TABLE ROCK Many Cattle Wintering Here

By R. E. NEALON

Table Rock—in checking over the different feed lots and pastures in this district, we find that there are between 1,800 and 2,000 cattle, counting calves, being wintered here. This is causing quite a drain on haystacks and ensilage silos. It is an all time high, almost double the usual number. Although some come from other parts of the valley, most of them belong here. The number of cattle in Jackson county may have some bearing on local prices which have been showing a downward trend for some time.

Fred Smith and daughter Lucille with son Wayne, who furnished the transportation with his new Mercury, were visiting relatives and friends in Portland and vicinity last week.

Everett Brown reports that he has received word from Santa Claus telling that he will be present at the local Christmas tree entertainment Friday night, Dec. 23.

Very little if any interest was shown here for electing a director to the Central Point Rural Fire Protection district last Monday. At least no one managed to get to the polls, where a scant baker's dozen, not counting the 3 votes of the election board, were cast.

The December meeting of the Table Rock Ladies club will be held at the Everett Brown home, Wednesday, Dec. 14, with Mrs. Hobart Moore assisting. This will be the Christmas meeting. Members are to bring an exchange gift.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Bosworth returned Saturday from a several days vacation in southern California where they visited friends and relatives.

The Darlings, Bill and Mary, have purchased a herd of 19 dairy cows from a Talent dairyman with a quota that went with the cows. They are now operating a full-fledged Grade A dairy on their farm, which was already equipped for this purpose, and is now the only Grade A dairy being operated in this vicinity.

Darling says they are getting along fine so far. They start milking operations at 5 in the morning, finishing around 7 o'clock, and operate the same hours in the evening. The rest of the day they put in doing the many tasks connected with their large farm, except what time they take out for refreshments.

Orville Hamilton, local orchardist, and manager of the Modoc Orchard, was elected second vice-president of the horticultural society at the annual meeting of the members in Corvallis last week.

Bill Glass, the Arkansas trapper, came up from his trap line Wednesday packing a half grown coon that had made the mistake of trying to take the bait from a muskrat trap.

No apparent damage to young trees or nursery stock resulted from the September freeze, according to Gordon Kershaw who was somewhat worried for a time about his young peach trees which were in a tender stage and had been recently budded.

Walter Perky, owner of the Stanley Vaughn place, reports that his 40-acre field was infested with 82 hunters the opening day of the pheasant season, or more than two hunters to the acre. Perky intends to level and prepare 30 acres of his farm for irrigation as soon as the soil is dry enough, on which he will seed alfalfa and orchard grass next spring.

Some 200 head of the Straus Bros. cattle are being fed on the Edwin Taylor farm this winter.

A card from the Spragues, who left here Saturday morning, tells that they arrived at Gasquet, Calif., that same evening, having a nice trip over excellent roads. They are now holding revival meetings there in their chapel.

The Spragues during their stay here made many friends who miss their revival services and delightful music in their little chapel on wheels.

Mrs. J. S. Richardson attended a meeting of the Retired Teachers association at the home of Bertha Baughman in Ashland Monday.

"Old Doc" Brady, the medical advisor with a high sense of humor, whose years are more than his picture would indicate, may resume writing his column in the M. T. if the ladies we have heard express themselves regarding the column, have their way. It is reported that one lady admirer of Brady may circulate a petition asking for his reinstatement.

A letter from Mrs. Delmar Dooley of Tehran, Iran, states that they have been having almost the same type of weather we have been having here, except we have had more rain. She writes that they are enjoying life there very much, although there are some inconveniences such as carrying all drinking water from the American embassy and having to wash all fruits and vegetables in a mild disinfectant on account of the way they are handled. Tropical fruits are now on the market there and the same vegetables that we have here are plentiful there, but they do not use any local milk or dairy products, but buy these products from the embassy Co-op grocery store. A common sight is sheep being driven down the main street to market and ducks and geese being carried in arms to be sold. Mrs. Dooley sends her regards to all her friends and neighbors.

