

FINGERPRINTED — Minnie C. Mangum, 52, a building and loan association officer, appears in a meditative mood after being fingerprinted at police station in Norfolk, Va. She has been charged with embezzling $800,000 in the last five years. Miss Mangum, a "generous and kindly" Sunday school teacher, was arrested after a month of auditing her multi-million dollar records as secretary-treasurer of the Commonwealth Building and Loan Association.

Device on Plane Declared To Be Soldering Heater

Pittsburgh — (U.P.) — A small device found, aboard a TWA airliner, which touched off a full-scale sabotage investigation and puzzled some of the nation's leading explosives experts, today turned out to be a harmless soldering iron heater.

The Civil Aeronautics Authority, a special Army ordnance unit and the FBI tested and retested the "minute missile" for hours, but could not identify it. The mystery finally was solved by Robert Woods, a TWA radio maintenance man here who saw a picture of the mechanism in a Pittsburgh newspaper.

Woods ended the frenzied investigation by telling the experts the "mysterious" apparatus was merely a self-contained heater for a soldering iron.

"There probably would have been no danger if it had been detonated in some way," Louis Reinbold, a CAA official said. "It may have been in the plane for a long time after emergency radio repairs were made."

Reinbold and his assistants took the same precautions "as if the mechanism were a time bomb."

The object was discovered by Capt. Lyle Ryan after his plane carrying 32 passengers had left Columbus, Ohio, on a Chicago to Washington, D.C. flight Tuesday. The cylindrical mechanism, about 2½ inches long and about ¾ of an inch in diameter, was removed at Ohio County Airport at Wheeling, W. Va., and Army bomb disposal experts were called to investigate.

Umatilla Bank Robber Pleads Guilty

Portland — (U.P.) — Tilman B. Benson, 37, today pleaded guilty to taking part in the $57,000 robbery last August of the Inland Empire bank at Umatilla, Ore.

Federal Judge Gus Solomon postponed sentencing pending a probation office investigation.

Arraignment of Jack E. Hill, 30, jointly indicted with Benson for the robbery, was postponed. Judge Solomon appointed Donald McEwen as attorney to represent Hill.

Benson was arrested last fall by the FBI in DeQueen, Ark., and Hill was apprehended at Clanton, Ala., two days later.

Flood Victims May Report Losses

Persons who suffered flood damage to real estate, buildings or personal property, not including household furniture, are asked to report losses to the county assessor's office.

Oregon law requires that any change in property value be reported in order that the assessor can check the loss and revalue the property, according to county Assessor Robert Fowler.
