San Francisco—(U.P.)—Coach Red Strader said today his San Francisco Forty Niners "put out a very fine effort" against the Green Bay Packers—but he had to admit "it just isn't there."

The statistics showed Strader's boys were in there fighting. They led the Packers 20-13 in first downs, 169 to 85 yards in rushing and had ball control 82 plays to 49.

And halfback Hugh McElhenny turned in the best performance of the game, carrying the ball 18 times for a total net yardage of 83.

All this was fine, but the Packers won the ball game, 28 to 7. They handed the Forty Niners their fifth straight loss and the eighth of the season against three wins.

Perry Crosses Goal

Fullback Joe Perry joined Strader in declaring that the turning point of the game came early in the third quarter. The Forty Niners, behind 21-7, drove with the second half kickoff to a first down on the Green Bay two.

Perry then slammed inside left tackle and was hit by linebacker Bill Forester, who played a brilliant defensive game for the Packers.

"I was a yard deep in the end zone," Perry said, "and still had possession of the ball. Then I fumbled. It was a touchdown. And even after the touchdown McElhenny recovered first."

McElhenny said he was "sitting on the ball and then somebody wrestled it away from me." He meant Packer halfback Val Joe Walker. The referee disallowed the touchdown and put the ball on the half-yard line.

"If we had that one," Strader said, "it might have turned the game inside out. We would have been up to 21-14 and breathing down their necks."

Rams Grind Out Victory Over Colts

Los Angeles—(U.P.)—Los Angeles Rams displayed a grinding ground attack yesterday to turn back the Baltimore Colts, 20-14, and hang onto first place in the Western Division by a half game over the Chicago Bears.

Les Richter, the Eagles' lone talented foot on the team last week, again added the deciding points by kicking his 11th and 12th field goals of the season.

Despite Richter's performance the Rams never would have won but for the bull-like rushing of fullback Paul (Tank) Younger and the passing of quarterback Norm Van Brocklin. The Rams defense also proved a deciding factor as it bottled up Alan (The Horse) Ameche most of the game which was played on a rain-soaked field.

Rams Take Halftime Lead

More than 37,000 fans braved cool drizzles and bitterly raw winds to watch the Rams rack up a 10-0 halftime lead and then outlast a fierce Colt rally in the final period.

Touchdowns were his first for two touchdowns in the first and final periods. He scored on a one-yard line plunge and then pushed aside the Colts for 11 yards for the second touchdown.

The Colts came to life in the final period with quarterback George Shaw, who followed Van Brocklin from the University of Oregon, filling the air lanes with passes to set up the two six pointers. Ameche, who netted only 65 yards in 12 carries, fired up the Colts with his four yard run for the first touchdown and then Shaw went for eight and the final Colt score.

Younger powered his way for two touchdowns in the first and final periods. He scored on a one-yard line plunge and then pushed aside the Colts for 11 yards for the second touchdown.

Drake, Muller To Mix Tonight

New York—(U.P.)—Ray Drake, a clever but light-hitting New York middleweight, is favored at 7 to 5 to beat Peter Muller, Germany's eccentric mauler, tonight in their TV 10-rounder at St. Nicholas Arena.

Handsome Ray, 25, has knocked out only four of his 26 opponents; but he registered 21 victories because of his long-range skill and his unusual physical strength at close quarters. He was stopped but once, by Gil Turner in November, 1954.

Muller, already an American TV favorite because of his berserk attack and goofy ring antics, returned recently from a four-fight campaign in Germany.

Independent Loop Action Scheduled

Company A of the National Guard will play Phoenix at 7 p.m. tonight in a Medford Independent Basketball League game at McLoughlin junior high. YMCA will oppose Hawkins-Tread at 8:30 p.m.

Three MIBL games are set for Tuesday. Headquarters Company of the Guard will meet Prospect in the Phoenix game at the junior high and Phoenix will play YMCA. Moose lodge will travel to Butte Falls.

Colorado Beats OSC 63-53; Opposes Webfoots Tonight

Eugene—(U.P.)—Colorado's Buffaloes, last year's Big 7 champs, meet the Oregon Ducks here tonight in an attempt to sweep a two-game stand with the state's two top basketball teams.

Colorado overcame Coach Slat's Girls Oregon State Beavers 63-53 at Corvallis Saturday night before 5,500 fans.

Beaver forward Dave Gambee socked six points in the first five minutes before Jim Ranglois tipped in a free throw to put Colorado in the game.

Overtook OSC

But H. B. Lee's Buffaloes

Overtook the Beaver hoopsters with eight minutes to go in the half and piled up a 32-25 lead by halftime.

