DAR Regent Visits Here; Reviews Accomplishments

Crater Lake chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, entertained the state regent of DAR, Mrs. Albert H. Powers, at a luncheon Thursday.
The event was held at the home of Mrs. Alton M. Anderson.

Mrs. Powers, here on an official visit to the chapter, spoke of accomplishments of the national and state societies in fostering good citizenship, especially in the educational field.

She pointed out that Oregon is fourth in per capita spending in the educational field. She also explained that teaching American history is a required subject in all the schools and Crater Lake chapter has been especially active in fostering interest in history.

Some 20 years ago, Mrs. Powers stated, the chapter gave cash awards to students of McLoughlin Junior High school who were outstanding in this subject and in 1933 the chapter presented a silver plaque on which the names of three students are engraved each year. The society voted to purchase another such plaque for the new Hedrick Junior school.

Mrs. Powers said that Constitution week was one of special interest to the DAR as the members had urged President Dwight D. Eisenhower to designate September 17 through 23 as a tribute to the signing of the document.

Congress passed a resolution naming September 17 as Citizenship day and the national society felt the need to have some references to the Constitution. Through the DAR's efforts all governors and many city officials proclaimed Constitution week.
