JACKSONVILLE Ex-Teacher Back From Trip

Jacksonville — Mrs. Daisy Lewis, recently retired Jacksonville school teacher, returned last week after spending seven days in the Hawaiian islands. She was accompanied on the trip by a former student, Mrs. Bertha Bradley, Hornbrook, Calif. They flew by Trans Ocean airlines from Sacramento. While in the islands they stayed at The Reef hotel at Waikiki Beach. Some of the highlights of their trip were a tour by boat of Pearl Harbor, where according to Mrs. Lewis a lot of evidence of the Pearl Harbor bombing still remains; a visit to the Punch Bowl Memorial cemetery with its 37,000 graves; and a tour of the Dole pineapple plant with 50 acres of buildings.

A March of Dimes Coffee Klatch was given last week at the home of Mrs. B. J. Sanford, assisted by Mrs. Ted Hewlett, sponsored by the Royal Neighbors. They took in a total of $25. Last Monday evening the Royal Neighbors met at the home of Mrs. Marie Rasmussen for a bazaar sewing project. The ladies are planning a sale of handmade Christmas gifts, novelties, white elephants and cooked food Dec. 3. The location will be announced later.

Mrs. Jerry Montgomery and son David left Tuesday for a ten day visit in San Diego with her grandmother, Mrs. Liza Ridgeway, and other relatives.

An open house was held at the school Wednesday evening with the new grade school rooms open for inspection and a chance for parents to meet the teachers and get acquainted. A talk by Dr. McCutley was also given on Child Guidance at the PTA meeting, with open house also held at the upper grade division in the old school building.

Mrs. Menno D. Schmidt entertained at a 1 o'clock luncheon on Thursday last week. Her guests were Miss Barbara O'Bryan, Columbus, Miss; Mrs. Verne Johnson, Gold Hill; and Mrs. A. H. Reed, Mrs. Ethel Beams and Lulu Sausberry.

Grant Todd, San Diego, Calif., was a visitor in town last week, calling on many old friends. He is a former resident of Medford.

Mrs. R. E. Darting, Central Point, spent several days in Jacksonville last week at the homes of her daughter, Mrs. Archie Rock, and her granddaughter, Mrs. J. R. Hamaker.

Jacksonville residents were shocked this week to hear of the untimely death of Mrs. Dorothy Mills, wife of D. C. Mills and daughter-in-law of the late

'Granny Mills.' The Mills were former residents of Jacksonville, having lived here for years. They moved to The Dalles a year or so ago. Interment for Mrs. Mills was at the Siskiyou Memorial park Thursday.

The Jacksonville High school carnival held Nov. 4 drew a nice crowd, was well organized and realized a profit of roughly $250 which will be used for various school activities during the year. Miss Joan Fretwell, junior class candidate, was elected queen.

Next important event in the school agenda is a concert to be held at the high school gymnasium Nov. 17 at 8 p.m. The concert will feature the high school chorus, band and soloists under the direction of Leroy Mauroni. A small charge will be made to raise funds for musical activities.

Mr. Newman from the State Employment office in Medford on Wednesday interviewed seniors in regard to aptitude tests taken earlier this fall. The testing program is part of the guidance work being done in the Jacksonville High school, in an attempt to find students best suited for vocational occupations.

While she's casting, eyes are cast in her direction! This fashionable vacationer wears popular cotton Bermuda shorts and teams them with an eye-catching striped cotton knit shirt designed by Smartee. To complete the sports outfit, she wears long white cotton socks.

Many Enjoy Having Others Dependent Upon Them
 Some people enjoy having others depend on them.

Most mothers, for example, like to have their children dependent upon them because it gives them a feeling of self-importance.

A dependent woman appeals to certain men. She inflates his masculine ego by making him appear the strong member of the family and by turning to him for advice and help. It gives him satisfaction, even during courtship, to be with a person who seems to "need" him.

Dependent men, on the other hand, appeal to the maternal instinct in women. While some women may admire men who show they are capable of managing their own lives, others often fall in love with and marry men who "need" them.

While a dependent person may fill a need in the lives of others and serve as a source of ego satisfaction to them, what happens to the dependent person himself?

He may get along well in life for a time. Life may even be easier and less troublesome for him than for others because he always has someone to fall back on.

Will Be Helplessly Lost
 But if the time comes when he has no one to depend upon, he will find himself helplessly lost and bewildered. Not only must he solve his own problems then, but he must rely upon himself for companionship.

Never having learned to be self-sufficient and independent, he may find loneliness unbearable.

Hard: "You hear people referring to others sometimes as hard or hard-boiled. Just what do they mean?" Mrs. W.W.V.

(A) When a person is called hard or hard-boiled, it means he is lacking in feelings and consideration for others. The implication is that he thinks only of himself and has no interests in others, their wants or needs. Many people who are thought of as hard are not. However, because they have been hurt or disillusioned many times, they develop a protective shell against similar hurts.

Learn to say "no": "I am one of those people who hate to say 'No' to anyone. Now as a teenager, I am finding it hard to say 'No' when boys want to pet. What shall I do?" A. T.

17,000 Christmas TB Seals Going in Mail

Seventeen thousand Christmas seal letters are being mailed in Jackson county, heralding the start of the annual seal sale Wednesday, Nov. 16, according to Mrs. M. O. Grove, seal sale chairman for the Jackson County Public Health association.

Proceeds from this year's sale will continue support of the county's two permanent x-ray centers, as well as contribute to education, research, and other aids in eradicating tuberculosis, Mrs. Grove said.

Mother Featured
 This year's seal letter features a young Ashland mother of four who recently returned from 4 1/2 months of treatment at the state TB hospital. Her illness was detected early through chest x-ray, which followed the discovery through routine x-ray that her husband was a tuberculosis victim. He also has been released from the hospital following treatment.

"I wish there were some way to convince people how important a chest x-ray is," she wrote to the county association.

15 Cases
 Fifteen active TB cases were discovered through x-ray in Jackson county last year, it was said, and an estimated 100 are still undetected. Full use of the two centers during the coming year should protect county residents to a much greater extent, according to association officials.

Much work has been done this year in improving the mailing list for the seal sale, Mrs. Grove said, and those who have been inadvertently left off the list or sending their name and address may secure Christmas seals by calling Mrs. Grove, Medford 2-7775, or sending their name and address on a postcard to the Public Health association office in the Leverette building.

Work On New Camas Radio Station Starts
 Camas, Wash. — (U.P.)—Broadcasting from new radio station KRIV at Camas is tentatively scheduled to start Dec. 1, owner Gene Johnsick said Saturday.

Johnsick, formerly with KJUN at Redmond, Ore., said initial construction on the transmitter building has started and work on the tower will begin soon.

The new station will operate on a frequency of 1480 kilocycles and will broadcast from dawn to dusk seven days a week.
