

Red Raiders Pointing for OTI Struggle

Ashland — Southern Oregon college is pointing this week for a conference victory over Oregon Tech to keep in the running for the Oregon Collegiate conference title.

The Red Raiders, who downed Portland State 20-6 and lost to Eastern Oregon 20-21 in previous conference competition, must defeat OTI this week end and Oregon college on November 12, to gain a tie for the OCC crown.

Al Akins' gridders will not be at full strength for the contest with the Owls at Klamath Falls, but will be much stronger than for last week's Western Washington game, which they played minus seven regulars.

Five of the seven who missed the WWCE game will be back for competition against the Oregon Tech team. Bill Seymour, accurate passing quarterback who missed the Bellingham contest with a badly bruised arm, will again be in the starting lineup, as will fullback Don Korns, halfback Ted Tenney, halfback Bill Rush, and tackle Al Sodaro.

Still on the injury list, however, are Ralph Clarno, the Raiders' leading ground-gainer, with a neck and shoulder injury, and end Walt McCoy, who is possibly out for the remainder of the year with a bad knee.

The Red Raiders also have a revenge incentive this year, taking 89 to 0 and 40 to 19 shellackings from the Owls in the last two contests.

Probable starting lineup for the OTI game includes ends Hank Smith and Dick Smith, tackles Al Sodaro and Herb Coley, guards Chuck Romine and Don Dickson, center Tom Quinowski, quarterback Seymour, halfbacks Tenney and Rush, and fullback Korns.

OSC Still Faces Injury Problem

College Grid Attendance Shows 4.4 Per Cent Boost

By CARL LUNDQUIST

New York — (U.P.) — College football attendance has shown an increase of 4.4 per cent so far this season with the biggest gains being registered in the Rocky mountains and the Southwest, the United Press annual mid-season survey revealed today.

Tabulations of home crowds from 109 colleges showed a total of 7,264,475 fans have attended 297 games so far this year as compared with 6,957,435 fans who witnessed the identical number of home games a year ago.

Every section of the country showed an increase except the East and the Midlands. In the East, where heavy rains that reached flood proportions threw something of a damper on college football, attendance was off by 18.0 per cent, while the Midlands showed a decrease of 5.2 per cent.

Spectacular Rockies Increase

In the Rockies, where attendance showed a spectacular 17.6 increase in 1954, the crowds have kept growing larger so that there is an 18.0 increase so far this season over last year. The

Steelhead Luck Slows on Middle Section of Rogue

Portland — (U.P.) — The weekly report on fishing conditions prepared by the Oregon Game Commission:

SOUTHWEST: Salmon angling in Coquille river is slow to good. Salmon angling in both forks of Coos river is fair. Striped bass angling in Ithmus slough is fair to good.

Steelhead fishing on the middle section of the Rogue river has slowed down, but occasional good catches continue to be made in the Galice area. Trolling hotshots below Galice is a good producer, but single eggs or cluster eggs are the only lure that will produce catches from Hellsgate to Grants Pass.

Salmon angling in Tenmile lake and outlets is fair to good. The Umpqua river watershed closes October 31 for salmon not less than 20 inches in length except the main Umpqua river below highway 38 bridge at Scottsburg. Smith river below the falls and all other tidewater areas. A few fish are still being caught in the Umpqua and forks areas, but angling is slow elsewhere.

Quail Hunt Conditions Good Here

Portland — (U.P.) — The weekly report on hunting conditions prepared by the Oregon Game Commission:

SOUTHWEST: Elk hunting prospects fair to good in Coos county; waterfowl hunting will be fair to poor; quail shooting good in Jackson and Josephine counties; pheasant hunting best for those with dogs; waterfowl numbers low; Douglas county expected to be poor for pheasants.

CENTRAL: Wasco, Sherman and Jefferson counties fair for pheasant; quail hunting good in Jefferson county; duck and goose hunting along Columbia river only fair; pheasant hunting in Crook and Deschutes counties poor; quail prospects good; upper Deschutes River should be fair for waterfowl hunting.

NORTHEAST: Pheasant hunting slow in Umatilla county; best areas near Athens, upper Widgeon creek, upper Umatilla river and higher wheat fields; Morrow county fair for pheasants; quail numerous in Morrow and Wheeler counties; Union and Baker counties poor for pheasants; Hungarian partridge hunting has been poor; Umatilla county waterfowl hunting poor except Umatilla area; Elk hunting will be only fair unless new snow falls; the Canyon creek archery is closed during elk season.

SOUTHEAST: Summer lake management area says on opening day 1700 hunters checked in with success of 55 ducks and geese per hunter; outlook continues good for geese; lots of ducks in area; pheasant hunting fair to good; some 70,000 geese in Warner valley area but few ducks reported; Malheur county fair for pheasant as is Harney county.

NORTHWEST: Clatsop county prospects fair for elk; waterfowl hunting good on coastal bays and tideland areas; pheasants still plentiful in north Willamette valley but dogs needed to flush them; waterfowl hunting poor.
