Back Stairs: Sale Sign Worries Ike

By FRANK ELEAZER
United Press Correspondent
Gettysburg, Pa. — (U.P.) — Backstairs at the Gettysburg White House:

President Eisenhower's closest neighbor put his place up for sale over the week end. This probably is going to worry Mr. Eisenhower, who has bought up most of the other tracts in his immediate vicinity in an effort to head off any undesirable commercialization.

"I guess I am asking a lot for the place," said Hugh Keckler, the President's 30-year-old neighbor, a Navy veteran. Keckler bought his 3½ acres and frame farm house about five years ago, just before the President set prices soaring by buying his place across the road.

Keckler wants $15,000 for his place. He told a reporter he would prefer not to say what he paid for it. It is the kind of house, however, that normally wouldn't be expected to bring too much of a price. Among its features are city water but an outside toilet. The property boasts a small barn and a couple of minor outbuildings.

The President bought his original tract of 189 acres, an old house, and a big serviceable barn for $24,000. Although this is all that is recorded as his, it is common knowledge here that he is the real owner of additional tracts held in other names, boosting his total holdings to almost 500 acres.

What these other tracts cost has not been disclosed, but the President not long ago was deploring the local land boom based on his presence. He said some asking prices hereabouts were out of reason.

Keckler said an agent of the President came around to see him a'out three years ago about buying up his property but that at that time he did not want to sell.

Room Five Wins Mack Toy Drive Campaign

Home room five at McLoughlin Junior High school won the annual toy drive contest, Fred Funston, president of the student body, has announced. The drive is held in cooperation with the Medford fire department's Christmas program. Home rooms 26 and 27 were runners-up in the school competition.

Funston also announced election of advisors for three class organizations which are underway with winter activities. Louise Davis is seventh grade advisor, Bob Williams is eighth grade advisor, and Anne Gentile is ninth grade advisor.

sell. Now he is willing, provided he gets a good price, in which case he will move closer to his job at Mechanicsburg, Pa., about 30 miles away.

"I expect somebody will be around to see me again as soon as the President hears my sign is up," Keckler said.

Keckler's place is across the road from the President's front gate. His front porch looks across the President's fields and up to his big barn. Because of the lie of the land, Mr. Eisenhower's newly-rebuilt and expanded farm home is not visible.

Keckler never has met his distinguished neighbor although they have exchanged waves now and then as the President drives by. But Keckler is well-acquainted with the President's property. He is a good friend of Ivan Feaster, the President's young farmer, and he and his wife and three children visit frequently at the Feasters' home, close to the Eisenhower's.

PRIDE LEADS TO JAIL

RECKLESS DRIVING CHARGE
Colorado Springs, Colo.—(U.P.)—Edward Ernest Higgins will stand trial next month on a charge he recklessly drove 100 miles per hour. Higgins, 29, was born without arms.

Lie Test Ruled Out For Victor Wolf

Portland—(U.P.)—Victor Lawrence Wolf, confessed bomb slayer of Portland attorney Kermit Smith, yesterday lost out on his bid for a lie detector test.

Circuit Judge James W. Crawford ruled out the test on legal grounds. He said the results of a lie detection test could not be considered reliable evidence in court.

Wolf is scheduled to appear before a jury at 2 p.m. next Monday for a hearing to determine his degree of guilt and the penalty he will pay for the death of Kermit Smith.

Maine is said to have 2,465 lakes and ponds.

British Get Cold Reception in Tunisia

Tunis, Tunisia—(U.P.)—A British naval squadron steamed out of Tunisian waters early today after a short good will visit which misfired.

The ships had been in Bizerta since Saturday. But Tunisian authorities held no celebrations in their honor because of Britain's vote in Rome last week against Tunisian admission to the United Nations.
