

Nurseries, Day Schools to Get AAUW Study

Mrs. Herbert Seitz, last year's president of the Medford Branch of the American Association of University Women and now a member of the AAUW state committee of social studies, announced recently the participation of southern Oregon branches in a state wide survey of nurseries, day care centers, and kindergartens. Mrs. Seitz has initiated and will supervise this survey in Grants Pass, Medford, Ashland, Klamath Falls, and Lakeview.

Mrs. Willard Sanzenbacher, Oswego, state chairman of social studies for the AAUW, is in charge of the state survey, to be analyzed and reported to the state convention next spring. Last April, after a pilot study in Portland, the state convention voted to make such a "pre-school educational facilities" study.

Results will be used to estimate the adequacy of present facilities and what legislative action should be taken in the field.

Miss Rhoda Williams, social studies chairman for the local branch, will be in charge of the survey for Medford. She has been assisted in planning by Miss Geraldyn Jerome, Mrs. A. N. Potter, Mrs. Bernice Schofield, and Mrs. Seitz. Questionnaires covering physical and educational aspects have been sent to all of the known nurseries in the area. The committee urges that any nursery director not receiving a questionnaire contact Miss Williams, 1975 Houston road, telephone 3-1354.

Miss Williams plans to arrange personal visits to nurseries by members of her committee to answer any questions in regard to the questionnaires. All reports on the survey are to be completed early in January.

Three Students Return to OSC

Three Oregon State college students who were among those home for the Thanksgiving holidays will return to Corvallis this afternoon. The three are Rickey Werner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard D. Werner, Bob Sevicik, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Sevicik, and Martin Heitkamp Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Heitkamp.

All three young people are affiliated with Pi Kappa Phi fraternity. Rickey Werner and young Sevicik are sophomores and Young Heitkamp is a freshman.

To Lunch

The Rogue chapter 113, Grandmothers of America, will meet at 1 p.m. Nov. 28 with Mrs. Elsa Walker, 129 North Oakdale ave., for a luncheon. Mrs. Walker and Mrs. Ann McCormack will be hostesses.

Seaver-Garner Ceremony Held at Nazarene Church

Talent—Mr. and Mrs. William Roger Garner are at home at 837 West 12th street following their wedding November 5 at the First Nazarene church, Ashland. The bride, the former Miss Joanne Seaver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Foster Seaver, route 1, box 59, Talent, is a 1955 Talent High school graduate.

She is employed as a copywriter at radio station KMED. The bridegroom, a deliveryman for a local appliance store, is the son of the Rev. and Mrs. Don Garner, 2653 Howard ave.

For their wedding trip the couple traveled to California and visited Lassen park and Shasta dam.

The Rev. R. W. Hohn officiated at the 8 p.m. ceremony.

The bride wore a white, waltz length nylon net dress with Italian lace trimming and a sweetheart neckline. The skirt was net with lace panels. She carried two large white orchids on a white Bible with stephanotis streamers.

Mrs. Glenn L. Pittman, San Francisco, sister of the bride, served as matron of honor and wore a solid coral formal with matching headband. Bridesmaids, attired in coral dotted Swiss ballerina length formals with matching headbands, included Miss Sally Boyd and Miss Beverly Murray.

Sylvia Foster was flower girl, wearing a coral dotted Swiss dress. Ring bearer was Jeff Blankenship and best man was Frank Reich. Foster Seaver Jr., brother of the bride, and Jim Watrus, ushered.

The church was decorated with white chrysanthemums and coral carnations in baskets, palms and ferns.

The bride's parents gave a brief reception following the ceremony in the church parlors, attended by about 150 guests. Mrs. Richard Mulhollen was in charge of the guest book, and Mrs. Jessie Seaver took charge of presents. Serving and pouring were Mrs. Don Sweem, Mrs. Wes J. Blankenship, Mrs. Ralph B. Stuart, Mrs. James R. Foster.

Dennis Wyatt Has Birthday Party

Dennis Wyatt, 2010 Sunset drive, was guest of honor at a sixteenth-birthday party given for him by his mother Nov. 20 at Eaton's Dinner House.

Those attending were Jerry Mathern, Linda Telsler, Robert Bright, Dan Ripper, Dick Guehes and Sandra Peiser.

District Meeting Held in Medford; Unique Decorations

The Medford letter carriers and their auxiliary were hosts November 12 to a state district meeting held in the Rogue room of the Medford hotel.

Under the direction of Mrs. John Lynch, the room was decorated around the theme of the original pony express from St. Joseph to San Francisco, 1859 to 1861. Decorations used were a saddle loaned by Gibson Saddlery, miniature horses, horse shoes, and flowers.

Following the banquet, Larry Rose introduced the guests, R. Eugene Morrison, Salem, state president; Arthur Lindholm, Portland, state organizer; and Charles N. Coyle, Portland, member of the board of directors of the National Sick Benefit association. The Three talked to the group about organization and efficient service.

Attending from out of town were members from Ashland and Grants Pass. Local officers of the state present were Larry Rose, member of the state executive board and Christine Rose, state treasurer.

Medford Wesleyans Hear Invitation From Ashland Group

An invitation from the Ashland guild to attend a meeting in their church was received at the last meeting of the Ruth Esther Wesleyan Service guild of the Methodist church. The group met in the home of Mrs. Maxine Anderson on Hillcrest road.

The Ashland guild made their invitation for 7:30 p.m. Nov. 29. Miss Jeanette Smith will be featured speaker, talking on her recent trip to the Philippines.

At the Medford guild meeting, Miss Abbie Sturdevant led devotions, and Mrs. Florence Reniker gave the second part of a book study on American Indians.

Plans were completed for the booth in the Christmas Festival to be held Dec. 6.

Assisting Mrs. Anderson were Mrs. Millie Johnson, Mrs. Ruth Gilbertson and Mrs. Wilma Peabody.

MEDFORD (OREGON) MAIL TRIBUNE—THREE

Formal Rites Held By Honor Society

The Epsilon chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma, national honor society for women teachers, held a formal initiation at the Medford hotel, at 4:30 p.m., November 19. Those initiated were Miss Dorothy Dymoc, second grade teacher at Redwood school in Grants Pass; Mrs. Gertrude Holmes, social studies at McLaughlin Junior High school in Medford; and Mrs. Clara Fader, first grade teacher at Walker school in Ashland.

Following the initiation, Mrs. Esther Fliegel briefly explained the aims and purposes of Delta Kappa Gamma.

At 6 p.m., the initiates were guests of the society at a banquet in the hotel. Mrs. Kathryn Stancliffe, president of the chapter, acted as toastmistress. The group practiced songs to be sung at a state convention in Medford next April.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Maxine Smith, Mrs. Bertha Stephens, Mrs. Marjorie Butler, Mrs. Alice Gay, Mrs. Olive Fountain, Miss Anna Laura Honts, and Mrs. Blanche Canode.

CBPW Announce Meeting Change

The Christian Business and Professional Women announce a change in the time of their monthly prayer service for the work of the local council and that of the missionaries sponsored by the group. Beginning Nov. 28, they will meet at the noon hour at the First Baptist church annex, North Central avenue at Fifth street. The annex will be open from 11:30 a.m., and those who desire to do so may take sack lunches. Coffee will be served.

Mrs. Gertrude Neff, newly-appointed prayer chairman, will have charge of the hour. Those who desire to come may feel free to do so during part or all of the lunch hour. The meetings will be held at the same hour the last Monday of each month.

A crumb pie crust will hold together better if it is chilled in the pan for 24 hours before the filling is added.
