margaret and Queen Mother Elizabeth slipped out the back door of Clarence House and sped away into the darkness.

Somewhere along the way, the Queen Mother apparently was dropped off and Margaret proceeded to Windsor with her lone companion.

RALPH E. SWEENEY
Funeral Services Monday

Ralph E. Sweeney, Longtime County Treasurer, Dies

Ralph Ernest Sweeney, 76, Jackson county treasurer for 18 years, died this morning at his home at 1125 West Main st., after a lengthy illness.

Mr. Sweeney early this month resigned as county treasurer, a position he had held since 1937. He had been prominent in Oregon Masonic activities for many years.

Born Aug. 28, 1879, at Chilhowee, Mo., Mr. Sweeney was married Oct. 29, 1905 to Grace McElwee.

He was in the banking business in Chilhowee and Joplin, Mo., and at Baxter Springs, Kan., before moving to Medford, and served as teller and assistant cashier of the First National bank of Medford from 1924 to 1936, when he was elected county treasurer.

Mr. Sweeney was a past president of Southern Oregon chapter, Sons of the American Revolution. In Masonic organizations, he was past master and past grand master of the Grand Council of Oregon, past grand commander of the Grand Commandery of Oregon, a member of Table Rock Council of Royal and Select Masters, past eminent commander of Malta Commandery and past eminent grand junior warden of the Grand Commandery of Oregon, and a member of Hillah temple of the Shrine, having served as a trustee of the temple for many years.

Was Democratic Leader

He was a member of the Grange and of the Presbyterian church. He had been active in Democratic party affairs in Jackson county for many years.

Funeral services will be held Monday at 1:30 p.m. at the First Presbyterian church, with Dr. D. Kirkland West officiating. Interment will take place in Siskiyou Memorial park. Peril funeral home is in charge of arrangements.

The body will lie in state at the funeral home from Saturday until Monday morning. Friends may call to pay their respects.

Patterson Suggests Use of Sales Tax

Portland — (U.P.) — Gov. Paul Patterson yesterday suggested a sales tax as a means of meeting the increase cost of government services in Oregon, but quickly added initiative for such a program should come from the people.

Patterson told members of the Multnomah County Schoolmasters association that the "big concern at the state level today is to get the money with which to provide an education for the children of Oregon."

The governor said the Legislature found it necessary to increase income taxes at its last session, "All government services are going to increase and I don't feel that we can withdraw those services which the people feel we need," he said.

Margaret's swift night ride in a curtained car seemed to be an obvious act of faith designed to show the British people and all the world her feeling for the divorced group captain.

It was generally believed from her conduct over the last two days that an engagement announcement is imminent.

With no official guidance, the press and public were swept with speculation that the reported royal romance soon would end in marriage.

The royal family deliberately stood aside and said nothing. But a statement was believed due soon.

The news spread like wildfire after Townsend's call on Margaret last night at Clarence House. It was a move seemingly calculated to prepare the people for a royal wedding announcement.

Away For Week End

The morning newspaper headlines brought crowds of curious to stand and stare outside Clarence House and the building at No. 19 Lowndes Square where Townsend stayed.

When Townsend emerged at 2:50 p.m., eight policemen held back the staring, interested throng. Most were women and some called, "Good Luck." Grave and unsmiling, he said, "Thank you."

But the 40-year-old hero pilot dodged reporters' questions, maintaining that "I cannot say anything."

Five Sentenced In District Court

Three young men and two girls were fined and received jail sentences yesterday in district court when they all pleaded guilty to disorderly conduct.

George Edward Gunter, 20, of route 2, box 644, Central Point, was fined $40 and costs and sentenced to 90 days in jail. His jail sentence was not suspended because of five previous convictions.

All five were arrested by Medford police at 330 North Holly st. about 9:15 a.m. yesterday. Police said they had received complaints of loud parties at the address, and were making a routine inquiry concerning the whereabouts of one of the men.

Canyonville Pioneer Lost on Deer Hunt

Canyonville — (U.P.) — An 82-year-old pioneer of the Canyonville area was listed as missing today in the rugged Devils Flat area of southern Oregon and search parties equipped with mobile radio equipment and airplanes launched an all-out effort to find him.

Ed Hamlin became separated from his hunting party late yesterday and first searchers were called at 9 p.m. Early today, members of the Douglas County Sheriff's posse, Douglas Forest Protective Association, U.S. Forest Service and Oregon State Police were checking the Devils Flat, Devils Knob and Cedar Springs area for the missing man.

Hamlin was town marshal in Canyonville for many years and had himself conducted searches for persons lost in Devils Flat. He was warmly dressed when last seen yesterday and well acquainted with the area. Canyonville foot searchers were headed by his son, John Hamlin.

Aircraft from the air search and rescue service was to join the hunt as soon as fog lifted from the mountainous area this morning.

Matthews Fined $50 In District Court

Ralph Bernard Matthews, Evergreen Bus lines, this morning was fined $50 and court costs in district court on a charge of hiring an unlicensed chauffeur.

Acting District Judge George W. Rode withheld execution of the sentence until Matthews' attorney reaches a decision concerning an appeal.

Matthews was charged with hiring Elbert Ray Young, 512 Pennsylvania ave., driver of a bus involved in an accident Sept. 15 in which one man was killed and 16 people were injured.