Chandler Takes Over As Governor of Kentucky

Frankfort, Ky.—(U.P.)—A. B. Chandler, with "pride tempered with humility," today became governor of Kentucky for the second time.

A crowd estimated at more than 100,000 persons jammed Kentucky's tiny state capital to see the former governor, U. S. Senator and baseball commissioner inaugurated at high noon.

Lot of Steel Needed To Be Potato Grower

New York — (U.P.)—It takes more than know-how and nerves of steel to be a potato grower—it takes a lot of steel.

To keep Americans eating more potatoes than any other vegetable, almost all phases of potato output have become mechanized in Aroostook County, Me., which produces 90 per cent of the crop that has made Maine potatoes famous.

Steelways, publication of American Iron and Steel Instiing, to harvesters, for digging potatoes with human-like precision, the uses to which steel is put in the potato industry have a direct bearing on the way spuds reach the consumer.

Annual per capita potato consumption has declined from 179 pounds to 104 pounds in less than two generations. Because of competition from other vegetables and other potato raising areas, the Maine grower is using steel to assist in grading, cleaning and packaging his product more attractively.

Letter Racket Probed in S.F.

San Francisco — (U.P.)—Postal inspectors today were working at breaking up a chain letter racket that offers a trip to Uruguay for $1 — but profits, its sponsors $390,625.

J. H. Van Mete, assistant postal inspector here, said the nationwide fraud originates from Montevideo.

San Francisco residents have been getting airmail letters from there reading:

"Uruguay, South American Riviera is awaiting you . . . this most wonderful trip is all yours for just $1."

The letter tells the receiver to mail a check for $5 to the company and sell four accompanying coupons for $1 each to friends who go through the same process.

"When the process is completed seven times," says the letter, "your coupon is automatically worth a free round-trip to Uruguay."

Meanwhile sponsors of the chain letter would have received replies from 79,125 persons; and collected $390,625.

OPENS OFFICE—Russ Jamison, former program director at radio station KMED, has announced the opening of a public relations office at 7 South Riverside ave. The office will handle all phases of industrial, retail and personal public relations work, Jamison said. He was recently re-elected to the board of directors of the Oregon Shakespearean Festival, and will serve as public relations chairman for the Festival next year. Jamison came to Medford in 1950 from Salem, where he was engaged in advertising and radio work.

Jack 'Dragnet' Webb And Mate Reconciled

Hollywood — (U.P.)—Actor Jack Webb, who won fame as Sgt. Friday on the "Dragnet" television series, said today he and his wife, Dorothy Towne, have reconciled after a four-week separation.

"We've ironed out our problems and are extremely happy to be together again," Webb said.

The reconciliation took place Monday night when Miss Towne returned to her Toluca Lake home after visiting her mother in Yuma, Ariz.

Webb and Miss Towne were married about a year ago after his divorce from actress Julie London. The separation led to reports of a possible divorce.

New Government in Jordan Being Formed

Amman, Jordan — (U.P.)—The cabinet resigned today and a new government was being formed that is expected to put Jordan into the pro-Western Baghdad Pact.

Haza Majali, former minister of interior, began forming a cabinet that is expected to sign the Baghdad Pact aligning this Arab nation with the "northern tier" defense alliance the West hopes will stop Soviet expansion in the Middle East.

Four ministers of the cabinet resigned Tuesday and the rest of the government headed by Premier Said El-Multi followed today.

Jordan had been studying invitations to join the pro-Western alliance for weeks but had not acted for fear of angering some of her Arab neighbors.

Gloves on Houses Mystifies Travelers

Grenoble, France — (U.P.)—American tourists passing through this part of southern France are often stumped by the sight of beautiful leather gloves nailed to front doors of houses.

To the French the glove is a birth announcement: one glove means the house has been blessed with a baby. A pair signifies twins. Three gloves call for a town celebration.

Leather gloves are natural symbols of joy here and in other towns whose handicraft and traditions go back 700 years. They are as much a part of the legal and social life of this part of France as they are a source of livelihood for this community.

