Socialist Leader To Be Speaker For Local Club

The speaker headed the Socialist party in this country for a quarter of a century and has been its standard bearer as presidential candidate no less than six times.

Speaking on our chances for peace, the former presidential candidate believes the situation is not altogether hopeless. "But short of a universal agreement on controlled disarmament I would have very little hope for the world unless such agreement comes during the next generation."

A "young 70" years of age, the tall, slim and active socialist party head says he continues to carry on the battle for world peace. He admits frankly that he doesn't believe in unilateral disarmament. "When you live in a house with madmen you have to behave like a madman yourself." But he holds to the theory that universally controlled disarmament can bring world peace.

In spite of the fact he has always been a well-beaten candidate in his quest for the nation's highest office, political opponents of the talented socialist have always expressed a high regard for his integrity and sincerity.

Reservations for the dinner are to be made by members no later than Saturday, October 29, and are to be sent to the secretary, Mrs. O. A. Eden, 211 Genesee street.
