

Lay Observers Report Ike Looked Haggard After Big Mid-Week Work Day

Interest Builds Up To Question Of Second Term

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press Correspondent
Washington—(U.P.)—For what it may be worth, some of the chance and unofficial lookers-on at Gettysburg think President Eisenhower appeared a bit peaked or bushed after his big mid-week work day.

The medical bulletins report to be picking up the burdens of office without evidence of fatigue. There is no intent to challenge the integrity of those bulletins. Never was the illness of a top level U.S. official more faithfully reported in its gains and reverses than Mr. Eisenhower's.

But the fact remains that some individuals who would have no interest in it either way believe they can detect an outward appearance of slow down in Mr. Eisenhower's vigorous recovery.

So, it is reasonable to report these lay observations because the fact at home and abroad have shown a hungry personal and political interest in Mr. Eisenhower's well being. The political interest builds up to a question which will be asked with increasing frequency throughout the world until the President gives the answer to it.

Will he run again?
Decision Affects Policies
The political fortunes of both major parties are tied to the answer. The political fortunes of numerous office seekers in both parties are tied to it. U. S. foreign and domestic policies depend in large degree on the answer as do the policies of foreign allies and cold war enemies.

It is a large question which Mr. Eisenhower's physicians have given him an opportunity to ignore until February, if he so desires. The implication of their judgments of the President's recovery has been that it will not be until late winter that they will know whether his heart could take a second term.

The physicians with their machines and knowledge can determine with much accuracy whether Mr. Eisenhower will be fit to go again. But only he can determine whether he would be willing.

If his heart were able, but his mind were not quite made up, it is likely that the recent Democratic attacks on administration foreign policy might persuade Mr. Eisenhower to take the chance on his health and run. There is no doubt that Democrats would prefer some other—almost any other—Republican as a presidential opponent in 1956.

Beaver Marsh Permit Said 'Tragic Mistake'

Portland—(U.P.)—Sen. Richard L. Neuberger (D-Ore.) today called the Federal Power Commission licensing of the Beaver Marsh project a "tragic mistake" and said he was asking about possible ways for the decision to be set aside.

Neuberger said he had asked the legislative counsel of the U. S. Senate to study possible legislative methods by which "this unwise decision can be set aside."

"It is unbelievable to me that the Eugene Water Board would imperil the magnificent McKenzie river wilderness to secure only 30,000 kilowatts of peaking power, when the same board has opposed a high Hells Canyon federal dam with its 914,000 firm kilowatts of power," he said.

Income Tax Forms Will Be Mailed Soon

Federal income tax forms for filing in 1956 will be mailed from the Kansas City office to reach taxpayers between Dec. 27 and Jan. 10, Internal Revenue service officials have announced.

Each taxpayer who filed in 1955 will receive forms. Other forms will be available at the local office here by Dec. 1, officials said.

Moderate Rises in Oregon Streams Seen

Portland—(U.P.)—The weather bureau today forecast moderate rises in western Oregon streams during the next one to three days as another rainstorm headed toward the state on the heels of a wet Thanksgiving.

Several Willamette valley stations reported more than an inch of rain during the 24-hour period ending at 8 a.m. today. Salem had 1.29, Portland 1.12, Eugene 1.05, Corvallis 1.04 and Albany .76.

The forecast called for the Santiam river at Jefferson to rise to "near bankfull" stages early this evening. The Willamette was well below flood stage.

ICC Head Resigns Following Probe By Senate Group

Gettysburg, Pa.—(U.P.)—President Eisenhower today accepted the resignation of Chairman Hugh W. Cross of the Interstate Commerce Commission, who was questioned recently by the Senate Investigating Subcommittee.

Cross told the President he was quitting for reasons of health and also out of "regard and respect" for the commission and for the administration.

Would Defend Charges
"But for these considerations I would remain and defend to the end against the baseless charges which have been made against me before a congressional committee," Cross told the President in a letter dated Nov. 23 and received here today.

Cross' resignation had been rumored since he was questioned in a closed session earlier this month by the Senate Investigating Subcommittee about his connections with the award of a contract to transport passengers and baggage between Chicago railroad stations.

Cross told newsmen after testifying that he had discussed a job earlier with the group which got the contract, headed by John L. Keeshin, but he denied that the talk was connected with this contract. He refused to say whether he had discussed the contract with railroad officials.

The President accepted Cross' resignation effective at the close of business today.

The president made no direct reference to the charges against Cross. He said, however, "I fully appreciate the reasons you have indicated and accordingly accept your resignation."

Cross, a Republican and former Illinois lieutenant governor, was appointed by former President Truman to fill an ICC vacancy in 1949.

American Dollar Sale Increased in Chile

Santiago, Chile—(U.P.)—American-owned copper companies were enabled today to sell dollars at the rate of 300 instead of 200 Chilean pesos to one.

President Carlos Ibanez signed a decree permitting the change yesterday.

The change came after the companies asked to be permitted to sell dollars at the more favorable rate in order to meet their payments in Chilean currency caused by recent pay increases to employees.

The official Copper Department meanwhile was studying a proposal from the Anaconda Co. to invest an additional $38,000,000 in equipment and other improvements in their Chuquibambilla and Potosi mines.

Illusion of Fence Moves Memphis Hippos

Memphis, Tenn.—(U.P.)—Adonis and Juno are in their new home today but the big hippos were willing to move only because they thought their old quarters were closing in on them.

Zoo keepers said they used a large piece of plywood to inch the animals along. The hippos thought a solid wall was behind them.

Japan Newspaperman Appointed to Cabinet

Tokyo—(U.P.)—The newspaper Yomiuri announced today that Matsutaro Shoriki has resigned as "owner" because of his appointment to a post in the new Japanese cabinet.

Shoriki, 70, "father" of professional baseball in Japan, owns the Yomiuri Giants, four times winner of the Japanese version of the World Series. He is also president of the Japan Television Co.
