Hollywood—(U.P.)—It's amazing when the way a man lights a cigarette haunts him, but Paul Henreid says he's never been able to live down that fancy way he lit two smokes back in 1942. George Raft's "ghost" is that coin-flipping gimmick he used in a film many years ago. And Henreid pales visibly every time somebody waves two cigarettes at him.

Back in 1942 he launched a wave of romantic smoking when he lit two cigarettes at once in "Now Voyager." Since Henreid and cigarettes have been one in the public mind.

Actor Shows How
"I recently returned from making a film in Mexico, and even there a couple in an Acapulco restaurant asked me to show them how to light two cigarettes at once," smiled Henreid.

"In Mexico City a telephone girl at the hotel asked me to light her cigarette that way. It happens all the time."

"But Henreid can't blame anyone, for the idea was his. The script of "Now Voyager" called for him to light Bette Davis' cigarette and then his own and then switch cigarettes. Henreid thought that "an awkward business" so he suggested lighting them both at once in his mouth.

System Catches On
"My wife and I use that system when driving," he explained. "It was a very romantic, intimate touch. The producer suggested we repeat it three or four times in the picture. It caught on."

Directors often ask Henreid to repeat the trick. But he'll do it only for comedy. Once in a parody on a sex-and-sand film he was wooing a beautiful harem girl in a tent—and lit two Turkish waterpipes at the same time.

Soon he returns to Mexico to direct and star in another film, "Brief Rapture."

"And I light no double cigarettes in this," he added firmly.

H. G. Dowson Opens Idaho Lumber Firm

Lewiston, Ida. — Harry G. Dowson, Medford, Ore., and James M. Fleishman, Portland, have announced the opening of headquarters of a wholesale lumber firm here. It will be the Dowson-Fleishman Lumber Co. Fleishman, owner of Fleishman Lumber Co. of Portland, and operator of wood processing plants at Spokane and Boise, is Dowson's partner in the business. Dowson will be president and general manager of the company here.

Dowson, who has been in the lumber business in the Pacific Northwest for 20 years, is owner of the Southern Oregon Planting Mill Co. at Medford, which he recently leased to a group of lumbermen. He also has operated sawmills, processing plants and wholesale firms in the Pacific Northwest.

Fleishman is a widely-known amateur trapshooter and newly-elected president of the Northwest Baseball league.

Dowson said the firm would not have a warehouse here because lumber will be sold only in carload lots. He said operations will begin as soon as an office has been rented and

MEDFORD (OREGON) MAIL TRIBUNE—THREE

O&C Marketing Restrictions Studied

Portland — (U.P.) — James P. Doyle said today he had taken under advisement a brief petition from Clatsop county for an end to marketing restrictions on O&C timber so that Clatsop mills can get more logs.

Doyle, regional administrator for the Bureau of Land Management, took written testimony from Clatsop county witnesses, including Judge Guy Boyington of Clatsop county. Judge Boyington said the restrictions were "un-American" and stifled free competition.

The restrictions were set up in 1947, dividing the state into 12 marketing areas. Mills may purchase O&C timber cut in their market areas only. Object of the regulation was to protect small mills from large competitors outside their areas.

equipped, possibly within two or three days.

Dowson's wife and their son, Tom, 11, will join him here in a few days, he said. The Dowson's other son, Richard, is a student at Stanford university.
