

Classes at Crater High School Slated Early Next Month

Adult classes in animal disease control and sanitation on the farm, and farm tractor and truck, maintenance and repair will be offered at the Crater High school agriculture building, Central Point.

The class in animal disease control and farm sanitation begins at 8 p.m., Wednesday, Jan. 4, and will be taught by Dr. E. M. Bonawalt, veterinarian, Central Point. Registration will be at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday.

The ten classes, held at the same time each week, will include discussion of dry cow management in beef and dairy breeds, high bacteria counts on grade A dairies, foot diseases of beef and dairy cattle, mastitis in cows, internal parasites of cattle, mud and manure control in feed lots and corrals, white scours and white muscle in range and dairy calves, feeding milk substitutes in dairy calves, sterility in cattle, milk fever prevention, spray poisoning in farm animals, and meet inspection.

The farm tractor and farm truck maintenance and repair class will begin at 8 p.m., Tuesday, Jan. 3. Registration will be limited to 15 people for the ten-week course.

The class, which will include instructions on covering, ignition systems, carburetors, brakes, clutches, and other related items, will be taught by Darrel (Sonny) Hendricksen, in charge of bus maintenance in district 6C. Those wishing to register should call Leonard Kunzman, NOrmandy 4-2578, or the Crater agricultural shop, NOrmandy 4-1103.

The adult education program is under the guidance of the Crater high school agricultural department's advisory council. Additional information may be obtained by calling any member of the council which includes Don Bohnert, Central Point; Bert Caster, Central Point; Ray Vogel, Willow Springs; Claude Ullom, Central Point; Earl Peffley, Sams Valley; Elwood Abbott, Sams Valley; and Bill Anhorn, Central Point.
