Prothro Denies California Offer

Corvallis — (U.P.) — Tommy Prothro, head football coach at Oregon State college, is the choice of many Californians to succeed Pappy Waldorf as head football coach at California, Chris Kowitz, sports editor of the Corvallis Gazette-Times, said yesterday.

Prothro denied he had been approached directly or indirectly about the job.

Kowitz said in a signed article that the Southern Seas club, a University of California alumni group in the Los Angeles area, was supporting Prothro for the head coaching job at California. He said the club has gone so far as to nominate a successor to Waldorf and the men they have suggested is Prothro.

Prothro said no such proposition has been made to him. Waldorf has been at California since 1947.
