

Church of Nazarene Plans Construction Of Second Chapel

Construction of a second Church of the Nazarene will begin in Medford at Mt. Pitt and Chestnut aves. in April, according to the Rev. Raymond W. Hurn, pastor of the Medford congregation.

First unit of the building is expected to be completed by summer, when a pastor will be appointed by the district assembly and the church will begin operation.

Vote To Sponsor

Plans for the organization have been underway for some time, the Rev. Hurn said, and the local membership voted last May to sponsor the project.

Preliminary survey work started Wednesday by the Young People's society of the southern Oregon zone.

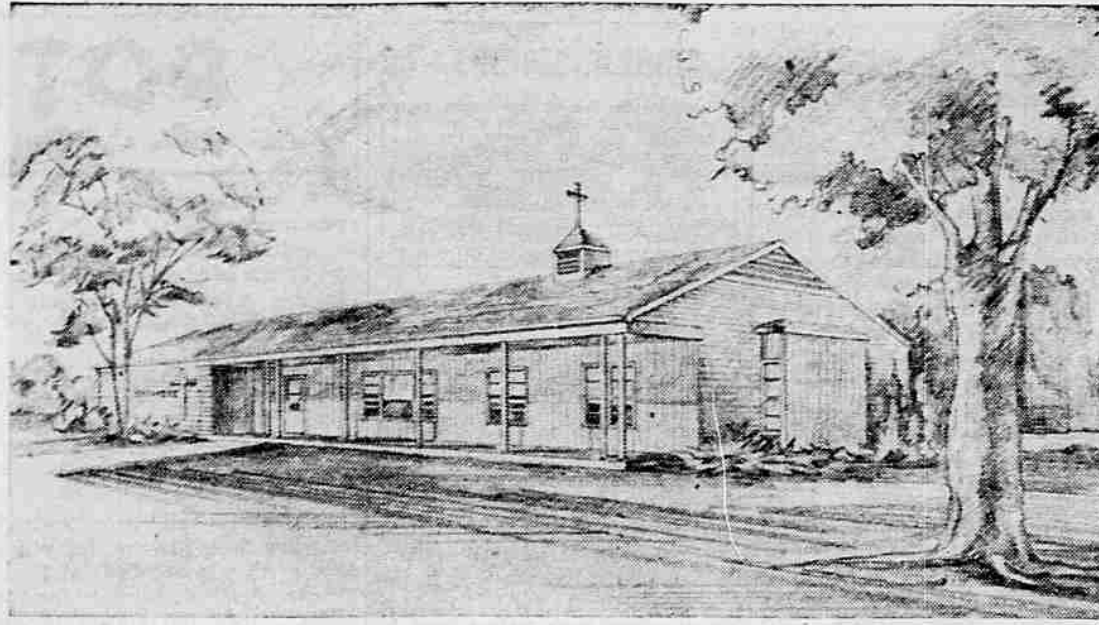

A convertible chapel-residence has been planned as the first unit, by the department of home missions and is in wide use throughout the nation. The ranch-style construction will include future use as a parsonage.

Larger Church Planned

A larger church will be built on the corner lots as the congregation increases.

Several persons have already joined the charter membership, according to Rev. Hurn, and "it is expected that the new quarters will greatly expand the services of the Nazarene denomination in the Medford area."

The present congregation, First and Holly sts., which will soon celebrate its 35th anniversary, has pledged funds for paving the adjoining streets, in addition to donating the lots. Financial assistance for the project has been given by the Oregon-Pacific district through its home mission club and the revolving loan fund.

NEW CHAPEL—Construction of a second Church of the Nazarene in Medford, shown in the sketch above is expected to begin in April at Mt. Pitt and Chestnut aves.

American Legion Post Here Organizes For Civil Defense Work

Medford American Legion post last week was organized into a disaster relief team, to work in coordination with various groups in all phases of combating destructive forces.

Taking part in the organizing were civil defense officials and other civic officers who pointed out needs in the community.

Col. R. J. Pfau, who has worked with civil defense, discussed the need for an inventory of all doctors, nurses, medical supplies and volunteer workers. Commander M. E. (Bud) Fisher pledged the support of the Legion in the program.

Forest Fire Needs

S. T. Moore, U. S. forestry fire control officer, said his most urgent needs included cooks, messengers, communication, operators and equipment, and detail men behind the lines.

Teams of eight men to take charge of disaster work were discussed by Verne Watrud, president of the Jackson County Disaster Car.

Dwight Albright, control center chief of civil defense communications, gave a brief report on his department activities and said messengers were needed in

RR Boosters Club Awards School Prizes

Rogue River — New clocks offered by the Rogue River Boosters club as prizes for the best decorated room at Christmas were presented at a faculty meeting of grade school teachers here recently.

Mrs. Howard Norwood and Mrs. Betty Bamforth, representing the club, presented the seventh grade clock to John Crisman and the third grade clock to Mrs. Minnie Jensen, whose grade was the winner in the primary building.

Because school closed before Christmas because of flood conditions, the Booster club was unable to visit all school rooms and complete judging. Teachers were asked to vote.

Man Fined, Jailed On Driving Charge

Jesse Willard Tudder, 37, was fined $225 in district court yesterday and sentenced to 60 days in county jail on a charge of driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquor and fined $75 on a charge of failure to stop at the scene of an accident. His right to apply for a driver's license was suspended for 90 days.

Tudder, a transient, was arrested and jailed Friday following a two car accident near Phoenix. His car collided with a car driven by Robert Carr Mix, 40, of 215 C st., Phoenix, according to state police. There were no injuries and damage was slight, police said.

Traffic Control

Traffic control and other problems were discussed by Medford Police Chief Charles Champlin. Police Lt. Clifton Lacy explained how extra manpower is needed in emergencies, to assist with police duties.

Col. H. J. Meiring, who is in charge of food and supplies in civil defense, encouraged registration of all workers in the culinary field.

Organizations interested in cooperating in the program are urged to contact legion workers.

Police Chief Charles Champlin yesterday urged Medford people not to allow door-to-door magazine salesmen now operating in the Medford area in their homes.

Champlin said that there had been several recent cases of questionable practices on the part of magazine salesmen and that local people should be very cautious in dealing with them.

In one case a magazine salesman reportedly had implied he was connected with the drive to raise funds for the Rogue Valley Memorial hospital and in another case that they were raising funds for a church. Champlin said.

Police will deal with salesmen promptly if a crime has been committed, the police chief said, but until there has been an actual crime their hands are tied.

He urged people to report any questionable practices or cases of bad conduct immediately.

During the month of December, 583 people from 17 states and the territory of Alaska visited the museum.

Visitors averaged 84 a day and 2,583 per month during 1955.

New Bus Bought for RR School District

Rogue River — Rogue River school district recently negotiated a trade to provide a 48-passenger school bus for the West Evans creek run, John Harr, superintendent of school, has announced.

A 36-passenger bus, which was used early this year, was carrying about 53 passengers from the Evans Creek area. The rural school board and Rogue River school district negotiated the trade.

The exchange was made on a temporary basis during the Christmas holidays, and the board formally approved the trade at its recent meeting.
