From Ashland were James Dee Harbison, son of the Rev. and Mrs. Oliver W. Harbison, 355 B st., and Kenneth Lee Zimmerlee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Z. A. Zimmerlee, 250 Clay st.

VISITS PARENTS

Keith Paschke, a Marine corps private, left Thursday for Camp Pendleton, Calif., after visiting on a 15-day leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Paschke, 892 Stewart ave. He recently completed combat training there and previous to that he received basic training at San Diego. Private Paschke entered the service last August and is a Medford high school graduate.

A law passed in 1953 requires that all trailer homes in the state on Jan. 1 used primarily for residential or business purposes must be taxed, even if registered and licensed.

In the county, the current mobile home blue book, which lists trailer values, is used as a basis for valuation. Since household furniture in private use is not assessable the cost of furniture included in the cost of the trailer is deducted and the true cash value determined.

A form for assessment purposes is prepared by the county assessor and mailed to the taxpayer. Field men are made available to locate any trailers and their owners who have not received the forms.

ENLIST IN RESERVE

Sgt. Donald L. Thomas, son of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Thomas, route 1, box 480, Ashland, who was recently discharged from the Army after three years active duty, joined the active reserve with the second battalion, 413th infantry regiment, Jan. 24. Three other men recently joined local active reserve units for eight-year enlistments with six months active duty.

Winson B. Foley, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Foley, route 1, box 325, Central Point, enlisted with the 382nd quartermaster detachment. He will leave for active duty at Fort Ord, Calif., about March 1.

ON LEAVE

Sgt. Richard D. Roberts, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester L. Roberts, Central Point, is on a seven-day leave from Ft. Campbell, Ky. He is with the headquarters company third battalion.

Fichtner Returns From Safety Meeting

Medford Police Sgt. Clyde Fichtner, Medford inventory representative for the national safety council, was in Portland last week for a safety conference meeting to discuss annual reports.

Representatives from 12 Oregon cities head a report from John Hall, San Francisco, district representative for the northwest division of the council.

Fichtner and other local officials are working on the annual inventory of Medford's traffic safety activities, which will be sent to national headquarters for analysis. The report involves death and injury records, traffic ordinances, accident records, traffic engineering, police traffic supervision, traffic courts, school traffic safety education, public safety education and safety organization.

Zurich, Switzerland — (U.P.) — Erich Kleiber, one of Europe's leading music conductors, died in his hotel room here from a heart attack Thursday afternoon. He was 66.

Files Candidacy For State Representative

Salem — (U.P.) — Grant V. Mumpower of Clackamas, filed his candidacy here Friday for Republican nomination for state representative from Clackamas county.

Mrs. Gladys Last of Portland filed for Democratic national committeewoman.

X-Ray Clinic Sets New Evening Hour

The chest x-ray clinic at Sacred Heart hospital will be open from 7 to 9 p.m. the first Wednesday of each month, beginning Feb. 1, according to L. O. Boomer, x-ray chairman for the Jackson County Public Health association.

The opening was in response to many requests from persons unable to get to the clinic on Thursday afternoons, the regular clinic day.

Boomer said the committee hopes that people who shop on Wednesday evenings, especially those in outlying districts, will find it convenient to have x-rays during the later hours.

"It is also hoped that the new time will be more convenient for working men, "because two-thirds of the tuberculosis, lung cancer and other chest conditions are found among the male population."

A special clinic has been set for residents of the Prospect area Wednesday, Feb. 22, according to members of the Prospect health unit.

Taxing Trailer Homes Required by New Law

One of the more recent problems of taxation in Jackson county is the assessment and taxing of trailer homes, according to a report released recently by the county assessor's office.

A law passed in 1953 requires that all trailer homes in the state on Jan. 1 used primarily for residential or business purposes must be taxed, even if registered and licensed.

In the county, the current mobile home blue book, which lists trailer values, is used as a basis for valuation. Since household furniture in private use is not assessable the cost of furniture included in the cost of the trailer is deducted and the true cash value determined.

A form for assessment purposes is prepared by the county assessor and mailed to the taxpayer. Field men are made available to locate any trailers and their owners who have not received the forms.

MOD Activities at Rogue River School

Rogue River—Several activities are under way by Rogue River High school students for the March of Dimes "Teens Against Polio" campaign. Ann Buck and Fred Hopper are chairmen of the activities at the school.

Activities include student participation in "Cavalcade of Sports" sponsored by the local muscle club, "blanket throws" for MOD contributions at all home basketball games, and a queen contest.

Candidates for queen of the sophomore sponsored MOD dance are Freshman Madlyn Milton, Sophomore Glenda Stinchcomb, Junior Myrna Towse, and Senior Lois Blies. The queen will be chosen from the class which contributes the most money toward its contestant.

At the end of the March of Dimes drive, the class which has contributed the most money must be treated to a party by the class contributing the least.

