Planners Approve Change of Zone Recommendations

The city planning commission last night approved a recommendation to the city council to re-zone blocks one through seven of the Laurelhurst addition.

The commission recommended that lots 1-5 and 20-24 in block one and part of a strip of land along Stevens st. be zoned III-B, commercial, and that the remainder be zoned class I-B, two family.

Date for a public hearing on zoning of Christian Science church property in block six of the Siskiyou heights extension was set for Feb. 13.

Plats Presented
 Three subdivision plats were presented to the commission for consideration. Jasper O. Bliss submitted a request for a proposed subdivision on Winchester ave. and Stewart ave. It was referred to committee for study. Douglas Pickell presented plans for a subdivision between Clover lane and Dakota st. Ray Wilkes presented plans for a subdivision at Crater Lake Ave. and Roberts rd.

Nora B. and Elmer Leslie presented a petition for change of zone from commercial to light industrial signed by 13 property owners on Court and Boardman sts.

Grace De Moss Smith Sued for Annulment

Miami, Fla. — (U.P.) — The husband of nationally known amateur golfer Grace De Moss Smith asked for a marriage annulment today, charging that his wife was more interested in golf than in babies.

Kirby Smith, assistant Dade County solicitor and husband of the Florida women's amateur golf champion, filed a petition for annulment of their 17-month marriage.

"She married me with mental reservations about not having children," Smith said. "I would never have married her if I had known this."

Mrs. Smith, a prominent figure in golfing circles, holds a string of titles including the Doherty championship and the state crown for women.

The Smiths were married Aug. 12, 1953, in Corvallis, Ore., Mrs. Smith's hometown, where she is now living.
