Two Jobs for Funds

"First, the 68,000 children and young adults, already stricken by polio must be cared for, and we must have funds to care for those who will be stricken during the coming year," she said.
"Second, we must make sure that funds are available to continue the important research which will ultimately make polio a disease of the past."

She added that the Salk vaccine is rated between 60 and 90 per cent effective and research is now going on to make the vaccine 100 per cent effective, or possibly find an even better vaccine.
"Until that is done, and the vaccine is made available to everyone at low cost, polio will not be licked," Mrs. Lewis said.

Members of the Medford Moose lodge will canvass the four local drive-in restaurants, the country club, theaters and busy downtown intersections during the Mothers' March hour. Cruising city policemen will provide protection for the block workers, Mrs. Lewis said.
