

Nationalist China To Oppose Outer Mongolia Admission To United Nations

Move Would Wreck 'Package Deal' For 18 Countries

United Nations, N.Y. (U.P.)—Nationalist China announced officially today that it will veto Outer Mongolia's application, if necessary, to prevent its admission to the United Nations.

The Chinese decision appeared to doom any chance of success for the "package" admission of 18 countries to the world organization.

Russia announced previously that it would block the deal unless Outer Mongolia was included in the list to be admitted.

A spokesman for Chinese Ambassador Tingfu F. Tsiang said: "We will oppose the admission of Outer Mongolia, if necessary, by use of the veto."

He said the Nationalist delegation had not decided whether it would abstain, or use its veto, on four other Communist candidates supported by Russia.

Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's Formosa government was known to be under heavy pressure to rescind its decision to use the veto power it has never utilized in its 10 years on the UN Security Council.

The United States, which reluctantly let it be known that it would accept Outer Mongolia, was understood to have made indirect representations to Generalissimo Chiang.

Twenty-seven countries, led by Canada, have proposed a resolution calling for the admission of 18 countries: Communist-backed Albania, Bulgaria, Hungary, Outer Mongolia and Romania, and Western-sponsored Austria, Cambodia, Ceylon, Finland, Ireland, Italy, Japan, Jordan, Laos, Libya, Nepal, Portugal and Spain.

California Lawmen Continue Manhunt For Seven Hardened Young Criminals

Sacramento, Calif. (U.P.)—State, county and city lawmen combined efforts today to continue the search for seven hardened young criminals who have eluded a 150-man dragnet in Central California after escaping from two institutions.

City police and sheriff's officers in Sacramento, Placer, El Dorado, Amador and Calaveras counties and the Highway Patrol were on the alert for the young men, but few new leads were developing.

IPC Head Raps Action on Permit

Boise (U.P.)—Idaho Power Company President T. E. Roach said yesterday an attempt being made in Federal Court to set aside his company's dam building permits in Hells canyon is but another try to obstruct and blockade every non-federal effort to develop power in the Northwest.

Roach said the petition filed by the National Hells Canyon Association with the U. S. Court of Appeals in Washington was not at all unexpected by his company.

"It is in keeping with the objectives of the Hells Canyon and public power associations who want federal power or nothing," he said, "and are attempting to obstruct and blockade every non-federal effort for development of new power supplies for the Pacific Northwest."

The Hells Canyon Association petition requesting the Federal Power commission grant of the construction licenses be set aside argued that the commission's order and opinion "add up to a gross abuse of administrative power and a dereliction of the commission's duty."
