The mental health plays are sponsored by Southern Oregon Child Guidance Clinic association, presented by Footlighters and leading the discussion periods which follow each presentation of the play are a representative from either Jackson County Health department, Jackson County Child Welfare department, Veterans' Administration, Girl Scouts or the Medford, Ashland and Eagle Point public schools. Last week's production of the play for Roosevelt PTA was the 33rd time some members of the cast had appeared in these mental health plays. (Classic studios)

German Wine Label Loses Pants Again

Korev, Germany — (U.P.) — Germany's most famous Moselle wine can once again be exported to the United States with uncorrected labels.

The Kroeber Nactarsch wine is famous almost as much for the label as for its flavor. The label shows a farmer spanking the bare backsides of two little boys who sneaked into his cellar to sample the wine.

Last year, U. S. customs officials said the backsides must be covered. A smudge of blue paint covered the bare backsides thereafter.

Today the wine producers learned the American authorities have had a change of heart—so off come the pants again.

If you must substitute general purpose flour for cake flour, here is a guide: sift three times and measure out 2 tablespoons to each cup measure.
