

On The Side

When you consider how bachelors are pampered it makes it easier to understand why it is becoming increasingly difficult for a girl to get a single man into matrimonial harness. Laundries have special services for bachelors which include sewing on buttons, mending socks, turning over collars, etc. A bachelor with an apartment can get a part time maid to handle all his housekeeping at a very reasonable price. With the maids bachelors are preferred customers. In Manhattan there are establishments which will handle every detail of a dinner party for a bachelor. That is the buying, cooking, cleaning up. Hostesses tossing parties love to have bachelors present. At summer resorts bachelors get special rates. Some business organizations are anxious to have bachelor employees in the office because that makes it easier to get feminine employees. All this not only makes a bachelor hard to get but when captured difficult to keep. He cannot forget how wonderful everything was when he was a bachelor.

Get It Right

Note it claimed the one way street was originated by a New York City traffic expert about 20 years ago. Nonsense! The one way street was originated by the Roman Emperor Hadrian about 1,800 years ago. Hadrian also originated the idea of the white line to divide two way streets and highways. Incidentally Napoleon originated the idea of odd and even house numbers on different side of streets.

Sidelights

Seventy-five per cent of the wrecked marriages are caused by interfering mothers-in-law. Or, so says an expert on the subject of life among the married. Gregory Peck's favorite dish is Lobster Leopold and he is said to insist that the next girl he marries must know how to prepare that menu skillfully.

Dr. Alfred Kinsey plans to write 18 more books on the subject of sex.

Horses and Women

Every husband should know what size his wife takes in every article of attire. That is what is constantly said by those who offer advice on how to keep a wife contented. I claim it is asking too much of a man. The feminine size situation is too complicated. For example, I have seen it claimed that the "junior sizes" are not necessarily worn by a teen-ager. Women of 40 or 50 wear "junior sizes." It is a size designed for those who have retained their schoolgirl figure. Women don't mind the complicated size system. They like everything to be a little difficult. Understanding it makes them feel smarter.

Asking

Queries from clients. Q. When and where did Gypsy Rose Lee make her New York debut? A. Gypsy's first appearance in New York as a daring danseuse was at the Irving Place theater about 23 years ago. She moved uptown to the Winter Garden when engaged for the Shubert "Ziegfeld Follies of 1936."

Q. Has there ever been thoroughbred horse racing in New Jersey in January? A. Yes, sir. Around the turn of the century there was racing daily except Sunday at Guttenberg, N.J., throughout the winter months.

No Shave

"Haircuts Only. No Shave." That sign is displayed by innumerable barber shops. Why don't those tonsorialists get on the ball and give the customer more consideration? Why not give a customer a shave with an electric razor? One chain of New York barber shops does that and so enjoys the gratitude of many customers. A good shave by a skillful barber can be very refreshing. After all shaving was what barbers were originally for. Haircutting came later.

Those Blondes

These are trying days for blondes. They continue to suffer devastating defeats by the brunettes. A brunette won the "Miss World" title in competition with beauties from 21 other nations. This glamorous black-haired female is Susan Duijm of Venezuela. She is 5 feet 8 with other measurements of 34-21-34.

Historic Spot

A tablet at 7 West 46th st.

Manhattan, reads: "Diamond Jim Brady lived here." Very interesting. Perhaps the memorial tablet idea as to former famous residents of places in Manhattan will catch on. There should be a tablet at 28 West 26th st. O. Henry lived there. He also died there as he voiced his famous last words: "I'm afraid to go home in the dark." Twelve Piel st. also rates a tablet. That was the site of Salter's cafe where Irving Berlin started his career as a singing waiter. No. 4 East 44th st. was the site of Canfield's last gambling house.

'Sense in Tax Law' Said Aim of Mobile Home Owners Clan

W. R. Mitchell, president of the Jackson county chapter of the Oregon Mobile Home Owners, and a director of the state organization, said last week that members of his group would work with other property owners in the state toward "putting some sense in the Oregon tax laws."

Mitchell made his statement following a number of protests from the owners of real property here after the mailing of tax bills.

"Our group has been the noisiest group around for a year or so on this matter of the property tax," Mitchell said, "but now other property owners are beginning to feel the bite too." Oregon Mobile Home Owners, Inc., has as a primary purpose "equalization of tax laws affecting their trailer homes." Leaders of the group declare they are not trying to avoid paying taxes. They say that only 10 per cent of trailer home owners in the state are now being assessed, and that they feel that all should be dealt with equally.

"We feel that a small minority should not bear the burden for all trailer owners," Mitchell said. "As the tax laws are now written, those of us who are hit for taxes pay far too much because others pay nothing at all. So far we have been concerned only with our own problem, but now we feel that all property owners should get together to examine the entire Oregon property tax structure."

For a different and delicious topping for dessert, shortcakes, mix 2 three-ounce packages cream cheese with 2 tablespoons sugar, 1/4 cup milk and 1/2 cup teaspoon pure vanilla extract. Beat with a rotary beater until fluffy.

Junction City Man Killed in Accident

Eugene — (U.P.)—Erode Bruce, 56, Junction City barber, was killed Friday night in a head-on collision during a heavy snowstorm one mile south of Junction City.

Lane County Coroner Fred Buell said Bruce apparently was blinded by the storm and attempted to make a left turn when he was struck by a pickup driven by 42-year-old Anthony J. Howser of West Linn.

Howser suffered head cuts but was reported in good condition at Sacred Heart hospital here.

Sea Scout Rescued From Columbia River

Portland — (U.P.)—Five sea scouts were rescued from the icy Columbia river near here Friday after their boat capsized at the height of a blizzard-like snow storm.

The 26-foot sea scout ship City of Roses was overturned by a sudden gust of wind in the Oregon Slough channel.

Howard Nelsen witnessed the accident in front of his home and rescued the five youths after they had spent about 10 minutes in the water. Their life jackets drifted away and the scouts escaped drowning by clinging to their overturned boat.

Ham With Orange

Place a thick slice of tenderized ham in a covered baking dish. Combine 1/2 cup orange marmalade with three tablespoons water and pour over the ham; place the covered dish in the oven of your gas range. Set your temperature control at 350 degrees for 20 minutes; then reduce the oven heat to 300 degrees and finish baking for 20 minutes with the cover off, basting occasionally with the syrup. Serve with orange slices and yams.
