

Ex-Navy Man Wants To Refund Sailor Pay; Privilege To Serve

Washington—(U.P.)—A proud and somewhat nonplussed Navy sailor told the story today of a World War II veteran who wants to refund his sailor pay out of gratitude to the Navy and the country.

District 6C Calls For Bids on New Grade Buildings

Central Point—Bids for construction of elementary school buildings in Central Point and Gold Hill will be opened Friday, Nov. 4, the board of directors of School District 6 have announced.

Directors discussed revised plans and specifications with Architect Robert J. Keeney earlier this week. The two structures are scheduled for completion by Aug. 1, 1956.

New plans call for concrete block construction in both the 12-room Central Point elementary school and in the four-room unit at Gold Hill. Concrete block also will be used for the multipurpose room at Central Point. The multipurpose room is a combination gymnasium, stage and cafeteria.

Construction bids on original plans were rejected by the directors because bids were too high. Some $350,000 has been approved by voters of the district for construction of the two structures.

GP Firms Form Group To Deal With I.C.C.

Grants Pass—Lumber and plywood shippers of this area have made a decision to form a non-profit corporation to deal more efficiently with the Interstate Commerce commission, the state Public Utilities commission and the Southern Pacific company. The matter of box-car shortages is the particular reason for their decision.

The meeting at which the decision was reached was called by the Grants Pass and Josephine County Chamber of Commerce. Representatives from about 10 companies were at the session. T. J. Hedrick of the Engler-Huson company was chairman.

District Governor Of Lions Speaker

Gold Hill—William L. Miller, district governor of Lions International, spoke on the Lions club as a service club and its value to small communities at a joint dinner meeting of organizations in District 36E recently.

Miller, of Coos Bay, was principal speaker at the meeting of 63 representatives of 12 clubs from Southern Oregon at The Dardanelle in Gold Hill.

The group passed a resolution commending Miller for his service and leadership to Oregon Lions clubs.

Visiting officials present included past district governor Lew Hardin of Grants Pass; deputy district governor William Rohlfing of Grants Pass; and Zone 3 chairman Larry Sheehin of Rogue River.

Clubs represented included Rogue River, Grants Pass, Gold Hill, South Grants Pass, Phoenix, Ashland, Jacksonville, Eagle Point, Central Point, Crater-Medford, Illinois Valley and Coos Bay.

Reserve Program Discussions Set

Representatives of the Army reserve unit here will discuss the new reserve program with interested students and parents at St. Mary's school activities room Monday, Oct. 24, at 2:15 p.m.

The new program entitles high school students between 17 and 18½ to enlist in a reserve unit and finish high school prior to taking six-months active training.

Army reserve officers spoke at Rogue River and Grants Pass yesterday, and are scheduled to discuss the program at Klamath Falls and Malin next Tuesday.

Back Stairs: Apple Sauce for Dessert

BY MERRIMAN SMITH
United Press White House Writer

Denver—(U.P.)—Backstairs at the temporary White House: Fitzsimons Army Hospital is trying a new dinner dessert on President Eisenhower—apple sauce. He's not much of a dessert man when he's feeling well, but apple sauce is not his idea of an entirely ideal after-dinner sweet.

He'd prefer apple pie, but pastry in any quantity is out of the question for the moment. Too many calories.

Anybody know how to make a non-caloric pie?

This promises to be a rather difficult week-end for members of the White House staff and the press corps who have to meet incoming planes bearing important personages from Washington.

Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell Jr. arrives at about 6 a.m. Friday. And Dr. Paul Dudley White, the Boston heart specialist, comes in at about the same hour Saturday morning.

Maj. John S. Eisenhower, the President's son, is flying from Washington aboard the same plane with White Saturday for a brief visit with his mother and father.

Sen. Frank Carlson (R-Kan.) who believes the President and his wife want to retire to their farm at Gettysburg, Pa., after 1956, passed through Denver yesterday. He's a staunch supporter of the President, because he figured the Eisenhower staff was quite pre-occupied with their own business, he did not get in touch with them during his brief stop-over at the airport.

McAuley To Speak At Noma Session

Dr. John D. McAuley, an instructor at Southern Oregon college, will have "The 3 R's" as his subject Monday evening when he will speak to members of Medford chapter, National Office Managers association.

The meeting will be held at the Medford hotel. A social hour will begin at 6:30 p.m., and dinner will be served at 7 p.m. Reservations should be made by Monday noon by calling Mrs. Norma Burroughs, telephone 3-1932.

Teachers of commercial subjects throughout southern Oregon are especially invited to hear Dr. McAuley and attend the dinner session.

Secretary James C. Hagerty must be particularly detailed in describing Mr. Eisenhower's menus.

Hagerty, for instance can't get away with merely saying that a menu includes peas. He must describe them minutely—garden, green, black-eyed, petit pois or whatever other forms taken by the lowly pea. Neither can Hagerty say simply that the President had salad. He must identify the ingredients.

Hagerty incidentally, will be the subject of several upcoming magazine and newspaper articles praising the job he has done in keeping the public informed on the President's illness. The general verdict seems to be that Jim has done an excellent job under trying circumstances.
