

Jackson County Polio Chapter Reports on Expenditures in 1955

Jackson county chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis spent $4,931.80 in March of Dimes funds in the care of 19 polio patients during 1955, it was announced today by Harry Chipman, chapter chairman. Five of the cases were reported during the past year while the other 14 were carry-overs from previous years.

GIVES HIS APPROVAL—Gene Neff, left, of 115 Genessee st., gives his approval to the March of Dimes coin collector being shown by Gerry Gastineau, Medford drive chairman. Neff, a 1954 polio victim and employee of United Air Lines here, says he owes much of his recovery to March of Dimes funds which enabled him to spend many months recuperating at the California Rehabilitation Center at Santa Monica, Calif. Neff still spends some time each day taking physical therapy treatments at his home but has returned to his job and gets along most of the time without his crutches. The coin collectors have been distributed to places of business throughout the county to enable citizens to make donations toward the fight against polio.

Warm Springs Foundation, where she is still receiving care at chapter expense.

A total of $19,638.49 was paid into the epidemic aid pool of the National Foundation to assist chapters whose funds had been exhausted. Twice during the past year the National Foundation issued an emergency call to all chapters in the nation with a surplus of funds to contribute half of such surplus to the stricken areas. On each occasion the local chapter was among the few in Oregon able to comply with the request.

Office expense for operation of the chapter during the past year amounted to $361.75. Of this amount, $89.50 was spent in three organizational meetings, $186.10 in travel to send chapter representatives to various meetings and $86.15 for postage, telephone, etc.

A balance of $5,545.59 is now on hand, the report shows.

In making the report, Chipman warned that March of Dimes funds are now urgently needed, both on the national and local levels. Development of the Salk vaccine has been a great stride toward eventual eradication of the polio scourge, he said, but improvement of the vaccine will take many more dollars. Then, too, the National Foundation is obligated to care for some 75,000 patients for whom the vaccine came too late.

"While a great many people in Jackson county have not yet been vaccinated, we can expect more polio here next summer," the chairman said. "We have no way of knowing what our expenditures will be for the coming year but we do know that our present balance will not last long if we should happen to get a couple of 'rough' cases," Chipman said. Also, the chairman pointed out, patient care obligations undertaken by the chapter late in 1955 will "dig a big hole" in the balance in a short time.

Gerry Gastineau, Medford MOD chairman, urged all recipients of the March of Dimes mailing cards to fill the cards and mail them back at their earliest convenience to enable the chapter to be prepared to fight polio in 1956. Gastineau also called attention to coin collectors which have been placed in business houses throughout the city by the Medford Active club to enable the public to donate to the polio fight.

Suspects Detained In Italy Bombing

Milan, Italy — (U.P.) — Police here a dozen suspects today in their search for the person who bombed the palace of Archbishop Giovanni Battista Montini, considered a likely candidate to succeed to the papacy.

Four of the suspects were youths wanted in connection with leaf "jet" bomb attacks on Communist controlled offices last month.

Authorities said they were following up every clue to find the person who planted the 2.2-pound TNT bombs yesterday. The explosion caused damage, but no casualties.

The archbishop, who believes a "madman" perpetrated the bombing, celebrated the Epiphany holiday with a special mass before 7000 followers. Three truckloads of police attended the ceremony. There were no incidents.

Confessed Slayer of Son Waits Defense

Portland, Ore. — (U.P.) — Mrs. Naidell M. Filsinger, admitted slayer of her 16-month-old son a week ago, sat quietly in her jail cell today as arrangements were made for her defense on a murder charge.

A Municipal Court hearing for the 32-year-old red haired woman was postponed earlier this week until next Tuesday at the request of attorneys Anthony Pelay and Thomas Ryan. They said they had been retained by George Mattox, a Baltimore attorney and brother of the woman, who is expected to help in the defense.

Mrs. Filsinger gave police a signed statement admitting she strangled 16-month-old Donald Steven last Friday because of a "strong impulse." She also said at the time she had killed her other son, 15-day-old Michael, by holding a diaper over his face until he stopped breathing last November in Newfoundland.

28th Man Admits Part in Murder Of 'Black Dahlia'

New York — (U.P.) — A 44-year-old dishwasher told New York police today that he was a witness to the famous 1947 Black Dahlia murder of Elizabeth Short in Los Angeles.

Ralph Von Hiltz walked into a New York police station early today and told detectives that he saw a friend of his kill the woman and said he helped his friend by hacking up her body.

Von Hiltz was the 28th person to "confess" to taking part in the sensational murder, police said. The first 27 stories proved false and Von Hiltz' story was being checked by Los Angeles police.

The dishwasher said he had a sailor friend named Daniel James who had been dating Miss Short prior to her death Jan. 15, 1947. He told police that he, James and Miss Short were out together the night of her death.

The sailor and the woman got into an argument, Von Hiltz said, because James was jealous of her dates with other men. The argument climaxed when the sailor shot her with a .22 automatic pistol, the dishwasher told police.

Von Hiltz said he then cut up the woman's body in an attempt to dispose of it.