Ranglois led Colorado into its second half attack and the Buffaloes piled up an 11 point lead. From then on they managed to keep the edge except for one 12-point Beaver rally that tied up the game 43-43 with eight minutes left.

High point man for the game was Gambee with 22. Colorado's high scorer was Bill Peterson, a senior guard who dropped in 18 points.

Browns Cop Mantle; LA Rams Stay Ahead

By EARL WRIGHT
United Press Sports Writer

The fabulous Cleveland Browns, one of the most successful teams in the history of professional sports, will defend their National Football League championship Dec. 26 against the Los Angeles Rams or Chicago Bears.

Cleveland, getting a vital assist from the New York Giants, won the league's Eastern Division title for a record sixth straight time Sunday by whipping the Pittsburgh Steelers 30-7. New York erased Cleveland's only remaining challenger when it defeated the Washington Redskins, 27-20.

While the Browns qualified for a league championship for the 10th time in as many tries, the tight Western Division race narrowed down to the Rams and Bears. Los Angeles held its half-game lead by downing the Baltimore Colts, 20-14. The Bears remained close behind by rallying to edge the Detroit Lions, 21-20.

Los Angeles knocked Baltimore out of contention and the Green Bay Packers also bowed out although they whipped the San Francisco Forty-Niners, 28-7.

Eagles Down Cardinals

The Philadelphia Eagles, who will help decide the Western championship by visiting the Bears as the regular season ends next Sunday, downed the Chicago Cardinals in Sunday's other game, 27-3.

Los Angeles winds up its regular campaign by entertaining the Packers. The Bears-Eagles game will be over before the West Coast game begins so Coach Sid Gillman's Rams will know what they have to do when they take the field. Cleveland will end its regular campaign in a home game with the Cardinals.

Quarterback Otto Graham and tackle Lou Groza led the Brownie offense at Pittsburgh. Graham, who will be 34 Tuesday, threw touchdown passes to Ray Renfro and Pete Brewster and scored himself on a four-yard lunge. Groza, who will be 32 in January, kicked field goals of 17, 21 and 42 yards and three extra points.

But Cleveland did not clinch the title until halfback Herb Rich of the Giants intercepted an Eddie LeBaron pass in the New York end zone with 66 seconds remaining at Washington.

Behind Bolinger in the Line-man of the Year voting, held in conjunction with the United Press All-American team, came end Ron Kramer, guard Cal Jones with 44 votes, guard Cal Jones of Iowa with 27 and end Ron Beagle of Navy with 22. All made the All-America team.

UP Chooses B. Pelligrini Top Lineman

By NORMAN MILLER
New York—(U.P.)—Bob Pelligrini, 225-pound All-America center who made what undoubtedly was Maryland's most important tackle of the season, today was named United Press Lineman of the Year for 1955.

Pelligrini, 21-year-old senior from Yatesboro, Pa., was voted the honor in a nationwide poll of 309 sports writers and radio broadcasters. The six-foot-three Maryland star received 75 votes compared to 47 for his closest rival, All-American guard Bo Bolinger of Oklahoma.

Co-captain of the undefeated and untied Terrapins, and a standout both of offense and defense, Pelligrini made his most important play of the season in Maryland's most important game. That was in the second period of the Sept. 24 battle with UCLA, whom Maryland defeated 7-0.

Peters Jarred

UCLA had second down and goal to go on Maryland's second yard line when fullback Doug Peters hurled his 200-pound frame over center. He hit a hole with one blocker in front of him. Pelligrini swept aside the blocker and jarred Peters to his heels with a savage tackle.

Peters fumbled the ball and guard Gene Dyson recovered for Maryland. That was the last offensive threat that day for UCLA.

Behind Bolinger in the Line-man of the Year voting, held in conjunction with the United Press All-American team, came end Ron Kramer, guard Cal Jones with 44 votes, guard Cal Jones of Iowa with 27 and end Ron Beagle of Navy with 22. All made the All-America team.

Single-Team Major Loop Cities Goal

By CARL LUNDQUIST
Chicago—(U.P.)—Baseball's American and National league club owners conduct their annual mid-winter meetings today and there's a lot more going on than appears on the innocent-looking agendas.

Although Commissioner Ford Frick has warned against any more expansion talk, or at least "harmful publicity" about it, the two leagues will keep right on discussing how to acquire those lucrative franchises in Los Angeles, San Francisco and Minneapolis-St. Paul area.

