Health Association's Program Commended

The Jackson County Public Health association was commended this week by the Oregon association's committee on qualifications and contract for "good reports, program activity and organization" during the past year.

Mrs. Henry Padgham is county president, and volunteers in the area work with the association's program for better health and eradication of tuberculosis. Work of the association is financed through sale of Christmas seals, which also finances the two permanent chest x-ray centers at Sacred Heart and Rogue Valley Memorial hospitals.

Chest x-rays are available to the public at a nominal fee at the Sacred Heart unit Thursdays between 2 and 5 p.m. No appointment is necessary. The other unit will open when demand warrants.

CORK CUTUP
Baltimore—(U.P.)—The world's largest slicing machine, a 220-foot giant at Crown Cork & Seal Co. here, carves two-foot-long cork rods into discs for bottle cap liners. It can slice up to 30,000,000 discs in eight hours.

About 20,000 persons, ages 15-44, died of cancer in the U.S. in 1954.

'Taoism' To Be Topic At Unitarian Session

The study of world religions by Unitarian Fellowship of Ashland will be continued Sunday, Jan. 15 at 7:30 p.m., at a meeting of the group in Medford at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bauman, 213 South Barnsburg rd.

Those who would like further information on the group may telephone the Baumans, 2-8328. The topic for Sunday evening will concern "Taoism." All interested are invited.

Plans Completed For Directories; Services Slated

Plans were completed for a new church directory in the monthly meeting of the Medford Ministerial association Tuesday. One thousand printed directories showing the address and service time for valley churches will be distributed next month.

They met at the Presbyterian church and also laid preliminary plans for Holy week services to be conducted late in March. It was decided that noon meetings would be held in the Craterian theatre during Holy week, with a three-hour service planned for Good Friday. The Holy week plans will be completed by a special services committee.

It was decided by the ministers to accept the suggestion of city council members to supply a chaplain for the city commission meetings. A minister will meet with the city commission to offer prayer and to remain throughout the meeting. Dr. D. Kirkland West, Presbyterian pastor, was named as chairman of the committee.

Presbyterians for First Time Elect Women Elders

In a historic change the Presbyterian church on Wednesday night at an annual congregational meeting merged the board of elders and trustees into one governing board of 24 members. Two women were elected as ruling elders for the first time in the history of the local Presbyterian church and four women were elected as deacons.

Reports Made
Reports for the year were given and the membership stands at 1406, with more than 200 being received this past year. The Sunday school reported an average attendance this fall of 752. Within five years the Presbyterian church benevolences has risen from $5,000 to $33,000. For the coming year the congregation has adopted a 50/50 budget, which means that for every dollar spent for current expenses, another dollar will be given to benevolences. This enables the local church to exceed the nationally recognized Honor church goal.

Deacons

Elder-Trustees

They will be installed at the 11 a.m. service on Sunday. Topic Given "God and Human Suffering" will be the topic of Dr. D. Kirkland West's sermon at the Presbyterian church Sunday. Music under the direction of Allan Lehl, will be sung and the soloist for both services will be Mrs. Charles Champin.

At a special evening service Dr. West and other adults will form a panel discussion with some of the youths on the topic, "When Parents Ask Why."

Episcopaleans Announce Annual Business Meeting

The annual congregational meeting of St. Mark's Episcopal church will be held in the church guild hall at 8 p.m. Sunday. Reports will be presented from all departments and organizations of the parish, and will be available in printed form for the convenience of members.

The agenda will include the nomination of delegates to represent the church at diocesan convention, and election of four men to fill vacancies on the church vestry, caused by the rotation retirement of Messrs. J. A. McDougall, senior warden; Charles W. Cray, junior warden; A. Douglas Roach, and Victor W. Milnes, vestrymen.

Selected names for the vacancies will be presented by a nominating committee and further nominations may be made from the floor.

Financial statements for the past year will be presented by the treasurer, Fred J. Carr, together with a summary of building funds. The Rev. George Bolster, rector, who will preside at the meeting, will present a "state of the parish" report in which all aspects of the church's work will be briefly reviewed. Refreshments will be served following adjournment, and the vestry will hold a short organizational meeting at the rectory when the new wardens and vestry clerk will be appointed and the schedule of future meetings decided.

A report will be made on progress of a new church school unit now under construction. Present for his first annual meeting at St. Mark's will be the Rev. Robert Burger, who was appointed during the past year as assistant to the rector.

Lulu Speeds Congressman Through Halls of Capitol

Washington — (U.P.) — Rep. James C. Auchincloss is without a doubt the fastest man in Congress. The 71-year-old lawmaker er-hot-roads around the Capitol corridors in his own private motorcar.

It's a slick little job named Lulu, three wheels, battery motor, bicycle bell, and all sorts of pep. It's the envy of every foot-weary lawmaker.

First Ride "Terrifying"
Well, nearly every one. Rep. Katharine St. George — somewhat shaken after a hectic speed trial down a Capitol corridor — isn't quite sure where she stands.

She said her first ride—on a hard metal seat behind the driver—was "very rambunctious and quite terrifying" because she had the impression she was

Medford Elks Attend Corvallis Meeting

A delegation of Medford Elks lodge members are in Corvallis today attending a state midwinter session of the Oregon State Elks association today and Saturday.

Among those attending are C. Aubrey Sander, exalted ruler of the local lodge, Guler Knox, Franklin Van Pelt, E. W. Winkle, Joe Fliegel and R. G. Phair. Wives of some of the men also made the trip.

traveling at "breakneck speed." And then there was trouble when the little car came to a ramp between the Capitol and the House office building.

"I guess my weight was excessive," the New York congresswoman confided. "I had to get off and help push."

'Wonderful Thing'
Mrs. St. George said the car is a "wonderful thing." But she's against every congressman getting one because "the traffic jam would be terrific."

Auchincloss agrees. "I don't want to have to dodge all the other reckless drivers," he said. Auchincloss, New Jersey Republican, bought the $600 mechanical steed because his arthritis made it hard for him to make the block-long trip from the House office building to the House chamber in the Capitol.
