Church Women Ask Donations For World Community Day

All church women of the Rogue River Valley are asked by Medford Council of Church Women to prepare now for the World Community day to be observed Friday, November 4, beginning at 10 a. m. at St. Marks Episcopal church. The morning session will be devoted to business, and election of officers for the coming year, in the afternoon the installation of officers and the program "Give Us This Day our Daily Bread" will be presented by Mrs. Wilbur Arnold.

Money and "parcels for peace" were given last year on the day, and letters received direct from misplaced families have expressed their appreciation. One mother wrote that she had white sheets on her beds, the first in ten years, which came from the "parcels for peace." Another family wrote they were able to now have furniture in their home because of money received from the offering taken in America on World Community day.

Money also went last year to aid in resettling refugee farm families in Austria, on abandoned farms in southern France, to buy household goods for refugee families being settled in a new refugee village in the Greek mountains, also to rehabilitate Chinese refugees in Hong Kong and to train families for resettlement in marginal farm land.

This year clothing, food and money are again needed to "help the helpless victims of war and revolution who can never be self-supporting, to encourage self-respect among young men fleeing from behind the Iron Curtain as they look for work, and to help men and women build homes in new and strange communities," the council states.

"This work continues the Christian Women's action program for lasting peace which calls for support of the United Nations and its specialized agencies," according to the council.

Women are asked to take parcels for Pakistan, India, Okinawa and Korea. It is stated that clothing for boys 16 years and older is badly needed, particularly suits and overcoats, yardage of denim and sheeting for refugee mothers to make into work clothes. Three yards of material are needed to make a pair of pants or men's trousers. Parents are asked to encourage their children to share in giving to the unfortunate ones in other lands by bringing their good outgrown clothes for the little boys and girls.

The offering on World Community day will also help to send food for the hungry and needy and thus support the Church World Service program of "share our surplus." In French West Africa large numbers of people must be fed immediately on an emergency basis. Arab refugees need food, clothing and medicine. In the mountain villages of Greece and Austria men are learning to farm the marginal lands. In Japan, money is needed to train teachers to help disabled and handicapped men and women to earn a living.

Any interested person may take articles or an offering to St. Mark's church on November 4.

Each woman attending is asked to prepare her own box lunch and a hot drink will be served by the host church.

Children to Collect Coins For UNICEF

Children of Medford are being asked to share their Halloween "trick or treat" this year by collecting funds for UNICEF, the United Nations children's fund. The project is being organized by Medford Camp Fire Girls, but all children of the city are urged to participate.

Containers for coins, identification stickers and other material will be available at Washington, Lincoln, Roosevelt and Jackson elementary schools beginning at 6 p. m. on Halloween, October 31. Children are asked to pick up their material at the closest school to their home. Collections are to be returned to the same schools after a three-hour period.

Each group of not more than six children must be accompanied by an adult, it is stressed.

Last Halloween children of the city collected clothing, soap and similar articles but this year's collection is to be limited to coins. Those in charge state that every dollar from the United Nation's Children fund is matched by the country receiving aid.

When children turn their collections in at the school buildings, they will be served refreshments. It is stated that children attending Jefferson school are to work through Washington and turn in their collections at that building. Since Roosevelt school is holding a carnival that evening, they will accept coins but no refreshments are to be served.

"Through this Halloween project the children of our town may share with children all over the world," a Camp Fire leader stated. "The coins you give will mean glasses of milk for a little child in Korea, bowls of rice for a child in India, or relief from disease for a child in Burma."

Eagle Point PTA Announces Meeting

Eagle Point—Dr. John Macaulay of Southern Oregon college will speak at a meeting of Eagle Point Elementary School Parent-Teacher association to be held Tuesday, October 25 at 8 p. m. in the high school library.

A cake sale will be held to raise money to start a music library for the Mothersingers.

Child care will be provided by Camp Fire Girls and refreshments will be served by mothers of children in the third grade.

Speaker Urges Fuller Use of X-Ray Centers

Methods for getting fullest use from the county's two permanent chest x-ray centers were discussed Thursday at the general meeting of the Jackson County Public Health association. Dr. Ambrose Churchill, tuberculosis consultant for the state board of health, explained to the group the present tuberculosis situation in the state and said there was a great need to encourage more chest x-rays in persons 45 years of age and older, where higher TB and chest pathology are found.

Dr. Churchill also stated that more persons die of tuberculosis than of polio and recommended that the 1500 babies expected to be born in Oregon next year be protected through skin tests of their families, followed with chest x-rays where needed.

Mrs. Allan Perry, program chairman, introduced the speaker and Mrs. William Knips served coffee.

The x-ray unit at Sacred Heart hospital is open to the public from 2 to 5 p. m., it was said, with groups of over 20 persons invited to make arrangements for special evening openings if desired.

Butte Falls Club Meets in Medford At Carson Home

Butte Falls — The October meeting of Butte Falls Federated Garden club was held at the home of Mrs. Mattie Carson, a member who recently moved to Medford. Dessert luncheon was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Mary G. Porter.

Guests included Mrs. Otto Nagel of Eagle Point, Mrs. R. T. Nichol, Mrs. H. L. Smith and Mrs. Mary G. Porter of Medford and Mrs. L. C. Richman, Butte Falls.

Mrs. Nichol spoke to the club on "Why We Go To Garden Club." Members attend garden clubs for inspiration, association and participation, the speaker said. "We must remember that the common ground upon which we meet is the field of horticulture, which is as broad as we wish to make it," she said.

Mrs. N. B. Stoddard spoke about birds. Most gardeners think of birds as leading carefree, happy lives, he said, adding "it comes as something of a shock to realize that every one of them, except possibly some of the birds of prey and other large kinds, is on the alert every moment of its waking hours to dodge the stroke of sudden death."

The next regular meeting will be held in the city hall and will be an all day session to make candles and dried arrangements for winter sale. The date is November 15.
