Portland Red Cross Appeals for Blood

Portland — (U.P.) — Rain and New Year's are blamed for a current blood shortage in the Portland area and the Red Cross issued an appeal for donors.

Rain and flood conditions in southern Oregon forced cancellation of several bloodmobile visits to collect blood and the New Year's week end, with its spate of accidents, created a heavier than normal drain on blood supplies.

The Portland area was recently called upon to send blood to the Sata Clara valley in California where flood conditions also halted bloodmobile visits.

SIGN WINTERIZED New York — (U.P.) — Winter came officially Tuesday to Broadway, "The Gay White Way." Nearly 3,000 gallons of antifreeze were added to the water that cascades at a rate of 50,000 gallons a minute over a huge waterfall sign which advertises a soft drink.

NAIL MAPS RECORD Fayetteville, Tenn. — (U.P.) — A nail marred today a 39-year-old record of promptness for the Fayetteville Fire Department. The nail caused a flat tire which delayed firemen from answering an alarm for the first time since the department was motorized in 1917.
