

Central Point PTA to Hold Annual Dinner

Central Point — The annual spaghetti dinner of Central Point Parent-Teacher association is planned for Thursday, December 1, at the Junior High school in Central Point.

Dinner will be served from 6 to 8 p.m. and will be followed by a concert to be given by the Junior High school band and chorus. This will be the major fund-raising event of the year for the PTA.

The 120-piece band will open the program with Sousa's "Washington Post March" and this will be followed by Keller's Overture, "Western Horizon" and "Danube Waves," a waltz by Ivanovici.

They will also play the popular number, "Yellow Rose of Texas" by George, Rachmaninoff's "Prelude in C Sharp Minor" and Keller's "Fort Henry" March.

The chorus will sing a group of three numbers including "Harvest Time," a Polish folk song; Robert Holman's composition, "Home;" and "Winter Wonderland" by Bernard. "Hey, Mr. Banjo" by Morgan-Malkin and "God's Little Candles" by Kennedy will be sung by a girls' sextette.

The band will close the program with another group of five numbers. This will include "Frosty, the Snowman" by Rollins, DeLamater's "Christmas-tide;" "I Believe" by Graham; "Stadium Entree" by Keller and Berlin's "White Christmas."

Everyone in the community is invited to attend the dinner and concert.

Sunshine Girls To Hold Meeting

The next meeting of Rosebud council Pythian Sunshine Girls is scheduled for December 8.

In a list of officers published in Sunday's issue of the Mail Tribune three were inadvertently omitted. All trustees, they are Miss Layle Bostwick, Miss Diana Taylor and Miss Berta Crippen.

Miss Barra Miller is past royal princess and Mrs. LeRoy Cline is royal adviser.

Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Edwards were hosts for a Thanksgiving dinner at their home, 404 Holly street, last Thursday. Their guests were Mrs. Agnes Furch, Medford; Mrs. Marion Siegel, Bremerton, Wash.; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hall, Ashland; Mr. and Mrs. Ben Furch, Talent; Harry Furch, Mrs. Harriet Finley and son, Kenneth and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Brown, all Medford.

Dinner Guests

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Poe, 902 North Central avenue, for Thanksgiving dinner were Mrs. Poe's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Cofer, Red Bluff, Calif.; Mrs. Poe's sister, Mrs. Wayne Galegher, Mrs. Galegher and son of LaCenter, Wash., and Mr. Poe's mother, Mrs. Raymond Van Galder and Mr. Van Galder, Medford.

Efficiency Expert Advises 'Stop Filing All That Junk'

By ELIZABETH TOOMEY United Press Correspondent New York—UPI—Mona Sheppard, the former government anti-gobbledygook expert who has turned her house cleaning talents to big business, whirled into town for two hours between trains the other day.

"They talk about gobbledygook," said Miss Sheppard. "Private industry is afflicted with what I call commercialese. It's the same thing. The problem in business is no different than the problem in government. The same people who work today for government worked yesterday for industry."

"We are living in a paper age. We are afflicted with automatic filing."

Miss Sheppard warned to her subject. She is an Alabama-born woman who in 22 years of almost continuous government service kept her southern accent but neatly disposed of almost everything in the way of personal files.

"I took less than one file drawer of personal papers with me when I left my government job," Miss Sheppard said.

"Remarkable," Emmett J. Leahy, president of the firm of management consultants which hired Miss Sheppard as a vice-president, murmured admiringly. Miss Sheppard was interviewed in his office.

"The average employee manufactures and files one file drawer of paper each year," Leahy added. "That is 3500 pieces of paper . . ."

"And 3500 decisions some little girl has to make to decide where to put it," Miss Sheppard interrupted.

She had just returned from two days in Boston where she began a study of 90 miles of file drawers the state of Massachusetts wants cleaned out. In two hours she was leaving for her home in Bethesda, Md.

"Stop filing all that junk!" is her cheerful command to paperlogged business executives. Her southern accent, plus her contagious enthusiasm for simplifying business life, takes the edge off the brusque order.

Wrote Three Booklets "The government alone sends out four million letters a day," Miss Sheppard said. "A typical 175-word business letter can cost anywhere from eight cents to $2.45 to write, depending on the time spent by the persons involved. That doesn't include the cost of filing it."

She became best known through three booklets she wrote for the government showing how to simplify letters, although as a "systems expert" she is concerned with the quantity and efficiency of paper work as well as the quality.

Her booklets ridicule such word-consuming expressions as "enclosed herewith please find" in business letters.