Damage Suit Filed In Circuit Court

A suit seeking $10,135 damages from Ramon G. Elbert, 655 Pine st., was filed yesterday in circuit court by Clara A. Smith, 56, 522 North Riverside ave. Mrs. Smith claims she suffered a back injury, bruises and other injuries when she was struck by a car driven by Elbert as she was crossing the street at North Riverside and East Jackson st., Jan. 19.

A petition was filed this week by Sears, Roebuck and Co. for removal from circuit court to the U. S. district court of a $5,156.50 damage suit brought by Mrs. Alvera E. McDonald against Sears.

Mrs. McDonald brought the suit after she fell in the Sears office, 40 South Central ave.

who died Friday, were held at Conger-Morris chapel Saturday with the Rev. Raymond E. Balcomb, of the First Methodist church, officiating.

Besides her parents she is survived by her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Winningham, Prospect, and George W. Ring, Gold Hill.

VA Income Form Must Be Returned Soon

Persons receiving pensions from the veterans administration must have annual income questionnaires filled out and returned within 30 days of receipt, according to Charles Holbrook, veterans service officer.

Payments may be stopped if questionnaires are not returned properly filled out within 30 days. The forms do not apply to persons who receive compensation for service-connected disability or death.

In reporting income, payments from the VA for disability or death nor proceeds of GI insurance need not be reported, he said. Veterans may report wives and minor children as dependents and widows may report minor children.

Holbrook said careful attention should be given to sources of income and cautioned that if a recipient's income is expected to increase in 1956, it should be reported. If increases in income become apparent later in the year, that also should be reported promptly to the VA.

Auctions Net $1,316 For March of Dimes

Two March of Dimes "Little Pig" auctions netted $1,316 for the polio foundation recently.

The Midway Auction yard collected $750 Friday when a small pig donated by Auctioneer Bill Bray was sold and re-sold 63 times to stockmen and packing houses.

An auction Jan. 14 sponsored by Auctioneer Col. A. H. Dudley and the Phoenix Lions club at the Phoenix pavilion netted $566 after the animal was sold and returned to the ring 31 times.

Other Phoenix donations reported included $37.30 from Cook's doughnut and coffee sale and $59.84 for miscellaneous activities.

News About Books From the Library

By MISS HELEN WEBESTER Medford Librarian

From Jacksonville, the pioneer gold-mining town in the Rogue River valley, over and through the high mountain range, to The Dalles on the Columbia is not a short journey even today. In the time of the boy heroes of "Long Rope" going by horseback and driving a herd of horses all the way, it was a journey of real dimensions. Eastern Oregon in the 1870's was chock-full of dangers, thrills, and high adventure for the two teen-age pioneers and their Indian friend, when they decided to set up and run their own cattle ranch.

A copy of the book, "Long Rope," has just been given the Medford Public Library by its author, Mrs. Elizabeth Lambert Wood, of Long Beach, Wash. Mrs. Wood knows boys and Indians and the sagebrush country, and she knows horses. Jackson county boys who enjoy stories of pioneer adventure will find "Long Rope" in the Junior department of the Medford Public Library, or they may request it through their own community branch library.

Another book by Mrs. Wood that is interesting to adults as well as to older boys and girls is "Pete French, Cattle King." This is the story of the great cattleman who fenced and joined up the rimrock until the noted P-Ranch of eastern Oregon had 140,000 acres. It is a novel with a good background of ranch life with roping, branding, herding, cowboys, Indians, cattle drives, and adventure everywhere.

Mrs. Lambert's gift of a copy of "Long Rope" included a belated Christmas greeting. If this season of the year is not too late for Christmas greetings, perhaps it is not too late for a letter to Santa Claus. We of the Medford Public Library staff, like many of our library patrons, wish that it had been possible for that jolly old gentleman to come down our library chimney and to have been welcomed there by a warm hearth fire. However, in order that the heating system may function properly, it was necessary to seal the chimney and discontinue the use of the grate for open fires. Many of our readers express regret that the fireplace must remain unused, and we share their feeling.

Since a real fire is impossible, perhaps the next best thing would be an electric fire-log, to brighten, if not to warm, the hearth. It seems just possible that some of our readers might have one which they no longer use and would be willing to give the library for the enjoyment of its readers.

Then around this fireplace we hope some day to group furniture of a more comfortable lounge type, the same sort of furniture that Camp White members enjoy in their library. We feel that many people prefer lounging to read rather than sitting bolt upright at tables like students. We wonder if some organization would like to make this a service project. If adult readers would prefer to have a quiet corner reserved for them on school nights, away from the bustle and activity of term papers, preparation for examina-

Kaye Brothers Circus Schedules Shows Here

Kaye Brothers circus will give two performances in Medford on Feb. 22, under the sponsorship of the Medford Active club, the club announced last week.

The performances will be given at the Medford High school at 4 and 8 p.m. and net proceeds to the club will go for the purchase of equipment for the Jackson County Disaster Car, according to Earl Fichtner, club president.

The same circus has performed here the past two years. Ticket purchases are being solicited by telephone under the supervision of club members, Fichtner said. Merchants are being asked to buy blocks of tickets for youngsters.
