Police Report $70 Taken From House

An apartment at 718 West Main st., occupied by Rae Hazel Bosworth, was entered between 8:50 and 10:30 a.m., Saturday. About $70 and a gold locket was stolen, according to city police.

Entrance to the apartment was apparently gained by someone with a key, police said. Forty dollars were taken from an aluminum drinking cup and $30 and the locket from a jewelry box.

Three instances of minor theft were reported to police Saturday and Sunday. Roland R. Homes, 20 Washington st., reported the theft of gas from his truck while it was parked at 334 McAndrews rd., Saturday night. Clinton Carl Neely, 1708 Stratford ave., reported the theft of four concrete tiles from the above address; and Lewis Richard Breazeale, 150 Mace rd., reported the theft of two hubcaps from his car Friday night.

Pelton Construction To Start in Spring

Portland — (U.P) — Construction of Pelton dam on the Deschutes river is scheduled to get under way next spring.

That was announced by Ralph Millsap, Portland General Electric vice-president, in the wake of a Saturday vote by Warm Springs Indians. The Indians voted 5 to 1 to accept company approval for rental of the dam site.

Millsap said the vote cleared the way for preliminary construction to start "very soon." Major construction will start in the early spring, he said.

The Indians voted 295 to 54 in favor of an $84,000 annual rental of the Pelton site and a maximum annual rental of $166,000 for the proposed Round Butte dam site.

So far, PGE has permission from the Federal Power commission for Pelton dam only. One bank of both dams is on tribal land and the other on public domain.

The Pelton project, first promoted in 1947, would produce about 100,000 kilowatts of power at a cost of $25,000,000.

Britain Battered By First Blizzard

London — (U.P) — The first big blizzard of the season buffetted Britain today. It tied up land and sea transportation, and isolated a group of fliers in Wales.

Two vessels were in distress off the coasts. Nine glider pilots, including two women were trapped in deep drifts on a lonely peak in the Welsh hills.

A British warship was steaming to the rescue of the rudderless Norwegian steamer Reias, yawing helplessly in heavy seas 150 miles off the Irish coast. The Royal Navy's anti-submarine ship Loc Ruthven was steaming to her aid. An RAF bomber flew to the scene to stand by.

The British submarine Seraph hove to all night in the English channel with its superstructure stove in. It limped into Portland this morning with 44 men on board.

Germans Freed by Soviets Reach Berlin

Berlin—(U.P)—Fifty-seven German prisoners released by Russia arrived here today and said other West Germans were being detained on grounds Chancellor Konrad Adenauer "failed to live up to his obligations."

They said the Russians did not explain what the "obligations" were. Today's prisoners were the first to arrive since the flow of prisoners was suspended by the Soviets Oct. 20 without explanation.

Soviet leaders promised Adenauer in September they would release 9680 Germans. But repatriation stopped in October when only 5800 had been freed.

Fong Murder Trial Scheduled for January

Portland—(U.P)—Trial of Way Him Fong on a first degree murder charge will begin no earlier than January, Circuit Judge James R. Bain indicated today.

Fong's 24-year-old wife, Sherry, was convicted last Friday of second degree murder in the death of Diane Hank. Her attorney is expected to appeal.

Fong, also indicted in the Hank death, was tried and convicted with his wife last Spring. But the verdict was upset by Circuit Judge Alfred P. Dobson.

What was the most successful small theater in New York theatrical history? How about the Princess theater on West 39th st. that housed so many hits written by the brilliant combination of Guy Bolton, P. G. Wodehouse and Jerome Kern. The Princess had 250 seats. The stage was so small there was only room for a chorus of six girls. The orchestra pit only held 11 musicians. Yet at the Princess were presented such smash musical hits as "Nobody Home," "The Night Boat" and "Very Good, Eddie." Incidentally, the smallest theater in the world presenting regular musical productions now is the Theater de la Huchette in Paris. It has only 82 seats. Yet not so long ago it presented a musical extravaganza in 32 scenes!