Miss Short, 22, was known as the Black Dahlia because she wore her coal black hair in a flower-like design.

Her nude, mutilated body was found in a vacant lot near a busy street. The body was cut in half at the waist.

What Russia's Future Atomic Aircraft May Look Like

WORLD WARNING—The nation received an official warning that it could be attacked with intercontinental Ballistic Missiles in less than six years. The warning was coupled with the prediction that both the United States and Russia soon will have H-bombs with the punch of 50 million tons of TNT. The illustrations above detail what Soviet Russia's atomic aircraft of the future may look like. They accompanied a recent article in the Soviet technical press by a Professor G. I. Pokrovski. The illustrations were published in the U. S. in American Aviation Magazine.

Chile Sets 'Siege' In Scheduled Strike

Santiago, Chile — (U.P.) — The government proclaimed a "state of siege" today to deal with an anti-government strike scheduled for Monday by a labor federation.

Shortly after the proclamation, Minister of Interior Benjamin Videla announced the arrest of several labor leaders, including Clotario Blest, president of the Central Unica de Trabajadores, for their "seditious attitude."

Back Stairs: Key West Flurry Fizzles

By MERRIMAN SMITH
United Press White House Editor

Key West, Fla. — (U.P.) — Backstairs at the Key West White House:

There was a great rumor flurry about the naval base the other night. A report circulated that Marines guarding the entrance to the base where President Eisenhower is staying had seized a man carrying a high-powered rifle equipped with a telescopic sight.

One version was that the man drove up to the gate and asked for directions to the President's quarters.

Some checking proved no alarming situation at all. The "man" was a naval officer returning from a hunting trip.

Mr. Eisenhower probably doesn't know it, but his presence here causes a daily traffic jam at the entrance to the base. The Marine sentries check credentials very closely and this produced a jam at the gate as civilian employees of the Navy arrive for work.

Local innkeepers say Mr. Eisenhower has drawn more tourist business to Key West than the presence of ex-President Truman once attracted. And yet Mr. and Mrs. Tourist do not have a chance to get even a peek at the President unless they are lucky enough to see him out for a drive. He does not walk through the city as Mr. Truman delighted in doing.

So many people here in the last few days have been telling each other they were Eisenhower Democrats in 1952 that the local newspaper, the Key West Citizen, took note of the situation. Reported the Citizen:

"Seems like everybody in town now says they voted Republican in the 1952 election. In that voting, Monroe county (Key West) gave Ike 2943 votes and Stevenson 4941, although Eisenhower carried Florida."

Several years ago, Maj. Gen. Howard McC. Snyder, the President's physician, thought his patient was allergic to any sort of shellfish. Mr. Eisenhower apparently had a stomach upset at the time which Snyder traced it to shellfish.

If there was an allergy, it has now disappeared because the President has been enjoying stone crabs, served cold and dipped in melted butter.

The President was walking through the Navy base the other day and spotted a Negro chief petty officer aiming a small camera at him.

The President walked over in front of the chief and said, "making movies?"

"Yes sir," replied the chief without taking his eyes from the view finder.

McCarthy Says Kamin Acquittal Ridiculous

Washington — (U.P.) — Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) has called the acquittal of Leon J. Kamin of contempt of Congress charges "ridiculous to the point of being ludicrous."

McCarthy said yesterday Federal Judge Bailey Aldrich, who ruled on Kamin's case in Boston "should have disqualified himself since he is a member of the Board of Overseers of Harvard and Kamin was a Harvard professor.

"The decision was a foregone conclusion when the judge kicked out the jury when they heard some spectators in the hall cheering me," McCarthy said.

Pickin' Pears News and Notes From Camp White

By BILL HURN

Members of the engineering section are dismantling holiday displays and decorations at Camp White. Strings of colored lights and the trimmings are boxed, labelled and stored away for another year. Return of the burros and the sheep used in the Nativity grouping disclosed that credit given previously to Chief Engineer Bert Sims as having supplied them should go instead to Harold Bigelow of the Four Corners service station for the burros to Sims and the Claude Hoover ranch for supplying sheep.

For the New Year's day dinner Chief Dietician Mrs. Helen Pearson arranged the English roast goose menu which was prepared by Head Chef Don Pully and his crew.

Grants Pass DAV auxiliary 11 sponsored a game party Wednesday afternoon.

You buy a refrigerator only two or three times in your lifetime.

Yet you don't hesitate to buy one without getting so much as a look at the intricate "works" that makes it run.

How do you dare make such an important purchase without having an expert check it over for you? What makes you so sure you're getting your money's worth when you say, "I'll take that one?"

The answer's obvious. You look for the brand name on the refrigerator—your "guarantee." You've learned to follow this first rule of safe and sound buying:

A good brand is your best guarantee
No matter what kind of product you want to buy, you know a good brand won't let you down. You know the maker stands back of it—guarantees it. And so, when you buy a good brand you know you're right.

Read this newspaper to find out which are the good brands (and the stores that sell them.) The more good brands you know, the surer you are about all your shopping.
