New York (U.P.)—Prices on the Stock Exchange turned soft in the last hour of dealings, wiping out almost all the gains accrued earlier in the session. Trading was moderately active.

Bethlehem Steel, whose directors met after the market close to announce the first nine months earnings and at the same time will take dividend action, led the selloff. At one time, it slumped more than three points. It rallied just before the closing gong, but the stock was still well under yesterday's close.

Dow-Jones Averages

Dow-Jones final stock averages: 30 industrials 453.77 off 1.35, 20 rails 149.85 off 0.52, 15 utilities 62.94 up 0.15, 65 stocks 161.36 off 0.48.

Sales today were about 1,830,000 compared with 1,660,000 yesterday.