Among Grenoble's other customs is the tradition of presenting a glove to a land buyer as a symbol of good faith. When a young Frenchman gives a pair of red leather gloves to his sweetheart, just as in the days of Napoleon.

Grange

Lake Creek Grange

The final meeting of 1955 was held recently with a small attendance. Master Murray Bartling announced his committee appointments for 1956:

Agriculture: Larry Perry, Ira Woolfolk; home economic chairman: Mildred Messal; recreation: Larry Perry, Melvin Johnston, David Woolfolk; legislative: Elyn Charley; membership: Ira Woolfolk, Nora Bradshaw, Dorothy Perry; educational: Faye George, Gloria Johnston; youth: Wayne Marshall, David Woolfolk, Jennifer Bartling; building: Loyd George, Merton Bradshaw, Leland Charley; resolutions: Claus Charley, Larry Perry, Loyd George; fire insurance agent: Murray Bartling; health and safety: Betty Bradshaw, Charles Stanley, Ozle Burrell.

The name of Betty Bradshaw was omitted from the published officers' roll for 1956. She is lady assistant steward. Loyd George is unable to accept the office of lecturer. Voting was held and Neli Webb was named.

Primary election for Oregon State Grange officers was held. A square dance party will be held at the hall on Saturday, Dec. 17. Everyone is invited to attend. Refreshments will be served at a small charge.

H. E. chairman Dorothy Perry had prepared a special treat of candy and nuts.

Next Grange meeting will be Jan. 12, at 8 p.m.

Graphite-Oil Dipped Pennies, Dirty Shirt Pay Tax Assessment

Salem — (U.P.)—The State Tax Commission felt the weight of the taxes assessed against Don E. Dawes of Brookings.

Dawes sent in $72.47 which he owed on his 1948 income tax—all in pennies that had been dipped in a solution of graphite and oil.

It took two employees of the income tax division several hours to rinse the 38 pounds of pennies in a solvent solution.

The coins came in a cardboard box and were wrapped in a greasy shirt.

Dawes enclosed a Christmas card: "From Santa Claus. With the help of my children's piggy bank will get this bill paid. I'm sure you'll find it all there."

Push this button and all other cars seem outdated!

15 minutes in the new "PowerStyle" Chrysler can change a lifetime of buying habits!

Push that "D" button and step on the gas. You're off like a shot. Now you're eating up the ribbon of road in front of you. A curve comes up and bends around behind. What was a hill has vanished. The scenery itself must be moving, not you!

What accounts for this magic? A whole new series of Chrysler engineering developments. Pushbutton PowerFlite transmission . . . a bigger airplane-type V-8 engine, more powerful than anything in its price class . . . full-time Power-Pilot Steering . . . and newly designed PowerSmooth Brakes that bring you to the world's safest, smoothest straight line stops.

Chrysler, with its low center of gravity, rivals the cornering ability of a racing car.

All this you see reflected in Chrysler's "PowerStyle" lines . . . the new Forward Look . . . the new look of power.

If you're now driving one of the other two major cars in Chrysler's price class, come in and make a direct comparison. Just see if Chrysler doesn't make everything else seem outdated!

U.S. Savings Bonds!

In this great State of Oregon, with its brilliant future, folks today seem to give more-than-average attention to making their tomorrow brighter. Our state ranks high in the number of people who regularly purchase United States Savings Bonds, on both Payroll Savings and Bond-a-Month Plans.

Likewise, when Christmas approaches and people everywhere set out to shop for family and friends, Oregonians are quick to see the many advantages of giving U. S. Savings Bonds as Christmas presents. They know how easy a Savings Bond is to give — no size or colors to worry about! And they know how wonderful a Savings Bond is to receive — because it becomes more valuable as time goes on.

U. S. Savings Bonds earn interest at an average of 3% per year, compounded semi-annually, when held to maturity. Furthermore, they can go on earning interest for as long as 19 years and 8 months, giving back 80% more than you put in.

This year, join your thousands of Oregon friends and neighbors who give the gift that grows with the years — a constant reminder of your thoughtfulness, and a symbol of his — or her — faith in the future.

Give a Bond for Christmas!
