Ashland Seniors To Present Play

Ashland — Senior class students of Ashland Senior high school will present the play, "One Mad Night," Thursday and Friday, November 17 and 18 at the school's little theater. Curtain time is set for 8:15 p.m.

The play was written by Samuel French. The plot concerns a playwright and a mansion full of lunatics.

Miss Marilyn Butler is director for the production and Miss Mary Hamilton, assistant director.

Jack Reynolds is stage manager and head of the properties department is Miss Mary Anderson. Heading the stage crew are Marvin Hamilton, Alden Joy, Jack Reynolds and Norm Ryliken. Miss Carol Hanson has charge of costumes, and makeup will be directed by Miss Marsha Clary. Harry Johnson is chairman for the publicity; Rex Bounds and David Woods, electricians; Miss Shirley Hagen, in charge of ushers and Howard Wilson, business manager.

Prices Fluctuate Despite Supports

Salem—(U.P.)—President Ben Robinson of the Oregon Farm Bureau federation says "price supports have not kept costs from rising and prices from falling."

Robinson, addressing the group's annual convention yesterday, said price supports may not be the most important factor in solving low prices and high costs.

He said agricultural prosperity was linked closely with the rest of the economy. He said just as agriculture has reached the point where it must get production down to the size of its markets, a lot of the rest of the economy that is producing ahead of its markets through extended credit may have to stop and catch up.

He said 85 per cent of farmers' costs can be attributed to labor.

Rockefeller Planning Virgin Isle Gift To US

Charlotte Amalie, Virgin Islands—(U.P.)—Laurence S. Rockefeller has launched a campaign to interest Virgin Islanders in his project to give the United States government a large portion of his land holdings on St. Thomas Island for development as a national park.

Rockefeller has invited members of the Virgin Islands Legislature to be his guests in two weeks to acquaint them with the proposed plans and show them what he has already done with the land.

ALPHABET FASHION—The ABCs in fashion go all the way to Y as Doris Thompson of San Francisco shows how her reed-slim rayon sheath dress with side shoulders was inspired by the letter Y. It's part of Montgomery Ward's Spring collection touring the country.

Economic Chairman Optimistic on Future

Washington—(U.P.)—James D. Zellerbach, new chairman of the Committee for Economic Development, said today he is optimistic about the nation's economic future.

He said that the economy is threatened by neither inflation nor deflation but that "we are in something of an in-between situation."

But Zellerbach said there are two phases of the economy which need special attention and that the CED is studying them now—falling farm prices and the need for expanded and improved highways.

CEA is a private economic research organization of business and education leaders. Its reports are widely circulated in government circles.

Zellerbach 68, of San Francisco, is president of Crown Zellerbach Corp.

Anita Ekberg Denies Insurance of Bosom

London—(U.P.)—Buxom actress Anita Ekberg arrived in London by air Tuesday and newsmen promptly asked her about reports she had insured her bosom with Lloyds of London.

The Swedish actress told them it was the first she had heard about it. "I get asked very peculiar questions," she said.

Several Businessmen Tried To Pay Bill For Ike at Hospital

Denver—(U.P.)—Several businessmen tried to pay President Eisenhower's bill at Fitzsimons Army hospital, and one woman wanted to know why the chief executive got off so cheap.

Maj. Gen. M. E. Griffin, commander at Fitzsimons, said yesterday that before he left Fitzsimons on Nov. 11, Mr. Eisenhower paid his bill of $51.70—$1.10 a day for meals during this seven-week stay.

Last Saturday, Griffin said, five businessmen at Rogers, Ark., sent $50 to cover the President's bill. And a Baltimore attorney sent a check for the precise amount, $51.70.

"These checks have been returned with a polite note of thanks," Griffin said.

On Monday, the hospital received a letter from a woman who, while being treated in a naval hospital as a military dependent, was charged $1.75 a day. She wanted to know why President Eisenhower was charged only $1.10 a day.

"The President was hospitalized as commander-in-chief of the armed forces," Griffin explained. "As such he was required to pay the rate for food charged active duty personnel. The Department of the Army assumed his hospital bill."

Griffin also revealed that despite the often fancy fare (pheasant, prime rib of beef, steak) served the President, Fitzsimons