The ultimate goal—and there is no secret about it—is to establish one-team major league cities. That would be satisfactory to Frick who has said repeatedly baseball eventually must go "national" and reach the Pacific coast. It also would be the solution to one of the big economic problems—how to keep people from staying away from their parks because they would rather sit home and watch the games on television for free.

Football Example

The National Football league offers a perfect example of how successfully that operates because there are one-team towns throughout the league except here in Chicago. On the days when the team is away, the game comes in on TV; when it is home, the local area is blacked out and the result is spectacular attendance.

But in baseball if the world champion Dodgers, who are eager to do it, decide to go strictly for the flat TV, they will eliminate the FrabTV faithful to the extent that they'll watch the road games and switch to Yankee or Giant TV when the Dodgers are at home.

One highly-placed baseball source, who said "I do not want to be mentioned at this time" revealed there are plans for a baseball test case in Washington to determine the legality of restricting baseball TV and radio broadcasts.

PCC Heads To Consider Living Wage

San Francisco—(U.P.)—Representatives of nine Pacific Coast Conference schools prepared today to consider the question of a "living wage" for athletes.

This question appeared to be the most important on the agenda for the PCC's winter meeting, which began yesterday with a series of committee meetings and a general session.

Under the current program, an athlete may earn $150 an hour on a campus job, with a top of $75 a month. There is a movement afoot to raise the limit to $100 a month.

Committee Studies

A three-man committee, headed by Glenn Holcomb of Oregon State and including Athletic Director Wilbur Johns of UCLA and Leo Harris of Oregon, was appointed at the spring meeting last May to study the situation.

The PCC representatives met last night in general session to hear Commissioner Victor O. Schmidt's general report on the conference. No details were revealed of his report.

James Top Back To Face Colorado

Boulder, Colo.—(U.P.)—Colorado picked Dick James of Oregon as the best back in football team faced all season, a poll of players showed today.

Other members of the first team all-opponent backfield included Tommy McDonald of Oklahoma, Art Luppino of Arizona and Gary Glyck of Colorado A and M.

AAU To Reopen Santee Matter in Crackdown

Louisville, Ky.—(U.P.)—The Amateur Athletic Union will conduct a special hearing on charges against America's top miler, Wes Santee, as part of a crackdown on promoters who pay amateur athletes excessive expense money.

The AAU closed its 68th annual convention here yesterday by agreeing to re-open the Santee case in the face of criticism of professionalism in American athletics. AAU officials said the hearing will have a tremendous effect on the course of all amateur sports in the United States.

Baseball Group Meets Tonight

Two public meetings have been held to feel out interest in the proposal to join the class B Northwest league and it has been decided to go ahead with formulative plans.

Tonight's meeting will be devoted to working out a partnership agreement, through which it is hoped financial backing can be obtained; a tentative budget, and plans for an advance sale of tickets as part of the financing scheme.

Those named to the committee are Buzz Davies, Hale Greenman, Don Faber, Bill Askwith, Frank Buchter, Bill Burt and Harry Chipman, who is acting as temporary chairman.

Big Test Games in First Full College Hoop Week

By JOHN GRIFFIN
United Press Sports Writer

The college basketball season, only three days old but already loaded with such surprises as double defeats for UCLA, Fordham and Washington and a five-foot, eight-inch "runt" as the top star, whirls today into its first full week with a number of important test games on tap.

At least three such test come tonight when a big, important schedule includes appearances by highly-touted Duquesne, Kansas and Ohio State.

Duquesne, last year's National Invitation Tournament champion, makes its season debut as a solid favorite at home against Carnegie Tech. The Dukes are ranked ninth nationally in the pre-season ratings of the United Press Board of Coaches.

Kansas, ranked No. 20 nationally and pre-season choice for the Big Seven title, will be tested by a Northwestern team that was upset on Saturday by Michigan State, 72-67. Ohio State will be sounded out by a Vanderbilt team that seemed sturdy in a 79-69 win over Texas A&M.

But besides the plight of UCLA, Fordham and Washington.

UCLA, No. 7, journeyed to Provo, Utah, and bowed twice to Brigham Young, 75-58 Friday and 67-65 Saturday. These games produced a surprise star

15 Free Shots Each

The fracas saw much time spent at the free throw line and each club dumped in 15 free shots. Field goal shooting percentages were not greatly different but Del Norte shot more and made more with 19 out of 53 tries for 35.6 per cent. Crater made 13 out of 41 for 31.7. The Crescent City quint outbounded Crater team to 20.

Each team made only two field goals in the third quarter. The Comets made only two from the field and Del Norte three in the first period.
