

Memorial To Oregon Pioneers Suggested

Portland (UP)—A new suggestion for spending the still idle Carroll Moore trust fund for a memorial to Oregon pioneers was submitted here today by a monument firm.

The firm proposed that a 45-ton bas-relief map of the old Oregon Trail be erected in Willson park adjacent to the state capitol building in Salem.

Carroll Moore, former elevator operator at the state supreme court building, bequeathed $30,000 to provide a suitable memorial to Oregon pioneers.

The suggestion of the huge map was one of the first put forward since Salem residents indignantly rejected Renoir's famed statue, Venus Victoreuse, for the new courthouse plaza.

The proposed map would trace the Oregon Trail from Missouri to the Pacific ocean.