She talked the Navy out of filing routine letters asking for servicemen's middle initials or discharge paper information and saved them an estimated 200,000 filed papers a year. She talked an insurance company out of always using the word "alleged" when referring to a policy holder's accident.

She says she never takes time to write personal letters.

Students to Hold Christmas Party Thursday Night

The annual Christmas party for members of Mrs. Eve Prentice's accordion students will be held this year, Thursday, December 1, at 6:30 p.m. in the YMCA building.

Out-of-town guests expected are W. C. Simpson and Larry Robertson, both of Los Angeles. After dinner entertainment will be furnished by some of the students, and pictures will be shown of the activities of the group during the past summer. Included will be slides of a parade in Victoria, B.C., Can., and moving pictures of trips to California, Seattle, and other points.

Group Returns From California

Mr. and Mrs. William Caldwell and Mrs. Lewis Ulrich, who were in California to spend Thanksgiving with relatives, returned home Sunday night. The Caldwells visited their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon James, in Palo Alto, and Mrs. Russell Ulrich, and their two children, Catherine and Susan.

Also in Palo Alto were Mr. James' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert L. James. Gordon James is a student at Stanford university, and his wife, the former Oscella Ann Caldwell, is attending San Jose State college.

Professor Talks For DAR Chapter

"Education's role in protecting America's future" was the subject of Dr. John D. McCauley when he spoke for Crater Lake chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, last Saturday.

The meeting was held in the home of Mrs. George R. Carter, 821 East Jackson boulevard. Dr. McCauley said there is a decided difference in the aims and purposes of education in the revolutionary and post-revolutionary era. The intent of the colonists was to teach reading in order that people could read the Bible, and that education was purely religious in purpose.

The speaker gave Thomas Jefferson credit for broadening the field of teaching to include the three R's as well as other subjects in advanced education.

Russia is using teachers throughout the world to teach communism, the speaker declared, and said this country should do likewise to spread democratic ideas.

Mrs. Leslie E. Wilson and Mrs. Alice Alexander Arnold were guests. Assisting Mrs. Carter in serving were Mrs. Carl Oestreich and Mrs. Jesse C. Long. Pouring were Mrs. Clarence Pankey and Mrs. Stanley Chirgwin.

Salon Contributes Children's Toys As Holiday Project

Members of Jackson County salon of the Eight and Forty are contributing cuddle toys and money for ward parties to be sent for Christmas to the National Jewish hospital in Denver.

The Eight and Forty, which is a subsidiary of the American Legion auxiliary, contributes nationally to the support of this hospital as one of its major philanthropic projects. Mrs. Tom Ginn, le chapeau of Jackson County salon, said that the hospital cares for many children with tuberculosis who are the chief concern of the Eight and Forty.

Winners Announced By Camp White Club

Camp White — Mrs. Frank Baker and William Hickey headed the list of winners for last Friday's meeting of Camp White Veterans Bridge club. The pair scored 48 points.

Mrs. R. J. Conroy and George Choate took second with 45 points, and third went to Mrs. T. J. Fuson and Roy Pruitt with one point less. Mrs. Fred Rehlung and Walter Growth scored 37 1/2 points for fourth place.

There are more fatal accidents in summer than any other season.

Grange

Shady Cove Grange Shady Cove Grange met Nov. 23. A pot luck turkey dinner was served at 7 p.m.

Master Reed McKay called the regular meeting at 8 p.m. and announced the installation of officers for Eagle Point, Upper Rogue, Shady Cove, Butte Falls and Lake Creek Granges will be held at the Eagle Point Grange hall Sunday, Dec. 4, at 1:30 p.m. All elected officers for the coming year are asked to be present.

Mrs. Walter Cross, home economics chairman, announced the dinner served to the Rotarians and wives, Nov. 17, was quite a success. The ladies will serve a turkey dinner for the Rotarians and 4-H boys and girls who have completed their work for the past year at the Shady Cove school dining room Thursday, Dec. 8, at 8 p.m.

Mrs. Ira Connor will be hostess to the HEC ladies' Christmas party at her home near Shady Cove Tuesday, Dec. 13, at 1 p.m.

Officers will be installed for the coming year. Every one is expected to bring a gift for exchange.

Use a plastic bag to store cheese for short periods, first pressing the bag closely to the cheese to get the air out. For longer storage, aluminum foil or several thicknesses of waxed paper is recommended.

Visitor Leaves

Mrs. Marion Siegel left Sunday for her home in Bremerton, Wash., after spending the holidays here with her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Brown and Mrs. Agnes Furch, 31 Mistletoe street.