Asides

Can you say in a fifth of a flash of what that drink called vodka is made? If not, cease considering yourself a well informed fellow . . . Young women who believe they have limbs a la Dietrich are constantly asking our Horses & Women experts what Marlene's leg measurements are. They follow: "Ankle 8½ inches, calf 12½ inches, thigh 19½ inches."

Asking

Queries from clients. Q. Has a legitimate stage version of "Tarzan of the Apes" ever been produced? If so, who played the title role? A. A stage version of "Tarzan" was produced and presented on Broadway in 1921. Robin Adair played Tarzan. The play was a flop. Q. What is the origin of calling a woman's hair her "crowning glory"? A. Undoubtedly was inspired by the Biblical quotation I Corinthians 11-15: "But if a woman have long hair it is a glory to her."

So They Say

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 23) executives usually select secretaries for their intelligence. Libra (Sept. 24-Oct. 23) executives have a definite weakness for "oomph girl" secretaries and are strongly inclined to hire the applicant with the best figure regardless of her mental equipment, or so say the stargazers.

Ideal Wife

In discussing the difficulties experienced by our countrywomen in pleasing a husband, Katherin Brush once observed: "If men had everything to suit themselves the average wife would combine the best features of Greer Garson (as Mrs. Miniver) and Gypsy Rose Lee (as Gypsy Rose Lee) together with those of a blue ribbon cook, a certified public accountant, an angel from heaven and a man's own mother."

Please Note

The last child of a family is usually the most intelligent and talented of all the children and has the greatest chance of success in later life. So a study of the lives of successful men indicates. Caruso was the last of 18 children. Gainsborough was the ninth and last child of his parents. Samuel Coleridge was the 11th and last child of his parents. Incidentally, I was the fourth and last child in our family. No wisecracks please.

Sidelights

Three young women of Manhattan have been arguing as to whether Queen Elizabeth is called Betty, Liz or Beth by her husband, the Duke of Edinburgh. He calls her Betty. . . . It was La Rochefoucauld who said: "Flirtation is at the bottom of woman's nature although all do not practice it, some being restrained by fear, others by sense."

Fighting Irish

Thirty-six per cent of the soldiers on our side in our Revolutionary war were Irishmen. So the rolls of the Continental Army reveal. Also 32 of our generals in our War for Independence were Irish or of Irish descent. The Declaration of Independence was signed by 11 Irishmen.

Historical Note

History tells us that it was at Red Kelly's tavern in San Francisco that Jack Kearns first met Jack Dempsey and became his manager. The Manassa Mauler has many admirers among San Franciscans but the outstanding ring hero of young old timers of the town by the Golden Gate was that picturesque ringman known as "Fat Willie" Meehan. Though "Fat Willie" never achieved great national fame he gave Jack Dempsey several very busy evenings in the ring.

Test

What do you know about determining the freshness of eggs? Take a pair of fried eggs, sunny side up. If the yolk stands up very high it is a fresh egg. If only slightly high it is about two weeks old. If the yolk is flat it is an old egg.

Two Heads Said Not Better Than One

Boston — (U.P)—Ditto doesn't agree with the old saw that two heads are better than one.

Ditto is a two-headed turtle at the Boston Museum of Science. He finds life a bit bewildering.

"His independent brains will never learn to cooperate," said Norman D. Harris, director of education at the Museum. "They will instinctively continue making independent decisios that can never be efficiently carried out by a common body."

A little girl found Ditto on the shore of Sand Pond at Ayer, Mass., last May Day and brought him to the museum.

After studying Ditto and his eating habits, museum staffers worked out a technique of simultaneous hand feeding." And now Ditto, the size of a quarter, gets his meal worm mash rolled in bone meal three times a week.

Extension Agents To Annual Conference

Staff members of the county extension service and the Southern Oregon Branch Experiment station were in Corvallis today attending the annual extension service conference at Oregon State college.

