Protection Money Demanded of Student

Portland—(U.P.)—Police said today a high school student was threatened with bodily harm unless he paid $5 "protection" to two classmates.

Officers picked up two teen-aged boys and turned them over to county juvenile authorities. Officers said the "extortion" victim had been in a fight with one of the two boys some time ago and that revenge apparently was the motive. The two teenagers were arrested in the act of accepting the money, according to juvenile officers.

At the same time, juvenile authorities said arrests of young people had been climbing here with 171 taken into custody so far this month.

Innocent Plea Made On Income Tax Evasion

Portland—(U.P.)—Three partners in the Standley Brothers Logging Company, Powers, Ore., pleaded innocent yesterday to charges they evaded federal income tax payments in 1949, 1950 and 1951.

They are Noble C. Standley, 52, Camas Valley, and Robert Wilbur Merchen, 39, and James A. Adamek, 42, both of Powers.

The firm's former bookkeeper, Mrs. Nellie J. Hollenbeck, 55, San Diego, Calif., has admitted falsifying books and is awaiting sentencing.

U.S. Judge Gus J. Solomon set trial for the trio for Medford, probably in March or April.
