Stevenson To Enter Minnesota Primary

St. Paul, Minn.—(U.P.)—Adlai E. Stevenson made a whirlwind trip to Minnesota today to get his first presidential primary campaign rolling.

The Democratic presidential hopeful was to perform the chore of entering his name in the March 20 Minnesota primary himself.

He also scheduled meetings with top Democratic leaders, most of whom are pledged to his candidacy, and a hand-shaking visit to the twin cities Ford plant.

He will be back in Chicago tonight, but plans two extensive tours through Minnesota before the primary election day. His backers said the schedule will be stepped up if Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) enters the race.

The Minnesota primary is the first of five Stevenson has scheduled in his drive for the Democratic presidential nomination. So far, he is all alone in the race and has the support of the Democratic-farmer-labor organization.

The slate of 57 delegates to be filed at the Minnesota statehouse includes the names of Sen. Hubert Humphrey, Gov. Orville Freeman, and Democratic Committeeman Gerald Heaney.

Quota of $2,249 Set For Jackson County Red Cross

A quota of $2,249 has been assigned to the Jackson County Red Cross chapter to raise as a reserve for disaster purposes, according to Mrs. Helen Wilson, director.

The heaviest disaster year in American Red Cross history was experienced in 1955, when the national organization spent $27,000,000. Less than $1,000,000 remain in reserves to cover expenses during the months ahead "when some of our heaviest disasters normally occur," national Red Cross officials reported.

Disaster Obligations
Local chapters are being asked to meet "chapter disaster obligations" by increasing quotas.

Medford and Grants Pass areas are receiving about 60 per cent of the $250,000 Red Cross allocated for flood relief in Oregon. Some 11,000 families and small business people are being helped throughout the nation.

Mrs. Wilson said that because the Red Cross drive outside the United Crusade campaign will take place in March, the local chapter does not feel it can conduct a campaign at this time.

However, she said, donations to alleviate the badly-drained resources of the organization are being encouraged.

Closed Circuit TV Show For Physicians

Medford physicians will view a closed circuit television program Wednesday presented "live" by the Tufts university school of medicine and the New England Medical center, in cooperation with Boston city hospital.

Doctors in 49 cities throughout the country will "have an unique opportunity to test their diagnostic acumen and methods of managing acute abdominal problems against the knowledge of a group of eminent specialists," a spokesman for the Jackson County Medical society said.

Participants in the "medical television" will examine actual patients as they are brought in for diagnosis and treatment and discuss their methods and findings extemporaneously.

They will demonstrate actual surgical procedures used in treatment of acute abdominal problems.

The committee on audio-visual education of the Association of American Medical Colleges has endorsed the series of programs.

Weed—Five Weed youths were sentenced by Judge Kenneth Stone in judicial court here last week to write four 1,000-word essays.

Each boy will be required to write a 1,000-word essay on the state vehicle code for the next three weeks, completing one a week and reporting to the Weed court. The fourth essay of 1,000 words will be written on the subject of good citizenship.
