

Kefauver Uncertain On President Race

Washington — (U.P.) — Sen. Estes Kefauver says he has not made up his mind whether he will run for president in 1956.

The Tennessee Democrat issued a mimeographed statement Monday saying he wants to consult "a number of Democratic leaders in various parts of the country."

Kefauver said he would decide and announce his decision within a "reasonable" time. But he indicated that he was in no hurry.

He told newsmen his decision would not be materially influenced by similar decisions to be made by President Eisenhower and Democrat Adlai E. Stevenson.

Stevenson was in New York today for a conference with Sen. Herbert H. Lehman (D-N.Y.), a supporter of Stevenson and a possible holdout if the New York delegation pledged to Gov. Averell Harriman. A spokesman for Lehman said the senator may have something to say about the Democratic presidential nomination.

British Sailors View Soviet Construction

Leningrad — (U.P.) — British sailors aboard the aircraft carrier Triumph got a look at new Soviet naval construction Monday despite Russian efforts to prevent it.

The ship, ending a goodwill visit had been scheduled to leave in pre-dawn darkness at the request of the Soviets to prevent the British from seeing the Neva shipyards.

But a gale came up and forced cancellation on the Soviet security measures and the Triumph passed the shipyard in the full light of day.

Moscow Buzzes Over Western Movie Film

Moscow — (U.P.) — Moscow was buzzing today over its first world premier of a Western film since the Communist revolution.

Rene Clair's French film "Great Maneuvers" starring Gerard Philipe and Michele Morgan, was shown at the Sovcinema club for the first time Monday night. Leading Soviet actors, directors and writers attended and warmly applauded the movie.

Tickets for the performance, first of a series of French films to be shown here, were at a premium. Scalpers got as much as eight times the normal price of admission.

South Offered Differing Roads

Point Clear, Ala. — (U.P.) — Sharply differing roads for the South in the 1956 presidential race were offered today at the 21st annual Southern Governors conference.

Republican Gov. Theodore McKeldin of Maryland said the GOP with or without President Eisenhower can again lure the Southern vote.

Gov. George Bell Timmerman Jr., of South Carolina, enraged over a "trend by both parties" away from constitutional government, predicted a third party movement.

Jail Escapee Returns With Split Trousers

Leicester, England — (U.P.) — The bell jangled at the front door of Leicester prison Monday night and a guard opened it to welcome Dennis Anson, 25. Anson, who had been serving a nine months larceny sentence, had escaped earlier in the day but returned voluntarily because "I split my trousers while climbing over a wall."

chief executive at 35, vowed a solid-South return to the Democratic fold.

Presidential politics appeared to be uppermost on the minds of most of the 16 governors who arrived Monday night for the conference.

MEDFORD (OREGON) MAIL TRIBUNE—ELEVEN

Brazil Publisher Challenged To Duel

Rio de Janeiro, Brazil — (U.P.) — Paulo Bittencourt, publisher of the Correio de Manha and president of the Inter-American Press association, has been challenged to an "armed duel" by a Brazilian senator his newspaper castigated.

Sen. Jaracy Magalhaes issued the challenge in a speech in the Senate Monday. He proposed the duel be held in Uruguay because such "affairs of honor" are prohibited by Brazilian law.

An editorial in Correio de Manha Sunday denounced Magalhaes as a "low-level demogogue, irresponsible and turn-coat." Magalhaes was a collaborator of the late President Getulio Vargas who committed suicide last year after being ousted by the armed forces. After Vargas' death, he became prominent in the political circles of the new government.
