

Top Elevens Matched in Prep Games

By UNITED PRESS

Four games matching teams ranked among the first 11 in the state top tonight's Oregon high school football agenda as more teams seek to earn coveted playoff berths.

Top-ranked Marshfield, a heavy favorite in District 5, steps out of league play and meets eighth-ranked Prineville at Prineville. The Golden Pirates of Coos Bay rank as favorites, but the Cowboys will be out for an upset.

Second-ranked Gresham has a tough District 3 tussle with Central Catholic, a team tied with Prineville for eighth-place in the coaches' poll.

Hillsboro, which has a perfect 7-0 record and is ranked 6th in the state, travels to McMinnville for a showdown battle in district 4. McMinnville is unbeaten in league play and ranks 10th.

Corvallis, ranked fifth, collides with South Salem in a game the 11th-ranked Spartans need to keep alive their hopes for the district 8 crown. Corvallis can assure itself of a tie by a win.

Other teams in the top echelon have it easier. Pendleton, ranked third, is expected to dispose of Baker and virtually assure itself of the district 7 crown. Fourth-ranked Jefferson of Portland, already in the playoffs, along with Washington, meets Benson. Vale, the only A-2 team besides Prineville in the top 10, puts its 7th place position on the line against Nyssa. Ontario, Vale's chief rival in eastern Oregon for A-2 honors, plays Payette, Ida.

In Southern Oregon, Grants Pass and Klamath Falls collide in a game both need to win to stay in the district 6 title picture. Medford is heavily favored over Ashland.

Junction City and St. Helens, unbeaten in A-2 play, have tough assignments. Junction City meets Willamette and St. Helens plays Seaside.

Death Comes Quietly For Clark Griffith

By ERNEST BARCELLA
United Press Correspondent
Washington — (U.P.) — A bereaved baseball world today mourned the death of one of the last of its elder statesmen—Clark Griffith, owner-president of the Washington Senators and co-founder of the American league.

Death came quietly to the 85-year-old Griffith. His personal physician, Dr. George A. Resta, said the beloved "Old Fox" of baseball died in his sleep at 9:40 p.m. (EDT) Thursday night.

For five days Griffith had waged an up-and-down fight against a massive stomach hemorrhage and other complications. Doctors despaired of his life last Sunday, but he rallied and told his family on Wednesday that he intended to be out of the hospital by Nov. 20—his 86th birthday.

But Griffith's gallant heart finally gave out.

Only his son, Calvin, and Resta were at the bedside when the end came. Other members of the family had not kept a constant vigil because Griffith had appeared to be improving.

Hospitalized Oct. 19

Griffith was hospitalized Oct. 19 for treatment of neuritis. Three days later he was stricken with a massive stomach hemorrhage. Then he developed lung congestion and doctors feared he was near death.

But he rallied, only to suffer a relapse and die.

Griffith's death removed from the active baseball scene the last of the game's great big league pioneers. It marked the end of an era and a fabulous career that was dedicated completely to the national pastime.

He devoted 69 of his nearly 86 years to baseball—as a pitcher, manager, owner and unofficial "goodwill ambassador" for the game.

It was he who brought baseball into the White House and who personally interceded with two presidents—Woodrow Wilson and Franklin D. Roosevelt—to win a "green light" for baseball during the two world wars. And it was Griffith who not only brought presidents out to the ball game, but persuaded them to throw out the ceremonial first ball—a custom he inaugurated with William Howard Taft.

Griffith died before he could fulfill his greatest yearning—just one more pennant for his Senators, who finished last in 1955. Washington has not won a pennant since the second of Griffith's two "boy wonder" managers—Joe Cronin—piloted the team to the American league championship in 1933. Griffith's original "boy wonder" manager—Bucky Harris—master-minded the Senators to their first pennant and world championship in 1924 and a second successive American league pennant in 1925.

Record Cash Trade

Griffith was one of baseball's shrewdest traders. His biggest deal—which still stands as a record cash transaction for one player—came in 1934 when he sold his son-in-law Joe Cronin to the Boston Red Sox for $250,000 cash and one player.

Although famed as a trader and owner, Griffith immortalized in baseball's "Hall of Fame" at Cooperstown, N.Y., for his pitching greatness.

Griffith, who broke into organized baseball in Bloomington, Ill., at the age of 17, went on to establish a record, which ranks him among the 12 top major league pitchers of all time.

In 17 full seasons of big league pitching, starting in 1891, he won 237 games and lost 149.

Gonsalves Picked To Subdue Perez

New York — (U.P.) — Slick-boxing Johnny Gonsalves of Oakland, Calif., who holds a decision over lightweight champion Wallace (Bud) Smith, is favored at 7½ to 5 to halt the budding lightweight career of Lulu Perez tonight in a TV-radio 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden.

Gonsalves, ninth ranking contender for Smith's 135-pound crown is a lighter puncher than Perez but is picked on his good left jab, sneaker right, experience, and defensive skill.

Part of Oakland Johnny's experience was a decision over Smith last year. That was before Smith won the lightweight title. They met again this year and fought to a draw, also before Smith's accession to the crown.

Perez, 22-year-old speed merchant from Brooklyn, is a former featherweight contender and tonight's clash marks only his second appearance as a lightweight.

Braves Intend to Have Pitchers Ready Early

Milwaukee, Wis. — (U.P.) —

Charlie Grimm said today his Milwaukee Braves would endeavor to get the jump on the 1956 National League pennant race by getting the pitchers in shape early.

The Braves manager declined to comment specifically on the big start made by the Brooklyn Dodgers this year. But he left little doubt what his intentions were for his second place Braves.

"Our ball club, in general, did not get off to a good start the last two years," Grimm said.

Solons Put Frietas Out; Coach Goes

Sacramento, Calif. — (U.P.) — The Sacramento Solons, who finished last in the Pacific Coast League this year, were looking for the "best available" manager today to replace Tony Freitas.

Freitas, who took over as manager in 1954, and Coach Dolph Camilli, were handed their outright release yesterday, although Solon president Fred David said both might remain with the club in some capacity.

David said no decision had been made on a new manager, but "we have under consideration several applicants . . . we are looking for the best available."

He said the releases of Freitas and Camilli were effective Nov. 29, but added the firings do "not preclude the possibility of employment of either or both by the Sacramento club in some capacity."

Freitas joined the club when Manager Gene Desautels resigned and Camilli was hired early this year.

KYNE HANDICAP

San Mateo, Calif. — (U.P.) — The $100,000 William P. Kyne Handicap Bay Meadows "share the wealth" race, will be run here Saturday with Arrogate the expected post-time favorite in a probable field of 14 thoroughbreds.
