Laughs of the Day . . .

Des Moines, Ia. — (U.P.) — The U.S. Weather Bureau in Des Moines borrowed from the song "16 Tons" to describe a snow storm sweeping Iowa. The analysis went:

"It was born one morning when the sun didn't shine,

"It picked up snow and it moved just fine ,

"Loaded two inches of number one snow,

"The snow plows said: 'Well, bless my soul.'

"You load more snow and what do you get,

"Another day colder and deeper in wet,

"We owe our snow to the tricky low."

New York — (U.P.) — Seymour Kanarek, 28, got so excited when his wife began to give birth to their baby on the way to the hospital that he lost control of his car and banged into a tree.

The first motorist who happened along was a doctor who attended the newborn baby, a girl patched a small cut on Mrs. Kanarek's lip and calmed the father. Everyone survived in fine shape but the car was somewhat the worse for the wear.

Cologne, Germany — (U.P.) —A local court Thursday fined a housewife $102.63 in damages and costs after she admitted a hot pudding she had put on a windowsill to sool had fallen on three passersby.

Charlotte, N.C. — (U.P.) — Fred K. Owen was in jail today for mixing up his marriages.

Police said Owen bought engagement and wedding rings for his fourth wife with bad checks, stole his third wife's car for his fourth honeymoon and neglected to divorce one of his earlier wives. ....

Sacramento, Calif. — (U.P.) — Henry C. Clancy was sued for $558 in back child support payments by his ex-wife, Merele, Tuesday.

Clancy's job is to track down errant fathers who fail to support their children.

Drama Circle Book Published

New York—(U.P.)—An anthology containing the 16 American plays so far designated as seasonal "bests" by the New York Drama Critics' Circle has just been published by Hawthorne Books.

The work was edited by Jack Gaver, United Press drama editor and critic, and covers the first 20 years of the Circle's existence, 1935-55.

In a long introduction, Gaver has written an informal history of the Circle, revealing many interesting items involved in its operations. While the critics naturally take their annual awards seriously, they are not an organization-minded group. Gaver writes, and the Circle never gets involved in social or cultural activities, if it can help it. And it usually can.

The book contains the full texts of 15 plays and a lengthy synopsis, with dialogue excerpts, of "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof," the 1954-55 winner which is still too new for textual reproduction to be permitted except in the official published version of this Tennessee Williams play. In four of the 20 seasons the Circle has operated, it failed to agree on winners.

As a preface to each of the 20 seasons, Gaver has written a capsule summary of the activities, telling how voting went on each of the candidate plays and other theatrical highlights.

The texts included are: "Winterset" and "High Tor" by Maxwell Anderson, "Of Mice and Men" by John Steinbeck, "The Time of Your Life" by William Saroyan, "Watch on the Rhine" by Lillian Hellman, "The Patriots" by Sidney Kingsley, "The Glass Menagerie" by Tennessee Williams, "All My Sons" by Arthur Miller, "A Streetcar Named Desire" by Williams, "Death of a Salesman" by Miller, "Darkness at Noon" by Kingsley, "The Member of the Wedding" by Carson McCullers, "I Am a Camera" by John van Druten, "Picnic" by William Inge and "The Teahouse of the August Moon" by John Patrick.

ALABAMA COACHES PICKED

Tuscaloosa, Ala. — (U.P.) — Barney Poole and Dorsey Gibson today were named assistant football coaches at Alabama. Poole, a former Mississippi and Army end, was an assistant coach at LSU last season. Gigson, an ex-Oklahoma back, now is on active duty with the Army at Ft. Benning Ga., but will be released soon.