Attending are W. B. Tucker, agricultural agent; Clifford Cordy, horticultural agent; Earle Jossy, extension agent; Don Berry, assistant horticultural agent; Glenn Klein, 4-H agent; and Mrs. Joanne Weatherford, home demonstration agent.

H. H. White, superintendent of the experiment station and John Youngan, Dr. John Higdon and Dr. L. G. Gentner, staff members.

They will return this week end.

Humor Preferred With Dash of Sex

Carbondale, Ill. — (U.P)—College students—and maybe others—prefer their humor with a dash of sex, according to a study made by Leslie F. Malpass of Southern Illinois University's psychology department.

Malpass tested students' preference in jokes and cartoons to find out what people laugh at and why. He also wanted to know what effect, if any, surroundings had on those who listened to jokes or looked at cartoons.

Malpass classified jokes and cartoons as sexual, aggressive and whimsical. Then he showed the humor to the students in groups of 30 or more, in groups of six or seven and alone. The students rated the humor as "the funniest ever seen" to "the poorest example of cartoon."

The psychologist found the students prefer "sex-oriented" jokes over whimsical humor or aggression-type jokes that are based on attack against a person or other object.

Malpass also found people laugh at jokes most readily in a large group, less when alone and the least when in a small gathering. He suspects "fear of being noticed" holds down reaction to jokes in small groups.

GOOD IDEA

Cape Elizabeth, Me. — (U.P)—When he became blind in 1952, Philip S. Bagley, 44, was in a quandary as to how to support himself. Finally he got the idea of cutting up squash and marketing it in transparent bags. Now he uses the same system for carrots, beets and parsnips and he and his wife do a thriving business.

Three Accidents Reported To Police

A car operated by William Bergren, 104 Wagner st., Talent, was completely wrecked when it struck a telephone pole on South Pacific Highway 99, near Stewart ave., about 5:47 p.m. Saturday, according to Medford police.

Bergren received a slight cut on his face.

No one was injured in two other accidents Saturday and Sunday, according to police.

A car operated by Don Clark Barnes, 843 West Jackson st., struck a parked auto at 723 West Jackson st., at 3 p.m., Sunday. The parked car was owned by Ella C. Fosgate, 723 West Jackson st. Barnes was cited for violation of basic rule by city police.

Vehicles driven by Edwin Grant Workman, route 1, box 431D, and Ina May Huson, 505 Summit ave., collided at the intersection of North Oakdale ave. and West Second st., at 4:14 p.m. Saturday.

Soviet Leaders Mix Pleasure, Business

New Delhi — (U.P) — Russian Communist party leader Nikita Khrushchev and Soviet Premier Bulganin mixed pleasure with an increasing amount of business on their Indian tour today.

On the lighter side, Khrushchev, a sometimes wrestler and strongman himself, watched a truck roll over the body of an Indian muscleman and saw a wrestling match that featured a convicted murderer.

On the business side, the Russians advised India to step up mechanization among farmers and peasants, and continued an exchange of views on international and political questions with Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru.

An indication that the touring Russians were becoming more their statement on Kashmir, serious on their tour was in which sources said was "very carefully drafted and should not be considered lightly."

Ag Groups Schedule Regular Meetings

Regular monthly meetings of two county agricultural groups will be held this week.

A convention of county chairmen of agricultural stabilization and conservation committees will be held at the courthouse at 8 p.m. Tuesday to elect a county committee of five members.

They will be selected to administrate federal farm programs in the county, according to Tab Seahorn, of the agricultural stabilization and conservation office. It will be the first meeting of the recently elected committee chairmen.

A meeting of the Jackson county agricultural committee will be held in the auditorium at 8 p.m. tonight. Henry Conger is chairman.

Penitentiary Annex Fire Fatal To Pigs

Salem—(U.P)—Fire in the state penitentiary annex three miles east of here early yesterday resulted in death by suffocation of about 130 pigs, mostly from two weeks to a month old.

Warden Clarence T. Gladden said loss may total several thousand dollars. A carload of fertilizer also was burned. Cause of the fire was not determined.
