Women of First Methodist church have a full calendar of activities scheduled for this week.

Observance of the annual week of prayer and self-denial will begin with a service at 4 p.m. today in room 105 of the church. The service is sponsored by Woman's Society of Christian Service and Wesleyan Service Guilds.

Mrs. J. T. Dixon, in charge of the observance, announces that the following projects, to be benefited by the offering received, will be presented: Bethlehem Centers (community house work) will be given by Mrs. L. B. Pierce; the work in Burma by Miss Annette Gray; India, Mrs. Lionel Guy; Liberia, Mrs. Louise Davis.

Members of Susannah Wesleyan Service guild who will participate in a panel discussion covering the work in Brazil and Korea are Miss Jean Brooks, Miss Marjorie Sandfort, Miss Mary Durham, Miss Mary Vandenberg, Miss Carol Carter, Miss Marjorie Anderson and Miss Nancy Lambo. The service will be opened by Mrs. L. G. Rankin, president of the Woman's Society of Christian Service. Dr. Raymond Balcomb and Dr. J. T. Dixon will assist with the worship service. Mrs. C. R. Adamson is in charge of the music for the afternoon and Mrs. G. L. Rabjohn will sing. Meditations will be led by Mrs. Jessie Minear. Mrs. Dixon especially invites all friends, members, and husbands to the service.

"Women and the Church — Through the Centuries" is the title of the study program for the monthly meeting of Woman's Society of Christian Service in First Methodist Church Tuesday, October 25. Mrs. Harry Meyers, in charge of the day's program, announces that Dr. J. Thomas Dixon will present a sketch of women and their life in Bible times; Mrs. Anne Gorby will tell of the part women play in the World Council of Churches in policy making boards of the church, and in the ministry; and Mrs. E. R. Gilstrap will display and explain her collection of paintings of Bible women. Mrs. Ed Hass will lead the Society in the afternoon worship service.

The day's program starts at 10:30 a.m. with a meeting of the prayer group, followed by a business session at 11 a.m. Luncheon served at 12:30 by Circle 6, and the program at 1:30 p.m. There is a free nursery for preschool children and all friends and interested persons are invited to attend.

The second session of the interdenominational study class on "Indian Americans" will meet at 9:30 a.m. Monday, October 24 in Room 105 of First Methodist church. Study topics for the day, according to Mrs. Jessie Minear, instructor, will be "Education of the Indian American" presented by Mrs. L. B. Pierce, vice-president of the Woman's Society of Christian Service; and "Health Conditions of the Indian American" pictured by Mrs. Lee Van Ausdall.

The purpose of this study group is to arouse in the members a Christian commitment to help eliminate from the life of Indian Americans those elements that deface the picture of their life; paganism and secularism, extreme poverty, illiteracy, ignorance of health and sanitation, limited economic resources, social disorganization, and public apathy to these conditions. All interested persons are cordially invited to attend this meeting.

Women Receive Appointments From Red Cross

Two Medford women have been appointed to important posts in the Red Cross program. Mrs. John S. Day was re-elected for a three-year term on the advisory council of the Pacific area by E. Roland Harriman, national chairman of the Red Cross. Mrs. Frank Fairweather has been named volunteer field consultant to work with Southern Oregon chapters.

Mrs. Day attended a semi-annual meeting of the area advisory council held October 14 and 15 in San Francisco.

News of Mrs. Fairweather's appointment was received also from Pacific Area headquarters in San Francisco.

Mrs. Fairweather received her appointment in recognition of her years of training and service as a volunteer in particular in the field of home service. She will leave November 14 to attend a training class relating to her specific duties. The orientation will be given in area headquarters, San Francisco.

At the session attended by Mrs. Day, a report was given regarding the assistance to northeastern flood victims, and other matters of general interest to the Red Cross. The members of the advisory council serve as liaisons between chapters and the volunteer board of governors which directs the activities of the national organization. They also are advisory to the manager of the Pacific area.

Altrusa to Meet At Young Home; Guest Entertained

Altrusa club of Medford will hold a social and business meeting Thursday, October 27, at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Walter Young. Mrs. Maude Codding, president and Miss Myrta Otterdale, corresponding secretary, will serve as hostesses for the evening.

Mrs. Virginia Sherwood, chairman of public affairs will be in charge of the program.

Mrs. Codding has called a meeting of the executive board for Monday, October 24, at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Miss Grace Smith.

A guest at the October 13 dinner meeting of the club was Mrs. Helen Snyder, field representative from the national office of Civic Music association who is an Altrusa member from the Galesburg, Ill. club. Mrs. Snyder, in Medford to assist Jackson County Civic Music association in its annual campaign, spoke of her interesting experiences traveling all over the country and the different personalities of the artists with whom she deals.

Mrs. George Flanagan, guest speaker for the evening, showed colored slides of her families' recent trip through Europe, interpreting each picture with stories of the family life, economic conditions and philosophy of living of the many families in Germany whom the Flanagans visited. Because these people lived in small villages and rural communities, many pictures showed parts of Germany not usually seen by tourists and gave a vivid picture of the reconstruction which has taken place since the war.
