

ELECTIONS SCHEDULED — Annexation elections will be held Monday, Jan. 16, 1956, in the two lined areas shown above. The Medford city council last night adopted ordinances ordering annexation of the areas subject to approval by residents in the areas. Ordinances also were adopted calling elections. Petitions from a majority of the residents in the areas were submitted to the council for consideration. The county "island" just north of Verde Hills was created recently when property was annexed on petitions filed by property owners. Polling place in the "island" will be at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Barker, 601 Keene dr., who also will serve as judge. Other judges and clerks for the "island" are Mrs. Elaine Stout, 209 South Groveland ave., and Mrs. Charlotte Zacharisen, 725 Keene dr. The election in the larger area southeast of the present city limits will be held at the home of Mrs. Blanche Powell, 1920 Barnett rd., who also will serve as judge. Other judges and clerks in that area will be Mrs. Georgia Coggins, 2045 Barnett rd., and Thelma Sutherland, 1924 Barnett rd. Polls will be open between 1 p.m. and 8 p.m. Jan. 16. Results of the election will be canvassed by the city council at its Jan. 17 meeting. (See story page 1.)

'Vagabond Lover' Book Nearly Finished

Miami Beach — (U.P.) — Rudy Vallee, the crooner who hit pay-dirt in the 1930's as America's favorite male vocalist, has gone the way of all early film favorites. A book on his life is in its final writing stages and plans for a motion picture based on his life are being considered.

"The 'Vagabond Lover,'" who completed a successful week's run at a plush Miami Beach hotel, said that he has written an autobiography, "My Time Is Your Time." It will be published next spring by Henry Holt, and Co. of New York.

Newly-discovered by the teenage set, Vallee left the Miami area for a series of club dates around the nation. He'll appear in Springfield, Mass., and he said he has dates scheduled throughout the Midwest, in New Orleans as well as a return date here this fall at the height of the tourist season.

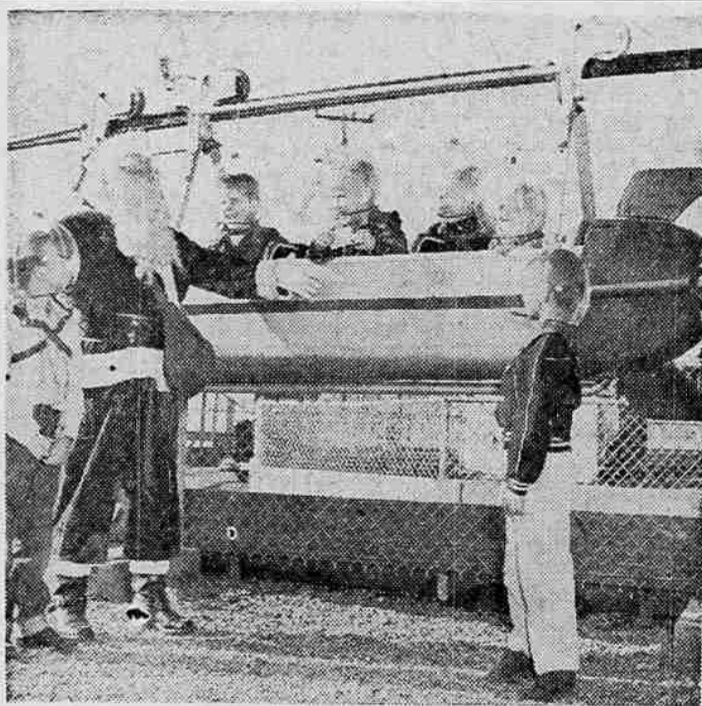

"As soon as the book is published," the graying Vallee said, "I expect the motion picture on my life to begin filming."

He said definite commitments for the motion picture have not yet been made but that 20th Century-Fox and Metro Goldwyn Mayer studios are considering the picture.

Vallee will not play himself in the picture, but will record the music from his many famous songs. He has selected James Dean, who achieved stardom this year in "East of Eden," to play the part.

Vallee, who says he is not "an old man," has been drawing rave notices during his Miami engagement.

The original inhabitants of the island of Puerto Rico were the Borinqueno Indians who disappeared as a distinct group after the Spanish conquest of the island.

A TWIST OF SANTA—On the theory that Santa Claus will go anywhere, these "spacemen" drop in on the jolly fellow in Wonderland in the huge Park and Shop center at Concord, Cal., to put in their Christmas bids. Wonderland was added to the center as a convenience for shopping mothers.

Better Than Regular Job

Buffalo, N. Y. — (U.P.) — Swedish-born Per E. Aden is doing so well at his sideline job that he may have to give up his regular one.

Aden works days as a warehouse foreman for a builders' supply firm. In his part-time home basement business he turns out a new type of sump pump casing he developed and patented. He's had so many orders for the device, which simplifies the installation of a sump pump, that he's putting up a small plant.

The company he works for also works for Aden. It now distributes some of the casings which the 55-year-old inventor turns out by himself at a four-a-day pace.

MEDFORD (OREGON) MAIL TRIBUNE—FIVE

Free Movies Keep Children Off Streets

Memphis, Tenn. — (U.P.) — Irby L. Penny keeps youngsters in his neighborhood off the streets by giving them free movies to look at.

Penny, a candy store owner and mechanic, has been showing regular full-length movies and cartoons for the boys and girls for five years.

He sets up his projector in a window of his house and throws the picture against a wall of his store. Penny started out giving five shows a week, but now has dropped down to three a week. "When I first came out here," he explained, "there wasn't any place for the kids to go, nothing for them to do."

He said, "every time you'd turn around they'd want to see a show, but there wasn't any theater."

Penny arranged with a local film rental company to show the films at his own expense.

"They aren't the latest Hollywood productions and the sound track is sometimes rather scratchy, but the boys and girls don't seem to mind," he said. Between 250 to 300 youngsters, "from babies on up," usually crowd onto the benches and overflow on the lawn for the outdoor shows. "The kids took to it right off," Penny said. "All I'd have to do was tell four or five of them there was going to be a show, and they'd all come."
