Washington—Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (Tex.) on the heart attack he suffered earlier this year: "It also taught me to appreciate some things that a busy man sometimes forgets . . . I've found out again that it's pleasant to play dominoes with my two girls . . ."

London—Group Capt. Peter Townsend on his future plans: "I'm not certain, but I shall be returning shortly to Brussels."

New York—The Rev. Alvin Kershaw, pastor of the Holy Trinity church in Oxford, O., on his plans for $32,000 he won on a television quiz program:

"One is a parish project for the resettlement of homeless and refugee people. The other is to help support NAACP litigation in desegregation issues."

Beverly Hills, Calif.—Richard T. Shubert, New York fishing tackle manufacturer, on a jury's ruling that he was within his rights in seeking "an adjustment" of a bill at Ciro's night club which charged him $28 for a bottle of scotch:

"The $28 charge was ridiculous. Justice has been done."

Washington—Sen. Prescott Bush (R-Conn) accusing Senate Democrats of concentrating on "flood politics" rather than on "flood insurance."

"I think it is somewhat unfair to criticize the present administration for not preparing in less than three months a detailed flood insurance program, when the Congress itself . . . has failed to do so with four years to consider the problem."

Evanston, Ill.—Coach Lou Saban on his winless Northwestern football team, which may become the first team to finish a Big Ten season without a victory since 1928:

"All you can do during a season like this is look ahead to the next one."

Republican Poll Shows Confidence In Administration

Washington—(U.P.)—The National Republican Committee reported today that a "grass roots" poll it made gave a vote of confidence — and appreciation — to the Eisenhower administration.

Miss Bertha Adkins, head of the Republican Women's Division, said more than 250,000 persons in 47 states were personally interviewed for the poll. She said the results indicated "gratifying" voter approval of the administration's efforts to maintain peace and prosperity.

Republican state and county vice chairmen undertook the sampling under the title of "Poll Takers of America." Those queried were asked to identify themselves as supporters of Mr. Eisenhower, or Adlai Stevenson or as non-voters in the 1952 election.

Country 'Better Off'

Asked if they thought the country as a whole is better off now than it was three years ago, when Mr. Eisenhower took office, 61.6 of the Eisenhower backers said yes; 4.3 per cent said the country is worse off; and 34.1 said "about the same."

Of the Stevenson supporters, 31.8 per cent voted for better off; 15.9 per cent, for worse off; and 52.2 per cent, for about the same.

On the question of whether they are personally better off, however, the Eisenhower vote

Handicapped Helpers Have Greater Ability

Lockport, N. Y.—(U.P.)—John W. Solotes, credits much of his business success to the above-average ability of his handicapped employees.

Solotes, owner of the Lockport Broom Co., said "my handicapped workers have proven more dependable, honest, and loyal than many others I have known."

Blind Workers Not Employees of State

Salem—(U.P.)—Attorney General Robert Y. Thornton ruled yesterday that blind workers in the Oregon service for the blind in Portland are not state employees.

The commission for the blind asked the opinion. A contention had been raised in behalf of the workers that work done by them in making brooms and other articles was employment by the state such as would entitle them to old age and survivors insurance coverage.

Thornton, in his opinion, said the making of articles by the blind which are sold for their benefit, is not work "for the state or in the service of the state." He ruled it is a state institution supported by taxation and legislative appropriation and can be operated only as a public institution.

was 49 per cent better off; 6.8 per cent worse off; and 44.2 per cent about the same.

The Stevenson vote: 25.1 per cent, better off; 17.1 per cent, worse off; and 57.7 per cent, about the same.

The plant employees include four blind men and a youth with an artificial leg. Three additional blind employees will begin work when new machines are installed.

Solotes said he learned the capabilities of handicapped workers while working in a factory as a youth. Edward Sliker, of Lockport, who is blind, worked with Solotes at that time. Sliker is one of Solotes' present employees. The two men have been working together for 35 years.

NEW OLDSMOBILE — Now on display at Darrell Miller company, 415 South Riverside ave., are new Oldsmobiles for 1956. Shown above is the 1956 Super "88" Holiday sedan four-door hardtop. Dispensing with the center pillar, this model introduces a new concept of two-tone styling. Color separation is maintained by the new chrome side moulding that sweeps from the rear to the front fender opening. Front and rear fender and hood contours are new in the '56 models. Other features of the new models are the 240-horsepower "Rocket" T-350 engine with Jetaway Hydra-Matic transmission.

Have you ever considered the wonder of your bones — some 200 "living" bones ranging from your large, heavy femur in the upper leg to your light, tiny stirrup bone in the middle ear?

A normal, healthy bone is said to be "twice as strong as oak"—and it is among the most durable objects on earth. Because it will not dissolve in water, it may outlast steel or any other metal affected by dampness. In fact, human bones have been found that are nearly a million years old. Animals' bones, much older.

Human bones weigh slightly more than water — some, the spongy bones which contain large amounts of air, actually float.

About two-thirds of the bone is made of mineral matter—es-double process — building up and tearing down—goes on constantly.

In addition, bones serve two extremely important functions. First, the marrow which many bones contain plays an important role in manufacturing red corpuscles for the blood. In the second, the bones are calcium storage vaults. Whenever the calcium supply for blood, nerves and muscles is lower than normal, the body draws on this stored supply. It is particularly useful for pregnant mothers or during malnutrition. Children on poor, milkless diet will have so much calcium taken from this "bank" that their bones will become soft and even crooked. (Released by McClure Newspaper Syndicate)

"Amazing gal, my Amy!"

► The efficient way my Amy whizzes through her housework leaves me dizzy, but proud! Take wood floors, for instance. Some gals spend a backbreaking day scrubbing and waxing. But not Amy! She cleans and waxes them in one easy operation with Bruce Cleaning Wax. It takes only half the time and Bruce does practically all the work. And Amy's friends just rave about our beautiful wood floors. My Amy and her Bruce Cleaning Wax sure outsmart tough floor care problems. And I can't help crowing about them.

► P.S. For lighter waxing on linoleum and wood, Amy uses Bruce Floor Cleaner.
