Pickin' Pears News and Notes From Camp White

By BILL HURN

The kick-off on Bowling came to Camp White with the opening of the newly installed four-lane alleys Oct. 7. As a warm-up, the film "America Bowls" was run and words of welcome and formal presentation were given by E. K. Ricker, manager. There were special matches, in which Ricker was pitted against Section Leader Martin of Section 1, and Domiciliary Officer R. H. Ruffin met Section A. Leader Weimer. While these gentlemen can hardly be considered as "scratch" bowlers just yet, low handicap ratings may be expected from the interest and eagerness exhibited.

The 50-odd members in attendance enjoyed an afternoon of open bowling at the close of the featured matches.

Arthur Mick, recreation technician, supervises bowling activities from 2 p.m. on each day.

Arthur Medinuss, quartermaster of VFW 1, has announced an anniversary party honoring the ladies auxiliary of the unit, to be held Wednesday, Oct. 19, in Vets Hall at 8 p.m. Games and a luncheon are scheduled. As a booking for the following week, Tommy Thompson reports that on Oct. 26 in VFW Hall at 7:30 p.m. a teacher-pupil demonstration will be held. Groups from the different schools of Medford will be present.

The annual VAVS orientation and indoctrination course meeting was held at the Medford Elks temple Monday evening, Oct. 10, with 85 present. A panel from Camp White was headed by Manager Ricker with Frank J. Glonning, chief of special class rank to Doug James and Marvin Frazier; second class to Ernie Bolz, Mike Cox and Ray Wallace; and merit badges to Pete Overholt, Jimmy Floyd, Jim Scott and Henry Scott. Year pins and perfect attendance pins were presented to other troop members who had earned them. Ray Harrison was chairman of the court, and Mr. Haggard was the clerk.

services, as chairman and moderator. The seminar covered general administration matters. Manager Ricker and Assistant Manager Denning, Domiciliary Officer Ruffin, Mr. Heitkemper of personnel, Mr. Diment of contact and Chaplains Feller and Eskay led the discussions and floor questions.

The medical clinic was discussed by Dr. Earhart and Mrs. Guy. Herbert Daniels, social service chief, covered his field and Fred Pramann, chief of corrective therapy, led the discussion on rehabilitation and physical medicine.

The VAVS and special service panel was headed by Mr. Glonning. Under his section, Librarian Boyles on library service, recreation activities by Mr. Girard and development of arts and crafts features by Ralph Ash brought the meeting to a conclusion.

Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the theater, the Eve Prentice Accordion band gave its opening concert of the winter season. The one hour concert, by 35 student was warmly greeted.

Mrs. Prentice announced her second presentation of Camp White will be Nov. 14 with the accordiana group from Rogue River academy, the Adventist school near Medford.
